One of the best things about the war between China and Japan is that Japan is buying all of her army tents in the United States.

If the Administration can't prevent foreign nations from shutting our products out of their markets, it can at least "fire" their Ministers out of this country.

Spain's delay in the matter of that demanded apology is daily increasing the American sentiment in favor of the annexation of Cuba—unfinitely or otherwise.

Chicago boasts that there are 200 "literary persons and poets" among her citizens. But they seem to be curiously backward about furnishing evidence by which they can be identified.

The gold reserve has not yet reached the $100,000,000 mark, but it is large enough to answer all practical purposes, and to give definite assurance of financial safety.

Spain is having so much trouble at home that she is not at all likely to plunge into a difficulty with another nation when she can avoid it by making an abject apology.

It seems that many members of the Congress sold the public documents they should have sent to their constituents. Is there never to be an end to revelations of crookedness and chicanery on the part of that notorious body?

SENATOR HILL has been telling a New York audience what the Democratic party stands for. Generally speaking, we should say, it stands for the purpose of being knocked over as often as an election is held.

Missouri didn't get a thing in the distribution of Indian Territory court offices; and now the "boys in the brush" would like to know what good Senator Vest did by resuming his visits to the White House.

The wisdom of sending negroes from the South to Liberia is strongly doubted. Unless the Southern States have a superabundance of the colored population of the character of those sent, it is not easy to understand how they can be benefited by the movement; nor is it clear that those who have gone to Liberia will have any advantages in that country which they do not enjoy here.

In spite of all statements that have appeared to the contrary, the Vatican has now definitely expressed its disapproval of bicycling in so far as the priesthood is concerned. Troubled by the rapid spread of this form of exercise among the clergy of his diocese, one of the Hungarian bishops had referred the matter to Rome, where the Pope submitted it to the consideration of the Congregation of Bishops and Ecclesiastical Orders. That august body has condemned the use of the wheel as contrary to clerical etiquette, and has prohibited priests from riding thereon either for exercise or in the course of their pastoral duty. The ground given for this decree, which has been countersigned by the Pontiff, is that those who adopt this means of locomotion are exposed to the risk of accident and that bicycle-riding renders them ridiculous. This latter reason will hardly commend itself to the world at large, since it would cover most forms of outdoor amusement—a novice in skating, ball-playing, riding on horseback, or rowing, being just as likely to render himself an object of merriment as the tyro with his wheel. Moreover, muscular Christianity should be encouraged, as tending to popularize the Church, especially among the masses, and there is no doubt that in our rural parishes the clergy of every denomination owe no small degree of their influence among their respective flocks to the athletic reputation brought from college, and to the active interest they take in the baseball, football and cycling clubs of the locality.

TRAIN ROBBERS KILLED.

Surprised by the Resistance of Determined Detectives.

THREE OF THE GANG BITE THE DUST

One of Them Instantly Killed and Two Others Die from Their Wounds—Two Others Escape—The Company Had Been Warned of Their Coming.

GREENSBORO, Ky., March 28.—One of the most startling and at the same time most successful attempts at train robbery occurred early yesterday morning in the southern portion of Kentucky, when five men undertook to rob the south-bound No. 3 Queen and Crescent train. One of the six was killed outright, another killed by a horse kick, and the third died of his wounds.

The train had just emerged from Bristol No. 4, a small town in southwestern Ky., when a white horse, galloping in the middle of the track just ahead, brought it to a dead stop.

A tall, dark, bearded countryman, perhaps in years old, remained the steps of the engine and firing the signal of a pistol into the air. The driver, Tom North, ordered him to stand still, which he did, while Thomas Griffin, who was next to the engine, observed a threat against the train. Three other men, wearing broad-brimmed straw hats and heavy, made clothes, climbed into the locomotive, which they evidently mistook for the express car.

Three men, identified as William Griffin, chief detective from Somerset, Will Griffin of Galsdale, Tenn., and Will Algood of Christiansburg, were in the smoking car when the train stopped. Algood stepped up on the right side to see what was going on. As he stepped down he was ordered to throw up his hands by a man who had a revolver, but instead he pulled his own revolver and began firing. The other robbers took flight at the shooting, and jumping from the language car, began a full-scale fight.

Kidde and Griffin had appeared on the scene, and it is believed they brought down two of the robbers, one of whom died instantly, while the other lived only a short time. A third man was wounded in the breast. He clambered upon the tender and refused to budge until Cumberland Falls was reached. There he was given in charge of the operator, but died a few hours later.

The man taken to Cumberland Falls, who gave the name of Miller, claimed to be a tramp from Pennsylvania, and the mail clerk says he was struck by the last shot fired by the fellow in the engine cab, who passed underneath the train and shot him from behind, thinking he was a trainman. It is believed, however, that he was one of the gang of robbers.

It is learned from Adams Express officials that the train was only an ordinary one, there being no special treasure aboard. The train was delayed only five minutes.

The robbery was planned to have been committed on the 17th of this month, but on account of a creek near the scene being out of its banks the men were afraid they would be caught, and postponed it. A farmer says the men have been camping in a hollow nearby for five weeks. One of the gang gave them away to the officials, and the train had been loaded with detectives for the past month.

The man who was killed outright was Jesse Morrow, aged about 45 or 50 years. He resided with his wife and a number of sons in Wayne county, about fourteen miles from the scene of the trouble. He was known as the worst and most desperate man in the community.

Thomas Morrow, the man who was picked up near the dead man, was carried to the depot at Greenwood, where he died after suffering intense agony. This man was a son of the big man who had been killed, and was about 30 years of age, and a tough customer. He lived near his father, and had been in trouble several times.

The leader of the gang is a man by the name of Underwood, and he is a desperate criminal, having been implicated in several arson cases and has been arrested on the charge of murdering a friend. He resided in the vicinity of the attempted robbery.

The Care of Drunkards in Maryland. ANNAPOLIS, March 28.—Judge Roberts yesterday handed down an opinion in the court of appeals affirming the order of the lower court granting a mandamus against the mayor and city council of Baltimore to compel the city to pay certain fees to the Keeley Institute of Maryland for the care of persons sentenced to the institute by the courts. This confirms the constitutionality of the law passed by the last legislature authorizing the courts, in their discretion, to send habitual drunkards to these institutions at the expense of the city or county from which they come.

President Greenhut's Denial. PEORIA, Ill., March 28.—President Greenhut, of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company, is back in Peoria after a protracted absence. He treats the charges against himself with contempt, saying they are unworthy of notice. The latest charge that the officers had appropriated to their own use $100,000 or so of rebates from railroads is pronounced on a par with other accusations.

Murder in the First Degree. ST. LOUIS, March 28.—In the criminal court a jury that had been out since Tuesday returned a verdict finding guilty of murder in the first degree George Thompson, colored, who poisoned Joseph Cunningham, the sexton of St. Peter's Episcopal church, on Sept. 29, 1894. Cunningham had succeeded Thompson as sexton, thereby causing his displeasure.

Thrown from a Wagon to Death. ABERDEEN, Md., March 28.—While removing household goods in a four horse wagon the horses became frightened and ran away. The wagon was in charge of Daniel Wise and Andrew Gilmore. Both men were thrown out, Gilmore being killed and Wise having one of his thighs fractured.

The Church Incurably Irresponsible. WASHINGTON, March 28.—Mary De Lacey, the Milwaukee woman arrested for setting fire to St. Dominic's and St. Patrick's churches, was on trial in the police court yesterday. Judge Miller said it was evident that the woman was not responsible. The case was not concluded.

Overestimated His Strength. GALESBURG, Ill., March 28.—Walter Fuller, of the Knox college team, died yesterday from injuries received by throwing the hammer seventy feet, breaking the college record. The strain caused a double rupture of the intestines.

THE TIME HAS COME.

It Has Been Neglected Far Too Long.

The Spring is the Time for You to Look Out for Yourself.

Symptoms at This Season You Must Heed to Keep Well.

Most serious are those diseases affecting the liver and kidneys. The very thought of them sends a thrill of horror through the body. When the kidneys cannot work death may result.

The result is manifest to speak of disease which is hard to cure, such as weakness in the back, biliousness, changes in the water, tired feeling, loss of appetite, gas in the stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, dizziness of vision, changes in the skin, depression and many others.

Now is a most favorable time for liver and kidney ailments.

Mrs. C. R. Jones, who resides at 19 Chapel St., Westfield, Mass., writes: "I was troubled with severe kidney trouble and indigestion, that gave me a nervous, tremulous feeling, and I could not sleep at night. I used to wear glasses to relieve that miserable weakness in my kidneys. My liver was also in a bad condition."

"Early in the spring I was feeling so miserable that I decided to try Dr. Greene's Nervina blood and nerve remedy. Up to this time I have taken two bottles, and I feel as well as I have ever felt in my life. I feel as if I have lived for the first time in many years."

"Now my health and strength are restored, and I do not have any pain about me. I can do anything I wish, and am not bothered with the gas in my stomach. I don't ever wear a pair of shoes, and don't have that tired, heavy feeling in going up stairs, and I express myself, can almost skip up and do as well as any very thankful for the cure. I wish it were possible to give you my name, so that you would have my testimony."

"I think that I can say that Dr. Greene's Nervina blood and nerve remedy is the best I ever used. I feel as if I have lived for the first time in many years. I feel as if I have lived for the first time in many years. I feel as if I have lived for the first time in many years."

"Some people will say, 'I know one thing long enough to advise you not to get me, and I know whether it will help them or not.' Now I feel that I can say that Dr. Greene's Nervina blood and nerve remedy is the best I ever used. I feel as if I have lived for the first time in many years. I feel as if I have lived for the first time in many years."

MRS. C. R. JONES.

This great world renowned preparation, Dr. Greene's Nervina blood and nerve remedy, goes directly to the weakened or diseased organs and cures them. Its curative action on the liver and kidneys is quick and certain. It makes strong nerves, and pure, rich blood, which is just what you most need.

Now in the spring is the very best time to take it because liver and kidney diseases, as well as nearly all other affections, are more easily and quickly cured now than at any other season. The liver and kidneys are always inactive in spring, after the long, cold winter, and to keep perfectly well everybody should use Dr. Greene's Nervina blood and nerve remedy as a spring medicine.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. Dr. Greene, of 93 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone, at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE. The Amendment Creating Montgomery County Repealed. HARRISBURG, March 28.—The legislature today passed a bill repealing the amendment creating Montgomery county, which was introduced on Tuesday, was struck out and the vote reconsidered by which the bill passed second reading. After the amendment was struck out the bill again passed second reading. This sudden change of front on the part of the people interested in the movement for more counties is attributed to their apprehension of the defeat of the Quay county bill in the form in which it passed second reading.

The case and anti-also people have finally agreed upon a mutually satisfactory to both interests. When the bill repealing the old act of 1883 was reached Mr. Marshall, a staunch advocate of also, moved to amend by inserting a provision that half the fines go to the department of agriculture, for use of the dairy and food commissioner in enforcing the act. This was agreed to, and the bill went through. The other also bills on the calendar will be dropped.

Among bills passed finally in the senate were these: Providing for the further regulation of foreign fire insurance companies doing business in this state, requiring them to pay a license of $200 in cities of the first class and $25 in other cities and forbidding commissions higher than 2 per cent.; prohibiting the erection of temporary structures for fishing in streams except Lake Erie; providing that liquor license money shall be paid into the treasury of the city, borough or township wherein licensed places are located; permitting those who swear by the book to stomp lay a hand on the Bible instead of being obliged to kiss it.

Through it had been decided by the house that no new bills should be introduced after Monday last, the agreement is ignored, and several new measures were introduced in both bodies.

General Harrison Again at Work. INDIANAPOLIS, March 28.—Ex-President Harrison returned to Richmond yesterday afternoon to re-enter the Morrison will case. He was forced to step out of the case three weeks ago on account of an attack of acute bronchitis. He has entirely recovered.

NUGGETS OF NEWS. M. Soubeyre, a civil engineer of Paris, was killed in a duel. The lower house of Minnesota's legislature passed a bill totally abolishing convict contract labor. Negro colonists who lately went to Mexico from Alabama are leaving that country in large numbers. It is unofficially announced that the Armenian commission will confirm the reported atrocities in Armenia. While Ida Wood was on trial at Helena, Mont., for robbing Eugene Stanley of $140, Stanley drew a revolver and shot her fatally. At Milwaukee Walter G. Nicholson committed suicide by drowning, evidently for the purpose of securing for his wife his $20,000 life insurance.

ANNA DICKINSON'S SUIT.

She Annoys the Lawyers by Her Brilliant Puzzles of Questions.

STANTON, Pa., March 28.—In the case of Anna Dickinson against her sister, Susan Dickinson, and others, to recover damages for alleged false imprisonment in the Danville insane asylum, the defense opened yesterday. Their contention is that Anna was insane when taken to the asylum; that she was possessed of an undue infatuation for men and would throw kisses at them; that while riding she would unbecomingly abuse her horse.

Susan Dickinson, who is an editorial writer in this city, testified that Anna had stabbed her several times with scissors, and that she had often bought liquor for her by the quart; that in 1889 she declined to give Anna money to go to Europe to see Henry Irving about putting a play on the stage. Anna, she said, used to damn Ben Butler and the Republican national committee, as well as General Harrison and William Field. She complained of the numerous questions of Frances Willard and other women, and that she had had some of her own questions. One Anna had asked in G. W. Walker, which she had answered, and she asked out again, but she never answered what she asked. Her husband, she would not say, was severely injured, and had to be taken to the hospital.

Thomas M. Galloway, a Philadelphia lawyer and member of the state board of charities, testified that he had visited Anna in the asylum. She had a melancholy look and acted irrationally.

Anna Dickinson, when once she stood herself, answered the lawyers by her brilliant puzzles of questions and delicate deductions of words she balanced upon before answering questions.

As Actor Murderer and Suicide. NEW YORK, March 28.—John Bigelow, an actor, yesterday in the furnished room of the woman on West Twenty-fourth street, and then turned the revolver to his own head and blew out his brains. The double tragedy was not discovered until about evening. None of those in the house could assign a motive for the deed. Bigelow was about 30 years of age, and the young woman was not more than 25. She had lived in the house since last summer and bore a character which was spotless. Members of the theatrical profession assert that the case is parallel to the case of James B. Gentry, who shot Madge York in Philadelphia a few weeks ago. Bigelow's father is a prominent retired lawyer and ex-mayor of Morristown, N. J.

Double Murder in Ohio. WHEELING, W. Va., March 28.—Nigger ropes come from the vicinity of Dillon, Va. into the town of Dillon, Va., from county, O., of a tragedy that occurred there. A fight started in a crowd of slaves in the street, and one of their number, a giant in physique and stature, when hard pressed, picked up a club and killed a smaller man. Then seizing a large stone he buried it in the head of another man, slaying it in two to the jaw bone, killing him instantly. The slay who did the killing is under arrest and is strongly guarded.

Li Hung Chang's Condition. WASHINGTON, March 28.—All righting is said at either the Japanese or Chinese legations as to the condition of Li Hung Chang, the Chinese peace envoy. It is known that advice have been received in either of these that serious points apprehended from his wound. In fact, the information has been such as to cast some doubt as to the effect his wound might have upon the situation in the Orient. It is generally believed it would prevent Japan securing as good terms as she had intended to insist on.

Another Train Robbery. LITTLE ROCK, March 28.—Train 64, on the Iron Mountain, was held up by robbers at 10 o'clock last night just north of Williamsville, Mo., sixteen miles north of Poplar Bluff, Mo., by two men. The robbers cut off the mail, express and baggage cars and ran about half a mile and robbed the express car. It is not known what the booty amounts to. The conductor lost his watch and money, and it is supposed the passengers were also robbed, but details of the hold-up have not been received at this hour.

The Husband and Father Suspected. FULTON, Mich., March 28.—The farmhouse of Fran' Annis, north of the village, was burned yesterday, and Mrs. Annis perished in the flames. An inquest is being held, and the testimony thus far is rather damaging to Mrs. Annis's husband. His 10-year-old daughter has testified to facts which show that the house was set afire. Annis says he had gone for a physician to attend his wife when the fire started.

An American Shot in Paris. PARIS, March 28.—A man named Thomas O'Brien, described as an American, was arrested here yesterday for shooting Wedel Read, also said to be an American. O'Brien shot Read six times with a revolver, and his victim is dying. It is asserted by Americans here that O'Brien is the bunco steerer who escaped from the authorities at Utica, N. Y., several years ago.

Davis Will Contest Settled. BUTTE, Mont., March 28.—The great Davis will contest, involving $7,000,000, perhaps ended yesterday by mutual agreement between the heirs. The John A. Davis will was admitted to probate and a decree of distribution entered subject to revision in the event of further contest within one year by claimants not parties to the present agreement.

General Harrison Again at Work. INDIANAPOLIS, March 28.—Ex-President Harrison returned to Richmond yesterday afternoon to re-enter the Morrison will case. He was forced to step out of the case three weeks ago on account of an attack of acute bronchitis. He has entirely recovered.
