'Now good digestion wait on good appetite. And health on both.' says the great Shakespeare, but he did not have in mind a coated tongue or torpid liver, with all the symptoms of biliousness, so common in this country. All this, and more, can be cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a purely vegetable compound, which restores the action of the liver, gives tone to the flagging energies of the dyspeptic's stomach, and thus enables good digestion to wait on appetite, and health on both. By druggists.

A TRIO OF FUGITIVES.

They Are Held at Denver to Await Action by Other States.

DENVER, April 4.—Larry King, C. I. Edwards and Billy Connors are under arrest in this city, booked as fugitives. King jumped $5,000 bail at Provo, Utah, where it is alleged he swindled a wealthy man out of $3,000 by the gold brick trick.

Connors is a well known Chicago burglar, confidence man and pickpocket, and has served three terms in Joliet prison. After leaving Chicago he joined a gang of crooks brought together by Abe Rothchild, a Marshal (Tex.) murderer, and operated with them all through the south and west. Among the crimes credited to the gang are a bank robbery at Elgin, Tex., the theft of $10,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry from Hickok's jewelry house at El Paso, Tex., a jewelry robbery at Baton Rouge, and the stealing of diamonds and other precious stones to the value of $7,000 from the store of Alfred Bourgeois at Jackson, Miss.

Edwards escaped from Sing Sing prison six months ago. Concerning his criminal history the Denver police are not fully informed.

MINE FIRE EXTINGUISHED.

Good Account of Ex-Shenandoah People From Northumberland County Mines. One of the most difficult of mining feats has just been accomplished at the Pennsylvania colliery by Superintendent John L. Williams, of the Union Coal company, who has succeeded in smothering the fire which broke out in that mine twenty months ago. Yesterday Mr. Williams decided that the time had arrived when an examination of the district where the fire started should be made. After all preliminary arrangements had been completed the inside foreman and the assistant foremen were summoned and at 8:30 o'clock everything was in readiness. Those who accompanied Mr. Williams on this exceedingly dangerous exploit were William Rhinehart, inside foreman, William P. Williams, assistant foreman, Martin Hurlbath, fire boss, and John Workman, assistant fire boss, who crawled through a twenty two inch cast iron column pipe in the big dam and traveled the man way up to the counter gangway, a distance of 120 yards, on a pitch averaging fifty degrees, for the purpose of making a thorough examination of that portion of the mine which had been on fire. The bravery displayed by these officials in thus entering a district, the condition of which they could know little or nothing about, and with death almost staring them in the face, was a duty which they performed in a most courageous manner and for which they cannot receive too much credit.—Shamokin Herald.

VERY LIVELY SESSION.

We are only here to hear what he has to say.' President Conroy: 'The point is well taken.'

Mr. Glover: 'I did not come to hold the board accountable. My charge is to the board against your Superintendent's action in this case. That is just as plain as I can put it. I want to put it in unmistakable language.'

Mr. Whitaker: 'My intention in answering as I did was to try and explain the matter satisfactorily to Mr. Glover. Had he come to me I would have tried to satisfy him.'

Mr. Glover said as he was retiring 'No, the wrong was too grievous for that.'

When the matter came up for disposition by the board Mr. Davenport moved that the action of the Superintendent be disapproved and Miss Glover be reinstated.

Mr. Trezise raised a point of order that the report and recommendation had been adopted.

Mr. Hanna said that Mr. Davenport was trying to embrace two motions in one and to settle the matter he moved that the recommendation of the Superintendent be approved.

Mr. Davenport amended that Miss Glover be re-instated. The amendment was not seconded and Mr. Hanna's motion was carried.

Mr. Davenport subsequently said that the matter had already been given considerable publicity and would be given more within a week and Mr. Whitaker would find the matter more serious than he thought. Mr. Whitaker replied that he exercised his right and he would not be intimidated by any threats.

The committee on building and repairs was instructed to connect the new school property with the Cherry street sewer.

The officers of the board were authorized to negotiate a loan of $2,500 for expenses.

Mr. Trezise reported that flags had been replaced in all the school rooms except Miss Fox's, which was without a flag.

PARENTS, DON'T WORRY.

Paine's Celery Compound Strengthens Nervous Children.

Nervous exhaustion in children is worrying a great many fathers and mothers these days.

While the hurry and bustle of modern life is bringing a constantly increasing strain upon grown men and women, there certainly comes to light the startling fact of a growing tendency toward nervousness among their children.

As these boys and girls, when older, will enter a life of nervous strain fully as exacting as that of today, it is no wonder that parents view with dismay these early signs of nervous weakness, and anxiously seek some means of making the young people strong and well again. The remedy is at hand in every city and town in America.

It is the remedy first prescribed by that greatest of all modern educators, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college. It is Paine's celery compound, which Principal Camp, of New Haven, and Pres. Cook, of the National Teachers' Association, have so recently recommended.

Countless parents today give their children Paine's celery compound and see them grow robust and vigorous day by day before their eyes till they are again restored to the perfect health that belongs to youth. Physicians everywhere advise the use of this greatest of blood purifiers and nerve foods.

One of the danger signals of nervous exhaustion among young people is the lack of desire for food and the capriciousness of appetite. When their overpressed nervous systems have been driven to the point of exhaustion, their faces grow pale and pinched, their spirits decline, their bodies lose perceptibly in weight and strength, they need more and more some active means of supplying the nerves and tissues with better nutrition, and the veins with better blood. When Paine's celery compound is given to one of these excitable, weak-nerved, sallow, perhaps scrofulous, young persons, the mother is often amazed at the rapidity with which it restores the strength, builds up the worn nervous tissues, and replaces the languor of a depleted nervous system by the elasticity of youthful health.

Paine's celery compound makes people well—not only worn out, enfeebled men and women of mature age, but young persons whose lighter powers have been overtaxed by excitement or immoderate work without proper intervals for rest and repair.

Paine's celery compound has played a most important part in the lives of thousands of young people in every section of this country. Many whose nervous systems had been so stimulated as to unfit them utterly for study, it has made vigorous and strong enough to ably bear the burden of coming years. It has enabled them to grow up vigorous men and women, capable of doing the part of active, strong men and women in the world. Mr. James B. Wetzel, writing from his home in New Berlin, Penn., says:

'Allow me to speak a few words in praise of Paine's celery compound. My younger sister, whose picture I send you, was subject to nervous attacks, and, we thought, to heart trouble. We tried numerous medicines for her ailments, but without much avail. Last winter she had a severe attack of nervous trouble with her eyes, and we gave her Paine's celery compound and she improved wonderfully upon it, and she has been well ever since. If these few words of unsolicited testimony can be of any benefit please use them as my unbiased and unprejudiced opinion.'
