

THEY CANNOT DECEIVE YOU

If You Read This—The Newspapers' "So-called" Britannica Under the Searchlight—What Real Examinations Show.

PITTSBURG, Pa., August 30, 1894.

Some time since, I bought a set of the Britannica, believing it to be a new edition of that work and revised to date, 1894, as represented in the advertisements and testimonials published in the Wilkes-Barre Record; but I find after a careful examination of this work called the Britannica, that it is not a new edition of the Britannica, but a cheap and mutilated reproduction of that work with a most important part, the American copyrighted articles, omitted.

I also find that the work is not revised to date, but the articles of English origin for the most part stand as printed in the real Britannica which began being published about twenty years ago. I have returned the work having no use for a patched up copy of the Britannica from ten to twenty years behind the times.

Before purchasing this "so-called" Britannica, I was called upon by a man representing himself as the agent of the Wilkes-Barre Record. He desired me to give him a testimonial expressing my opinion of the Britannica, and having used the present edition of the genuine Britannica for the past ten or fifteen years, and knowing it to be a valuable work, but now needing revision, I did not hesitate to give him a recommendation; but my testimonial was given for the real Britannica, a new edition of which I supposed he was representing. My testimonial was certainly not given for the cheap inaccurate and pirated edition of that work. I have requested that they discontinue the publication of my testimonial.

W. L. HIMS.

George W. Geiser, of Easton, Pa., ex-District Attorney of Northampton county, recently bought a set of the so-called Britannica, which the Wilkes-Barre Record, the Philadelphia Inquirer and some other papers are now imposing on their patrons through a company of book men doing business in the name of various newspapers and using the papers' names and influence for a valuable consideration as a lever to gain access to the groves of the people. Read what Mr. Geiser writes of this work:

"I recently bought a set of this newspaper Britannica, examined it, and finding it worthless, returned it."

Read examination shows this newspaper Britannica to be a cheap photograph of the real work and from ten to twenty years behind the times; supplemented in part with matter taken from Chambers' old Encyclopaedia of 1890.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they realize. Jonathan Keenan, of Balwin, Wash. Co., Pa., who has been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of St. Paul, Minn., had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so had he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them in a week." 50 cent bottles for sale by Grubler Bros.

says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac, the famous tobacco habit cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis architect, smoked and chewed for twenty years; two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick." No-To-Bac sold and guaranteed by Mrs. A. Wasley. No cure no pay. Book free. Sterling Remedy Co., New York or Chicago. 18t eod

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. 81383 81395, Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Grubler Bros.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Pertinent Paragraphs From the Reporters' Pens and Pencils.

The raid on unlicensed dogs and roaming cattle has not been started yet. High Constable Emanuel hesitates to act because he has not been supplied with the proper appliances for capturing the dogs and has no place in which to pen them. He is also without a pound for the roaming cattle. He will defer action until Council meets and he can make application for a net with which to catch the dogs and secure permission to rent some place to be used for a pound.

The electric fire alarm system has been acting spasmodically the past few days on account of a break in the line that has not been located. On Thursday afternoon the bell was tapped once and again between one and two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Last night the bell refused to respond to the customary weekly test at seven and only sounded once, instead of giving the number of taps to correspond with the number of the box from which the alarm was sent in. There ought to be some means for locating a disorder in the system in less time. It should not be allowed to remain defective for three days, as an imperfect alarm might lead to great inconvenience to the fire department, if not a disastrous delay.

The captain of the Salvation Army has been subjected to many indignities recently by some criminally mischievous people and if the authorities can see their way clear to take action in the matter they should do so. Twice recently the captain narrowly escaped very serious injury. One night a stone thrown struck him on the forehead and on another night he was struck in the face by a stone. Such acts arise from pure devilry and will not be countenanced by any right minded citizen, nor will such offenders be shielded. Let the Army pursue its course. The history of its existence shows that it has done a great deal of good for fallen mankind and for that reason, if no other, it is entitled to protection from violence.

All the Lehigh Valley collieries paid their employes today, but that will have little weight with the business outlook in town today. Next Saturday the town will be lively. The close of Lent, followed closely by a three week pay by the P. & K. C. & L. Co., will make business boom.

CAMBRIDGE TO START.

Will Resume Operations on Monday With a Jig Plant Added.

Cambridge colliery, which has been idle for about three weeks pending repairs and improvements, will resume operations on Monday morning with 125 men and boys on the pay roll. During the idleness the colliery has been supplied with a jig plant that will prepare stove and nit sizes of coal and a new six inch pump has been added to supply the jugs with water from the creek. The improvements cost about $2,000. The Princeton Colmes and Orchard vein are worked by the colliery and the capacity is now increased from 100 to 150 tons a day. The money paid to employes every month amounts to about $4,000.

"The Telegram."

"The Telegram" is a legitimate farce comedy with a probable and intricate plot. The situations are immense and the comedy pure and clean. The company is headed by the dashing sonneteer, Jessie Mae Hall, who handles the role of "Original Sin" with great skill. Miss Hall is a unique and original sobrette, just out of her teens and in the rendition of childish characters she is unexcelled. She is quite small, being only a few inches tall and weighs ninety pounds. The entire company is strong and well balanced. The play is full of comedy and specialties and is sure to satisfy. At Ferguson's theatre on Monday, April 15.

Coming Events.

April 13.—Cake and Coffee Supper, under the auspices of the Salvation Army, to be held in their hall on North Main street.

April 15.—Easter ball in Robbins' opera house for the benefit of Mrs. James Donovan, whose husband was killed at the Shenandoah City colliery.

April 23, 24.—Entertainment in the All Saints' P. E. church to raise library funds.

WOMEN IN THE SPRING.

They Need Nothing So Much as Paine's Celery Compound.

In the spring women need Paine's celery compound.

The average American woman, says a well known writer, wears herself out twenty years before her time. She begins the wearing out process as a child, staying up at night until the whole family retires; and keeps it up as a growing girl, staying awake until ten or eleven o'clock, when she should be asleep by nine; and as a woman she has so many things to do and to keep up with that she positively hasn't a minute to rest.

By and by her cheeks grow thin and haggard; lancor takes the place of her old-time high spirits; she has a generally worn-out air; her nerves are gnawed by pain, and sleeplessness makes fearful intrusions upon her health.

Her physician tells her simply that her nervous system is exhausted, and that help must come by feeding the brain and entire nervous tract, richly, rapidly, and completely. It is the experience of the most careful medical men in this country that nothing proves so uniformly successful as Paine's celery compound in cases of brainweariness, nervous inability, failure of vital force, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, and for restoring health and vigor to the brain and body when exhausted by overwork or dissipation.

Every such weary, nervous, thin-blooded person should take Paine's celery compound. It makes such people well. Paine's celery compound improves the general health by making new, ruddy blood and refreshing the nerves.

It reanimates the languid body, and vitalizes the important organs so that they work in harmony with each other. The accomplished editor of the Oakland, Ill., Ledger, a portrait of whose wife is given above, says in his own paper, editorially:

"Our leading druggist, Dr. W. G. Gregory, informs us that his sales of Paine's celery compound have been wonderful; in fact, he states that he has in six months sold more celery compound than all other medicines combined. There has been a constant demand for it.

"One of the noticeable cures that this medicine has made is the case of Mr. Phil Clineard, who last spring was Republican candidate for County Treasurer. Mr. Clineard's nerves were all unstrung; he had no appetite and was all run-down. He commenced using Paine's celery compound, and today there is not a more well and vigorous citizen in this whole community than Mr. Clineard. Another case that comes closer is that of the wife of the editor of the Ledger. Every one in Oakland knows that Mrs. Peargin was confined to her bed for three whole months with neuralgia. At times her pains were awful, so much so that her hands would clench and it took the united strength of two persons to straighten out her fingers. Dr. Gregory, the family physician, treated her for months, but all he could do was to alleviate the pains, not effecting a cure. About last winter she commenced using Paine's celery compound.

"She commenced to gain in flesh at once. Her pain all went away; her vitality increased weekly, and today there is not a more healthy woman in town than she. Her neighbors all marvel at her complete recovery, and ask her the cause, and she has no hesitation in saying that it is all due to Paine's celery compound. This is given voluntarily in the hope that others who are afflicted may be profited by using this great medicine, which today is without a peer in the land."
