PRIMITIVE METHODIST AND TRINITY REFORMED CHURCHES.

Elaborate Floral Displays Were Made in Several of the Edifices-Appropriate Observance by the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School.

From the solemn service of Good Fri day to the Easter carols and anthems which were heard throughout Christen dom yesterday was a significant change to all Christians. The one signifying the death and agony of the Saviour and the other His glorious resurrection made the observance of the two days full of mean ing and hope to the devout people of this Christian land. The end of the penitential season which was celebrated last evening, and which commemorates the rising of Jesus Christ from the dead, was an occasion of rejoicing throughout the town. The churches were all decorated in the finest flowers of the spring, and the services that pronounced glad tidings exultingly sung by the choirs. The ministers and priests were listened to with rapt attention by wast and overflowing congregations.

The exhibition of flowers, which were seen at this Eastertide, has probably never been equalled, and certainly a plethora of flowers everywhere and, as the poor as well as the rich to decorate their homes on Easter day. Ever since the first observance of Easter, which began in the early Gentile church and spread to the western church and to Egypt, flowers have played an important part, and each year the displays have been larger and more beautiful. The floral decorations in the different churche were elaborate. Easter iillies, azaleas the English yellow genastas, hyacinthe and roses were the most prominent flowers used. Easter day has always been looked for ward to by a vast multitude of young women and these who are not so young secause on that day they can blosson forth in their new spring gowns, hats and wraps. The old custom of making Easter day the occasion for putting on the new spring clothes is losing ground among many people, who do not care to have their clothes examined, written about, pictured and criticised. The day being

The latter practically ran away from the Shenandoah man, winning by about eight feet. Fahey says he was over trained. The track was in an awful muddy and sloppy condition. The Shenandoah delegation on the grounds offered odds as high as 8 to 1 on Fahey, but could find no takers. The Bethlehemites did not seem to have confidence in the Jersey man. It was fortunate for the Shenan doahites the Bethlehem people did not bite at the offers, for one of the former had $600 in cold cash to put out on the race. This is the first race Fahey has lost in his long career. It was an eye-opener, too. The general belief now is that Fahey is not in Ryan's class.

Camp 112, P. O. S. of A., Making Extensive Preparations for the Event.

The beautiful lodge room of Washingington Camp No. 112, Patriotic Order Sons of America, at the regular meeting tomorrow evening, will present an ap-pearance similar to a court room, with all the appurtenances attached to a sanctum of justice. Extensive preparations have been made on the part of the committee having the affair in charge, and the membership of the three local camps will be present in large numbers. Visitors from nearby towns will also be present, and the committee extends a cordial invitation to members of other camps to be present

The defendant in the case is George Horatio Krick, and he is charged by Miss Pearl R. Lake with breach of promise, The parties to the suit are well known and their respective families are leaders. in local society circles. The plaintiff asks for $10,000 damages, and her case will be looked after by District Attorney Bert Hooks, assisted by Prof. J. W. Cooper" principal of the High school, and Councilman C. T. Straughn. The array of legal talent for the defendant is of a high order and include L. A. Bamberger, the leading counsel for Krick, ex-Councilman H Lamb and School or R Davenport, Judge H. E. Bradley Dengler will preside, and B. Jefferson Yost will be Clerk of the Court. The other court officials will be selected tomorrow. Quite a large number of witnesses have been subpoensed, the majority of whom are prominent in social and business circles The members of the camp feel confident that the trial will be a success, and will prove an evening of much enjoyment to those who are fortunate enough to be present. If their expectations in this respect are realized, the probabilities are that a public trial will be held in the near future for the benefit of the worthy poor of Shenandosh. There is no doubt but that the trial will be both amusing and instructive.

the young ladles, and the streets we all crowded until a late hour.

Easter morning dawned gloriously yes terday and the people fully realized that it was indeed a "day of joy to all the world." Among the appropriate service of the day was that held in the German Lutheran church on West Cherry street. Here the morning service was a most impressive one. It was opened by the nspiring Easter anthem composed by Prof. Wonenberger, of Reading, entitled, "Fuerchtet Euch Nicht" "Be not afraid") which was ren dered with beautiful effect by the church choir. The baritone solo by Mr. Frederick Grubler was very effective. Rev. John Gruhler the pastor, preached a powerful and impressive sermon on the

the discourse with marked attention and was evidently well pleased with it. The choir rendered the beautiful Easter anthem "Rejoice in the Lord," after which the hely communion was administered.

Easter was also very appropriately ob-served in the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school yesterday by the junior department. A program of sacred music, recitations and other exercises was rendered at two o'clock in the afternoon. There was singing and scripture reading by the school, prayer by the pastor, recitations by Miss Mary Wasley, Fred. Hutton, Ralph Matter, Miss Josephine Daddow and Arthur Delcamp; addresses by Mr. H. E. Dengler, Dr. J. S. Callen and the pastor; solos by Miss Ruble Yost,

Miss Maud Gilpin and Miss Bella Brown violin solo by Miss Eva Brewer ; religious fantasia by Mesers. Hough, Church and Hutton; a contralto and bass duct by Miss Sallie Wasley and Mr. Jesse Hughes a poem by three little girls, and a poem and song by Misses Llewellyn and Price. The exercises were exceedingly interest ing and very appropriate to an observance of the day.

The service in the Trinity Reformed church last night was beautiful and im pressive. The altar, chancel and pulpit were beautifully decorated with flowers and draped with lace, bringing out exquisitely the beautiful oll painting of the resurrection of Christ in the pulpit alcove. The congregation celebrated the alarm system being out of order. Mem-Holy Communion both morning and evening. It was the largest communion gathering in the history of the congregation.
