impose an income tax, they would do well to employ a lawyer. THE wise Presidential aspirant is keeping silent nowadays. Of course, this re- tect their interests in eastern Asia. fers to Republicans only. Nothing that any Democrat can say will make his chances of election worse than they are.

It is significant that the Democrats are beginning to talk of giving the Presidential nomination to a Southern man just at the time when they know that no Democrat of the North or South has the interests. faintest chance of election.

THE policy of this Administration has been so un-American that now Great Britain seems to think her time has come to defy the Monroe doctrine, or, as it should have been called, the Washing ton doctrine, for the principle underlying the famous letter of James Monroe was laid down by our first President; it may be said to be an integral part of the Constitution of the United States.

It is a notorious truth that the American people, with all of their industry, enterprise and financial skill, are a nation of spendthrifts in relations where economy should be constantly and resolutely practiced. This is really the greatest difficulty in the adjustment of questions pertaining to labor and business. Our style of living is such that ordinary rules can not be applied to the solution of ordinary problems. We are subject to the restraining and thwarting effect of certain arbitrary influences which exist only by our own permission, and which we insist upon prolonging in plain opposition to our own interests. If we were dis posed to make the most of our chances of cheap living, many of the issuess which we find so troublesome in our affairs would settle themselves. But we will not before his train left Greenville that night consent to try the discipline of systematic omy as a remedy for any of our ills. The diminished prices of all articles of necessity do not help us as they should, because the gain which comes to us in had been dead some hours. The lynching that way is neutralized by expenditures for things that could be dispensed with if we cared to pursue a frugal course This is illustrated every day, among all classes of society. The spirit of wastefulness is continually in evidence, and it has far more to do with our besetting public troubles than we are apt to think when looking for means of relief, Ose of the noteworthy features of the age is the marked increase of gifts by bequest and from living persons to literary institutions, churches and charitable and philanthropic organizations Conspicuous among them are gifts from living benefactors, who not only hear the commendations which generally follow their liberality, but have the opportunity to see how their benefactions are spent. It would seem as though those who intend to make such bequests, and who can readily spars the amount while living would greatly prefer to hand them over mow or as soon as they can be conveniently spared, but the majority prefer to keep their money in possession until death. They being the owners of it, have of course the right to make such disposition of it as to them seems fit and proper, but most of those who have not the means where with to display such liberality are wery apt to think that were they million aires, or evenly moderately wealthy, they would do differently. Perhaps, and perhaps not. "Put yourself in his place" is suggestive in such cases. Most of us are very liberal in thought, but when it comes to parting with money that has been patiently earned and the accumulating of which has been the result of a lifetime of patient and persistent effort, it is only natural that there should be in many cases an indisposition to part with it until death renders its retention no longer possible. If those who propose alding praiseworthy causes of whatever kind, prefer to do so by bequest, let us be thankful that the number of such, as well as of those who find it more pleasant to give while they are living, is so largely on the increase.

Japan Will Not be Permitted to Bind Her self Around China in a Solid Girdle in Order to be Able to Shut Her Off from London, April 33,-A distant to the Times from B riln says that the North German Gazette (semi-official) publishes an article of similar impact to that contained in the Cologne Guzette Saturday

The Cologre Gazette on Saturday said that in view of the presence being exer-cised by the war party in Japan Germany, at the beginning of March, enjoined the Japanese government to be mixlerate in the terms dominated for peace, arging that the dession of territory upon the main land of China would be especially calculated to induce the intervention of the powers. When it was shown by the published terms of peace that Japan was not disposed to follow Germany's advice steps were im-mediately taken to establish an accord THE next time the Democrats want to with the powers, and a complete agree-ment has been reached with Russia and France. The three powers, Garmany, Russia and France, will now take steps to pro-

In case of need the three powers mentioned intento avert in good time any injury to their interests. It was added, however, that Germany would be glad to see Japan enjoy the fruits of her military prowess on condition that it does not injure German

MRS PARNELL'S CONDITION.

It is Doubtful Whether the Old Lady Will Survive the Shock,

BORDENTOWN, N.J., April 22.-Mrs. Par nell seemed brighter yesterday morning but as the day advanced she grew weaker She recognized Dr. Shipps and shool hands with Mrs. Casey and a daughter of farmer John Casey when they called. It is doubtful, however, whether she will survive the shock of the assault. At the request of Mrs. Knoud, of New York, who is at the aged lady's bedside, Rev. Elvin S. Taylor, rector of Christ church, of Borlentown, made a visit in the afternoon.

Nothing has yet developed to throw any light upon the case, although the detectives are still at work. The theory that the crime was committed by tramps is not believed. George R. Cavanaugh, who was arrested with another tramp named atrick Ragen on Saturday night, on the Ironsides property, was released yesterday after Justice Steel had questioned them concerning the affair. Ragen was subsequently rearrested and sent to the Burlington county jail for twenty days as a

The Cases Against Student Durant. SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The police are still busy in picking up the threads and weaving their network of circum stances and evidence in the Emanuel Bantist church cases, so as to leave no weak mesh through which the accused can escape, for they believe they have the mur-derer in the person of W. Durant, It is now thought they will make an endeavor to try Durant first on the charge of murdering Miss Lamont, as the evidence in that case is said to be much stronger gainst the prisoner than in the case of the killing of Miss Williams.

A BRUTAL MARYLAND NEGRO. Only the Determined Attitude of His Cap-

FREDERICK, Md., April 29.-Mrs. Thomas Butts, a highly respected farmer's wife, living at Broad Run, fifteen miles from Frederick, was brutally assaulted yesterday by Frank Winterchief, a burly 18-year-old negro, who works on the farm of J. Columbus O'Donnell, near Petersville. Although he failed to accomplish his pur pose, Mrs. Butts was most flendishly dealt with. She attended early mass at St. Mary's Catholic church, four miles from her home, and was returning when the negro overtook her on the road, and, armed with a club, seized her, threw her to the ground and dragged her towards the bushes.

She screamed for help and by superhu man efforts threw off her assailant and sprang to her feet. Three times he threw her to the ground. In the struggle he jammed his finger up her nostrils, fore her clothing and scratched and bruised her flesh. Frightened before accomplishing his purpose, he sprang up and fled. Not withstanding the flerce struggle between the brute and his victim Mrs. Butts still retained possession of her prayer book and beads in her hands.

Peter Hemp and David Majaha, who heard the screams, saw the negro running and started in hot pursuit. The route lay towards the mountains. After a chase of four miles, and after firing two shots at him, the negro halted and surrendered In the meantime Mrs. Butts had made her way to a farm house. On their return with the negro bis captors were escorted by mob, who demanded the surrender of the man that they might take him in the woods and hang him. Hemp and Majaha refused to give him up at the point of their drawn revolvers, and escaped from the mob and brought Winterchief safely to Fred-
