WE WERE BADLY LEFT

The Pottsvilles Made the Second Drubbing For the Home Team a Very Bad One.

CLARK COSTLY AT SHORT

KENNEDY'S PASSED BALLS MATERIALLY AIDED THE VISITORS IN GETTING A START.

In the Fifth Inning the Pottsvilles Went Out of Sight by Pounding Nevins' Delivery—Merriman and Gill Did Well.

Where are we at, did some one say? Why we're at the same old game. Trying to "kill" the boys to play. So that our returns will appreciate their name.

Some say that our team is great—Well, sure it is, I've seen our boys play but in the hollow at Lost Creek. That had some of them professionals that git by.

It would be an insult to the intelligence of the public to attempt to offer an excuse for the second defeat of the Shenandoah state league team by the Pottsvilles at the Trotting park yesterday. There is no excuse to offer. Our people were inclined to be lenient with the home club for its work on Wednesday on account of the conditions set forth in our report of yesterday, but to suffer such a hum as they play as marked parts of yesterday's game is beyond all human endurance. At two stages of the game the situation was absolutely ridiculous. The Pottsvilles had the creamery men completely at their mercy.

The first chapter of the tale of woe opened when the first Pottsville batter went to the plate in the first inning. Davis got his base on Clark's error, went to second when Stanhope got his base on balls, scored on a passed ball. Tigh brought Stanhope home with a three bagger and scored when Ellis got his first on another error by Clark. Ellis got to third on a passed ball and reached home on a hit by Fox after Fuller struck out and Hill went out on a fly to Gill. The Pottsvilles were retired by Eustace striking out. From the above summary it is easy to understand why the spectators, who were not many, became disgusted at the start of the game.

The second inning only added gall to the dose. Anderson, the first batter, got to first on balls, advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on a third error by Clark. Davis also scored.

The home team started out in the third inning in a manner that aroused some hope. At an wholly unexpected moment Kennedy banged the ball out for a three bagger. Little also found the ball, but was thrown out at first by Tighe. Gill stepped to the plate and banged out another three bagger, Kennedy scoring, and Gill getting home on McGarvey's strong hit. McGarvey and Clark went out before any more advantage could be gained and the Pottsvilles were prevented from scoring in the last half of the inning.

In the fourth inning the progress of the game became a burlesque when the Pottsvilles went to the bat. Nevins either went to pieces, or was very much discouraged. Davis and Stanhope got their base on balls. Tighe went out on a fly to Kennedy, and then the Pottsvilles commenced the slaughter. Ellis started with a hit and Fuller followed with one. Hill, Fox and Kastace each made a three bagger and Davis, the tenth man, made a hit. A total of seven runs was made before the side was retired, eleven men having presented themselves at the plate.

In the sixth inning Merriman got this base on balls and was brought home by Nevins' two bagger, making the third and last run for the home team. The Pottsvilles scored their two runs in this inning on an error each by Clark and McGarvey and a hit by Davis.

In the seventh inning the run was scored on two good hits by Fuller and Fox and the last run was made on a single by Anderson and a double by Davis.

In the ninth Nevins went out on a fly to Fuller, McCasch made a hit, Kenned, went out on a fly to Eustace, Little made a hit, and the game ended by Gill striking out.

SHOT--

But the Consequences Were Not at all Fatal.

A traveling man was shot at yesterday while passing through town. The bullet struck him in the breast but did not prove fatal, as the bosom of his shirt contained such a high polish that the bullet glanced off. Such is the kind of work that is done at Fay's Steam Laundry, South Main street.

The Chain Broke.

The spreader chain on the rope in the slope of the Koblincor colliery broke yesterday while two loaded cars were being hoisted, and when the cars were half way up the slope. Several sets of timbers were torn out and considerable smashing was done at the bottom of the slope, but fortunately nobody was injured.

A Very Lengthy and Interesting Session Was Held Last Evening.

LASTED TO NEAR MIDNIGHT

TOWN PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED AND A NEW TELEPHONE COMPANY ASK FOR RIGHT OF WAY.

Effort Being Made to Abate the Sewerage Trouble on South Emerick Street—A Tilt Between the Two James'.

A regular meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening and was prolonged until half past eleven o'clock, when an adjournment was taken until Tuesday evening to consider communications and bills. The discussions during the meeting were so numerous and lengthy that that branch of business was not touched upon. The Council clock got tired and stopped before an adjournment was taken. All the members of Council were in attendance at the meeting.

T. M. Morris, representing the Jeaneville Iron Works, called attention to Council that payment for the pumps at Brandonville was due since last month and wanted to know what provision Council proposed making to meet the claim. President McGuire and other members said they were under the impression that payment would not be due until six months from last December, but the chairman of the water committee was instructed to look into the matter and that if the money is due to give the company a note for it.

Hon. B. J. Monaghan appeared and asked for a right of way through the streets and alleys of town for the Schaykill Telephone Company, which proposes doing a general telephone business throughout the region, from Shamokin to Mahanoy City, and from Mahanoy City to Pottsville. Mr. Monaghan says the company has 200 or more subscribers in Shamokin and vicinity. Ashland and Girardville have forty more, and from the sentiment of the business people in Shenandoah there will be at least fifty here. A great number is expected in Mahanoy City and Pottsville will have twice as many as either of the towns. The company will have direct communication with at least 500 people. The cost of the telephone will be $24 per year for each phone and $1 per month for each additional one. The company also proposes putting in a professional wire which, after eight o'clock in the evening, will be the only one in use and will enable any person to call lawyers, doctors and like professional men at any hour during the night.

The matter was referred to the ordinance committee and solicitor, with instructions to prepare an ordinance and report at the next meeting.

John Jennings asked for a grade at the corner of Laurel and Jardin streets and asked that the gutter be cut down. The matter was referred to the street committee.

William Fishburne asked to be exonerated from taxes. He said he was willing to work the taxes out on the streets, but the Supervisor had no work for him when he applied. He was told to apply to the Supervisor and he would get work.

Mr. Kane said the streets were being continually cut up by the steam heat, gas, electric light and other companies, and it was very discouraging, but the steam heat company had started to repair Main street. A report by Mr. Kane also brought up the Emerick street sewer nuisance and Solicitor Tomeroy read a lengthy opinion on the matter. Mr. B. J. Monaghan said he called the attention of Council to the nuisance nine months ago and nothing had been done. He said property owners were liable to sustain loss by tenants vacating houses. After some discussion the street committee was instructed to cover and extend the borough culvert on Emerick street.

T. J. James stated that the bondsmen of ex-Tax Collector Higgins were ready to settle the duplicates rather than have any litigation and would pay $7,000 next week, $2,000 thirty days after, and pay the balance in sixty days after the first payment. The bondsmen acknowledged a balance of $6,577.32 for the two years and the only difference on the figures between Council and the bondsmen is $74.95.

The finance committee and solicitor were authorized to make the best settlement they can.

D. R. James moved that the action of Council at the last meeting in refusing to exonerate the Shenandoah Manufacturing Company from taxes be reconsidered.

Mr. Straughn moved that the motion be laid on the table, which was carried, after which Mr. Straughn moved that the secretary be instructed to refer to the minutes of Council and see whether there is a resolution requiring that a certain number of hands be employed by manufacturing companies to entitle them to exoneration and this motion was carried.

Mrs. Ella E. Strong, of West Norwegian street, and Mr. C. H. Anderson were married in Philadelphia early last February, during Miss Strong's residence in that city. The matter has been known to their friends ever since its consummation, but this is the first publicity it has been given through the newspapers. Mr. Anderson will leave town in a few days for Pittsburg—Pottsville Chronicle.

Licenses were granted yesterday for the marriage of Edward Holland, a graduate of the HERALD office, and Miss Emma C. Eisenhart, and Anthony Grebilas and Agatha Dereszewicz, all of town.
