AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

One of the greatest annoyances that passengers on electric or steam railway druggists who sell their remedy small cars are subject to is the presence of a trial bottles, which can be had for ten drunken individual who labors under the cents each, so that for this small sum the impression that he owns the car and has reader can ascertain whether it is adapted the right to annoy and insult the passengers. This has frequently been the case on a pay night in electric cars and in some instances the conductors, when they attempted to exercise their author ity, were set upon by the drunken rowdles and assaulted.

The Supreme Court of Maine recently rendered a decision on this point which is of general interest and which should be made a precedent by other courts. A man named Robinson was a passenger in a car on the Rockland & Camden Street Railway. He was intoxicated and used profane and indecent language in the presence of lady passengers. When the conductor remonstrated with him Robin son cursed him and defied him to put 11 off. The conductor accommodated him and Robinson was compelled to go home "afoot and alone," as he alleged his complaint against the railroad company brought soon after, "wet, muddy and rheumatic." The case came up for trial at the Knox county court, and it is not creditable to the jury that the latter gave a verdict of $1187 to the plaintiff. The Supreme Court, however, saw the matter in the proper light, and promptly set aside the verdict, and in doing so enunciated a doctrine of iaw which will be rend with delight by any one who has stationery store, en North Main street. ever been annoyed by the presence of a drunken rowdy. The decision is as follows :

In this state the use of indecent or pro fane language in a street railway car is a breach of the peace. It is a crime for which a person may be punished by fine or imprisonment. And the conductor of the car may immediately arrest any person guilty of such a breach of the peace, and hold him until a warrant can be obtained, or he can be placed in custody of the proper officers of the law. Or the conductor may remove a person guilty of such a breach of the peace from the car. And in the exercise of this right the conductor acts as a police officer. When indecent and profane language is being used in his car, it is his duty to check i', used in his car, it is his duty to check i', June 6.—Lecture by Rev. T. Bateman, and he will be guilty of a breach of duty entitled, "That's the Man," in the P. M. if he falls to do so. And if, in a car filled with passengers, nearly half of whom are ladies, a man in earnest conversation undertakes to emphasize his statements. as some men are apt to do, by profanity, the law makes it the duty of the conductor to check him; and in each event it is the opinion of the court that he may rightfully be removed from the car, not as a punishment for his insult to the Druggist.

In one particular the Shakers 'excel all' other men or class of men. This is in the cultivation of medicinal herbs and and plants. They have made it a study for more than one hundred years. They are also expert in extracting from them their characteristic essences and medi cinal virtues

This is their peculiar industry. Their ives have been devoted to it. By it they are supported. They excel in this branch as do the Monks of the order of St. Benedict with their famous liqueur called Benedictine.

Now, this lifelong study on the part of the Shakers has not been in vain. They have accomplished much good. Their medicinal extracts and cordials are known throughout the world.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial is prob ably the most useful medicine ever given to the public. It is not a cure for all diseases; it doesn't pretend to be; but one disease it will cure, and that is indiges tion. It is not pretended that it will core auything else, and a sufferer has not long to wait to see the result. The effect is immediate. Almost the first dose will give relief, and, if continued, a permanent cure will follow. The Shaker motto is :- "Prove all things and hold fast that which is good." For this reason the Shakers put into the hands of the retail to his case.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not, therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. #### Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headathe, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifteen cents per bottle at A. Wasley's drug store,

We may not accept their peculiar re- Bovernor McCorkle's Tribute to West Virginia Miners.

STRIKERS PERFECTLY ORDERLY.

The Governor Declares That at No Time Has There Been Any Evidence of Intended Lawlessness-Alarming Reports Utterly Misleading.

WHERLING, W. Va., May 17.—Following on the heels of the interview with Goveron the heels of the interview with Gover-nor O'Ferrall, in which that gentleman decided that only the presence of Virginia troops at Pocahontas prevented bloodshed by keeping the West Virginia miners in check, the following telegram from Gov-ernor McCorkle, of this state, is not only important, but is a contribution to the interesting state of affairs that has arisen between the governors of the two states growing out of the refusal of the governor of West Virginia to grant the request of the governor of Virginia to allow Vir-ginia troops to cross the border. The dispatch is signed by Governor McCorkle, and is as follows:

"In Wednesday's dispatches to the press from Pocahontas you say: 'West Virginia miners are closely watched, as firing or the picket lines has increased.' This state ment does the West Virginia miners gros injustice, not a shot having been fired by any West Virginia miner nor by any miner, and not a breach of the peace has occurred. Nothing has been done by any West Virginia workingman to warran the suspicion that they intend to anything more than peacefully strike. The report were sent out by interested parties for a purpose and the motive is well known. Al the newspaper reports from that section have been utterly misleading, and highly colored, intended for the purpose of in fluencing public opinion. The four or five shots fired one day were not fired by any miner, and are now known to have been arranged for by other parties.

"It is absolute and utter nonsense to at tempt to dignify the proceedings in tha section by any suspicions of damage to the peace of the state. I am thoroughly familiar with the situation, and, without discussing the cause of the strike, will say in my knowledge no strike in this coun try has been ever conducted in so peace-able and law abiding manner, and the continued imputation that West Virginia miners are breaking the peace and invading other states with riotous intentions is disgusting to all who know the true sit

"When the first highly colored reports ome to this office every arrangement was made by me to vigorously preserve the peace of this state and prevent any law lessness. I would do so at every hazard My views on this point are well known But the attempt to make the world believe that our law abiding people are armed rioters, and that a peaceful strike is a tur-bulent insurrection, breaking the peace of our own state as well as others, is fraught with too much injury to our material in-terests to be longer borne in silence.

"This statement is confirmed by the sheriffs of the counties, by my own representatives on the ground and by the super intendent of the railroad. The latter fo a week has wired me daily saying that everything is quiet in that section, and such has been the continued direction of all correct information from that field. I make this statement in order that simple justice may be done our people."

Still No Disorder at Pocahontas, KEYSTONE, W. Va., May 17.—Pocahon-tas is quiet today. Many citizens from surrounding villages have come to look upon the situation from a business standpoint, but find little key to the situation. It is difficult to obtain any accurate information, and the new miners are being closely watched. Some apprehension was felt among the military of an outbreak last evening, and they were kept near their quarters. The old miners have been anxious to know how the new miners were doing, but the closest watch has been kept upon the miners and no one admitted in coal companies' grounds. Some of the West Virginia operators who are identified with the Norfolk and Western railroad. are here, and it is believed that an effort will be made to start up the mines in West Virginia by June 1.

Decreased Pennsylvavia Farm Values. HARRISBURG, May 17. - The state de artment of agriculture has issued circular letters to a large number of its official correspondents in all of the countles of th state, asking for estimates of the "average decrease in the actual value of farm lands during the past twenty-five years." Re-plies have been received from a large per centage of these correspondents. As was expected, this shrinkage of values has been greatest in districts remote from good markets, and varios from 2) per cent. in southeastern counties, to 55 per cent in northern and interior counties. Reports from Susquehanna county appear to indicate that the shrinkage in that county has been as great or even greater than in any other. A Northumberland county correspondent estimates the shrinkage of land in that county at 3314 per cent. upon a gold basis,"
