FIFTY YEARS A PRIEST.

The Jubilee of Archbishop Williams, of Boston.

DISTINGUISHED GATHERING.

The Occasion Made Memorable by the Pres ence of Mgr, Satolli, Cardinal Gibbons and Other Church Leaders - Governor Greenhalge Pays Tribute to the Archbishop.

Bosros, May 17 .- The celebration of the golden jubilee of the ordination to the priesthood of Archisishop John J. Will-lams, of the archdiocese of Boston, began at the Cathedrai of the Holy Cross with the celebration of a pontifical high mass of thanksgiving, which was celebrated by Archbishop Williams himself. The sermon of the day was preached by the Rt. Rev. D. M. Bradley, bishop of Manchester, N. H.

D. M. Bradley, bishop of Manchester, N. H.
Over 400 priests and distinguished men of the church were present, including
Mgr. Satelli, Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishops Corrigan, Ryan, Elder, Fabre, Chapelle, Ireland and Riordan, Bishops
Bradley, Healey, Keane, Michand, De
Gesbriand, Harkins, Beavan, and Tierney, and Rev. Poter Havermans, of Troy, N. Y., the oldest priest in the United States, having seen sixty years of service.
From the pope down to the humblest
Catholic under his care the archbishop receives some token of the affection and rev.
erance in which he is held. Pope Leo XIII erence in which he is held. Pope Leo XIII forwarded a gold medal and an autograph letter to the archbishop of Boston, to make known the esteem in which Archbishop Williams is held at the vatican. Mgr. Satolli, the papal delegate in this country.

handed them to the archbishop.

After the mass the archbishop entertained at luncheon at his own residence the apostolic delegate, the cardinal, the archbishops, bishops, monsignori and superiors of seminaries. Luncheon was served for the rest of the clergy in the dining rooms of the Working Girls' home which is close by the Episcopal residence

The presentation to Archbishop Williams of the golden challee on behalf of his Episcopal brothren of New England took place during the entertainment following the mass at the archbishop's residence.

The feature of the celebration last even ing was a complimentary banquet to the archbishop. The banquet hall was as densely crowded as the cathedral was during the exercises of the day. Tables were spread for 1,000 upon the capacious floor of Music Hall, while the galleries were filled with those who had come to listen to the addresses and look upon the chief reciplent of the honors of the occasion, Arch-bishop Williams, and the other distin-guished Catholic dignituries present. Archbishop Williams took his place at the head of the guests' table, with Cardi-nal Gibbons and Governor Greenhalge on his right, and Mgr. Satolli, Alderman Al len and Archbishop Corrigan on his left The menu was fittingly elaborate. After the banquet Father Ronan, of St. Peter's church, Dorchester, who acted as toast master, opened the exercises with a brief address, ending with an introduction of Rev. Thomas Magenness, who gave the addresses for the clergy.

Hon. Thomas R. Fitzgerald followed. responding for the laity of the Catholic Archbishop Williams then arose to make response to the addresses of representa-tives of the clergy and laity. The arch-bishop began by saying that this was the noisiest day that he had passed in fifty years.

"In reply to the addresses presented," he continued, "I have to say to my clergy that I have always had confidence in them and could rely upon them. The clergy and laity has always responded to any call made by me, and they have been most instrumental in the success of this arch-jubilee celebration. After a day of vari-ous emotions, in which I have heard a great many exaggerations of what I have done, let nie tell you that I have only been the standard bearer, and when you salute a standard bearer you salute all those who fought with him. In conclusion, I trust the Union will remain at peace; that the country will be prosperous, and that dear old Boston will have special blessings."

Mgr. Satolli was the next speaker, and after reading the papal letter his address was read by his secretary. After referring at length to the sincere affection of the holy father for the archbishop of Boston, the address refers to the pope's labors as archbishop and cardinal, concluding as

"Thus Divine Providence, by thirty years of episcopate, prepared him to be the supreme pontiff for this ending of the Nineteenth century, and from the narrow limits of a diocese has transferred him to a field of action which embraces the entire world. It is the opinion of the wise that one of the greatest blessings of God is the raising up of men specially fitted for urgent necessities when they present themselves, and there could be no more striking proof of the truth of this idea than that furnished by the life of Leo XIII. It would be difficult to say whether he had been prepared for the church at this particular period, or whether the church had been specially prepared for his wonderful activity."

Governor Greenhalge, of Massachusetts followed. His excellency paid both official and personal tribute to the worth and valuable life of the archidshop as a citizen of the commonwealth and a leader of men.

Cardinal Gibbons was to have spoken or the "American Hierarchy," but said he would ask the favor of being allowed to speak of a member of the American hier-archy, John J. Williams, archbishop of Boston. After this introduction the car-dinal delivered an enlogy on the archbishop and gave a historical sketch of the se of Boston since 1844. Alderman Allen, who was present in place of Mayor Curtis, spoke for the municipality. His remarks closed the day's

Today the jubilee was continued with religious exercises in the morning, and a visit to the Catholic institutions of the city will be made in the afternoon.

Mr. T. J. Driscoll, of Pittsburg, Pa., is one of these favored few. In the Pennsylvania oil regions he is well known, and the fame of his ability at piping natural gas spread to Canada. He was engaged by the Outario Gas Company, to pipe gas for Windsor and Walkerville, and while performing this operation, which he successfully accomplished, he made the discovery of a remedy which he speaks of as follows. We give his story in his own words: "I have been suffering with a kidney affliction which has troubled me more or less for years. I have tried many of the and taken up the subject, few, very few, affliction which has troubled me more or less for years. I have tried many of the remedies on the market for such complaints without any relief. During an engagement with the Outario Natural Gas Company, while piping the city of Windsor for natural gas, I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured some and commenced taking them with the most beneficial results. I have not felt as well in years, and I feel that it is all due to the agency of Doan's Pills. I feel like a new man, with an ambition in life, and wish every success due to such a wonderful medicine."
