

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE

Seventy-four Members in Contempt for Blocking House Proceedings.

HARRISBURG, May 18.—Warrants were issued yesterday by Speaker Walton for the arrest of seventy-four members of the house of representatives. They are in contempt of the house for absenting themselves without leave. Their absence prevented the transaction of business yesterday and forced an adjournment until next Monday evening.

There was a slim attendance when the house went into session at 9 o'clock. Seventy-four members were absent. The first session was devoted to the reading of the minutes. Then various bills were taken up on second reading. The Lawrence bill taxing bank stocks four mills on their actual value was called up and passed with only two dissenting votes. Much time was given to discussing the Cochran bill, taxing beer twenty-four cents a barrel of thirty-one gallons. Mr. Cochran amended the bill to exempt exports and beer in demijohns or bottles that is taken from barrels on which the tax is paid. The measure then passed second reading by a vote of 88 to 15.

Mr. Polz moved to proceed to consideration of the bill to prevent and punish pool selling, and the vote was taken by Mr. Polz. The vote stood 77 to 18, or eight less than a quorum. Sergeant-at-Arms Shoener was summoned to the bar by Speaker Walton and ordered to remove all strangers from the floor, lock the doors and permit no one to enter or leave the chamber. After the speaker's order had been fulfilled the roll was again called. This time ninety-five members responded to their names.

Speaker Walton then directed the sergeant-at-arms and his deputies to go on and bring before the bar of the house all members found in the city. The officers soon appeared with Messrs. Patches of Clearfield, Raymond of Erie, Tillman of Allegheny, Woodring of Northampton and West of Berks. All gave reasonable excuses and were excused. Seventy-four others had left the city without leave, and twenty-six had been excused.

FOR MEMORIAL DAY. Commander Cummings Issues an Order Relating Thereto.

Department Commander Cummings has issued an order relating to the observance of Memorial Day. The order states that twenty-seven years ago, in General Orders No. 11 of date of May 5, 1879, the then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, General John A. Logan, instituted Memorial Day, and then goes on to describe how the day has been observed. He then says: "Select suitable comrades to visit the schools before Memorial Day to teach the children the purpose and value of its observance and secure their attendance and participation; encourage the co-operation of our woman's auxiliary organizations; the Sons of Veterans and all kindred and patriotic societies and all patriotic and generous minded people; discourage inappropriate occupations and diversions; consecrate this one day to the memory of the patriotic dead and the honoring of the old flag under which they fought and under whose folds so many of them died."

"As a part of Memorial services, the department commander recommends that each post shall arrange for the preaching of a sermon adapted to the occasion, specially considering where feasible the themes, 'For what did the Union soldiers fight?' 'What has the country, civilization and humanity gained by the result?' It is particularly urged that every post attend divine service on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day. 'Where there are two or more posts located, a proper division of the duties of the day should be mutually arranged. 'Every post is expected to make arrangements for the proper observance of Memorial Day. The form of ceremony adopted by his department has been published, and copies can be had free by post on application to these headquarters.'

UNANIMITY SUBLINE.

That was the characteristic of a Shenandoah Party yesterday. From the first to the last, it was an unbroken line of agreement. It was an impressive affair, but significant of the same, and as unusual as to be noticeable and worthy of remark. Such was the caucus of ex-Councilmen of Shenandoah held in front of the Miners' Journal office yesterday, when the venerable R. W. Stout, the ex-councilman Archie B. Lamb, the scrutinizing Augustus Gable, the effervescent Morris G. Wurm, the penetrating Oscar Beteridge, the calculating Edward F. Gallagher, the diplomatic John E. Finney, all met by chance, compared notes, talked over old times and mutually congratulated each other that they are not in the same pickle as the present Councilmen of Shenandoah.

The ex-members who assembled yesterday all met on equal footing. Gable and Finney were like unto lambs in the same fold; Gallagher and Beteridge smiled on each other like doves in the one cage; but never objected once to a single motion, while Wurm looked at them approvingly, yet with wonderment, also evidently thinking that things were not always so tranquil with these old-time borough "dads."

Ex-Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Murphay, Who Guarded His Records, Speaks in Praise of Paine's Celery Compound.

Ex-Collector of Internal Revenue Thomas F. Murphay, of Maline, who was brought into prominence all over the country during President Cleveland's first administration by refusing to allow certain civil officials to peruse his records, heartily endorses Paine's celery compound. Mr. Murphay is a keen observer. He is a writer of no mean ability, has been employed as editor and editorial writer on several papers, is recognized throughout Maine as a forcible and convincing speaker, and is universally liked. At present he represents a big Boston house on the road, where his warm geniality makes him welcome to every hotel and railway train.

In the smoking compartment of a parlor car last week he was praising Paine's celery compound to a fellow passenger. The person to whom he addressed his conversation had been laid up with the grip. The malady left him in a bad way, a sort of depression of spirits and a disinclination for business. "I felt the same way," said Mr. Murphay. "After wrestling a week with the grip it left me depressed and weak. One flight of stairs was enough to make me puff and wheeze like a leaky bellows. A mile walk would almost floor me. Headaches began the moment I got out of bed, and I felt about as mean as any one could for the whole day. Hearing so much about Paine's celery compound I made up my mind to try it, and I'll tell you how it worked. It was like close applications of soothing lotions to a scorched finger. After a few doses I found that on retiring I soon dropped into sound, refreshing sleep. In less than a week I was myself again. My eyes, which are none too strong at their best, but which burned and ached till I began taking Paine's celery compound, assumed their normal condition and really seemed stronger than before the grip marked me for a victim. I can walk five miles now and feel none the worse for it. My wife and boy are taking Paine's celery compound this spring."
