RAID BY CHIEF TOSH.

He Pulled a Disorderly House in the First Ward This Morning.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE!

FOUR WOMEN AND THREE MEN WERE IN THE DRAG NET AND THEY ALL PAID FINES.

Two Men Made Their Escape—One Jumped Out of a Second Story Window—He Was Caught And Subsequently Released.

There was considerable excitement at half past one o'clock this morning at a notorious resort at the southwest corner of Centre and Bowers streets, kept by Charles Daniel. It was occasioned by Chief of Police Tosh and two of his officers, who raided the place and scooped in four women and three men. Two men got away, but they are known and Chief Tosh may scoop them in at some future time.

Chief Tosh had been notified that burglars were at work in the First ward and when he responded to the call he found a fight in progress between the men and women at Daniel's place. Tosh entered the rear door of the house with Officers Hand and Walaitis. They placed in custody three or four men and women and Tosh left Walaitis in charge of them with a drawn revolver. His instructions were to shoot any one who attempted to escape. Tosh and Hand then proceeded to search the house and when they got through they had in custody Charles Daniel and his wife, Maud Stewart, Pearl Cartwright, Mary Lewis, and two men, one an Italian and the other a Pole. The latter had $140 in his pockets. All paid a borough fine of $2 each for disorderly conduct and the costs and were discharged.

One of the parties who escaped during the raid was a man from Hazelton. The other is a Wilkesbarre man. He got out of a second story window to an awning in front of the building and then jumped to the pavement, almost into the arms of Constable Giblin. The latter caught and held the man and rapped at the door for admittance. He did not know what was going on inside and, as his prisoner made a very plausible excuse and no one responded to the raps at the door, he allowed the man to go. The Wilkesbarre man made himself scarce in short order and has not been seen since. Chief Tosh says Giblin was not admitted because it was not known who was rapping at the door and the officers inside had their hands full.

Chief Tosh says that this will not be the only raid to his record. He has his eye on a number of other resorts, among them several "quiet" places, and he will rattle them all if he gets half a chance.

If the Chief keeps up this work and does what he says he will display more fidelity to duty and more courage than any other police official the borough has had for several years. Others have made repeated bluffs at raiding disorderly places, but they have attempted the work in such a manner as to give the occupants ample notice and a chance to close the houses before the police arrived. Chief Tosh's action last night is in line with the officer's record as constable for years. He never falters in the performance of duty and whether his dealings are with friend or foe, he enforces the law to the letter, so far as it requires his action.

"Shore Acres."

One of America's greatest clergymen, Lyman Abbott, in speaking of "Shore Acres," said: "If the theatre would furnish us with more such plays as 'Shore Acres' the wholesale denunciation of the stage by the pulpit could not long survive." Manager Ferguson is to be complimented on having secured this great play and it is to be hoped that the attendance will be such as to warrant a return next season. All who see this play will admit that no finer comedy has ever been seen in Shenandoah. The company is first class in every respect, numbering twenty-seven people. Every bit of scenery to be used is new and is brought here from New York city where "Shore Acres" lately closed a run of 257 nights. This will close the present season. Don't forget the date, Wednesday, May 22nd.

KILLED BY A BLAST.

A Pole Meets Death in the Mines When About to Quit.

Charles Chuck, a Pole residing on East Centre street, was instantly killed by a blast in a breast of the Kenley Run mines just before quitting time last night. The exact circumstances of the death are not known, but it is quite certain that in his hurry to get through his work he cut a squib short and the charge went off while he was walking. There was only one wound and that was a crush on the back of the head. Chuck was a single man 27 years of age.

The mine officials say it is very discouraging to take great pains in making the mines safe for the workmen and then have accidents of this kind occur. Mine Inspector Stein made an inspection of the place this morning.

GONE TO SMITHEREENS.

The Shenandoah State League Baseball Club a Shattered Idol.

THE PLAYERS STRANDED.

HUNDREDS OF MILES AWAY FROM HOME AND NO FRIENDS OR MONEY IN SIGHT.

Some Will Go With The Franchise to Easton—Others are Soliciting Subscriptions to Pay Railway Fares Home.

State League baseball is a thing of the past in Shenandoah. The club that represented the town in the League went to the dogs yesterday, all efforts to re-establish it having failed. Up to noon yesterday all indications pointed very favorably in the direction of a good season, but suddenly one man pulled out and the whole thing went to smash. This one man was as the pin that holds a ship before it is launched. When he pulled out, away she went.

James McElhenny, P. P. D. Kirlin, E. B. Hunter and Harry Bradigan formed the syndicate that expected to take hold of the club. A check of $125 was in the hands of President Hanlon as an evidence of good faith. Yesterday morning Bradigan and McElhenny went to Glrardville and made satisfactory arrangements for support with General Manager Ash, of the Schuylkill Traction Company. Both gentlemen were in high glee when they returned at noon, but when all parties assembled at Bradigan's store in the afternoon all things changed color. Bradigan said he wiped his hands of the whole affair. He gave no reason, but it has since been stated that his brother objected to the base ball arrangement, because it would interfere with the business in which they are engaged as partners. As soon as Bradigan pulled out Messrs. McElhenny, Kirlin and Hunter said they were out, too, although they urged Bradigan to reconsider his determination. The others were not willing to embark in the base ball enterprise unless Bradigan would act as manager and no amount of persuasion could induce him to accept the office.

President Hanlon remained here overnight trying to pull matters together again. This morning he left town disgusted. It was Mr. Hanlon's first intention to hold the team together and send it to Reading to play a game there to-day. A share of the gate receipts would pay the team's expenses and take it to Allentown for the games scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday and by Friday the franchise would be transferred to Easton. This was looked upon as a very considerable action on the part of President Hanlon, but seven of the players refused to go to Reading, claiming they had played enough games without pay this season and were not disposed to take any more chances. Five of these were the men who came here from Ohio, among them Novins, Severs and Clark. They wanted to go home and wait around town taking up a collection to pay their fares. McGarvey was another of the players who wanted to go home and Lee, the catcher from Rochester, N. Y., was the other. McGarvey said it was his first experience in professional base ball and he had an impression it would be his last.

All the players were left in a lurch. It is said that not one of them had enough money with which to purchase a cigar. Hotelkeepers notified them that a bed and breakfast was at their disposal "for one run" and the invitation was eagerly accepted. This morning Lee left for his home in Rochester on money he received by telegraph. He said he would nurse the home fireside in the future until he meets an opening that is backed with something more than wind.

Of all the players Ford, the catcher, receives the most sympathy. He is a rather nice little fellow and was the only man on the team who seemed to try to play ball. His home is in Augusta, Georgia, and he is stranded here among strangers and without a cent. He traveled all the way from Augusta to join the team and says that this is the worst piece of luck he has met in all his base ball career. If they can manage to secure accommodations until about Friday next, Ford and Mattern may come out of their difficulty all right, as President Hanlon says they will be signed with Easton when that place takes the franchise.

Ex-Manager Brennan comes in for considerable condemnation at the hands of the public, whose sympathies are with the stranded players, notwithstanding they did not put up a good article of ball. This sympathy has been increased by statements of the players that they would not have thought of coming to Shenandoah had not the ex-manager painted a rosy future for them in his letters.

The managers of the Lancaster, Harrisburg and Reading teams are also very sore. Neither of them received a cent for bringing their teams here. The Lancaster man is out $75, the Harrisburg man $100 and the Reading manager is out $28. Had the deal been consummated they would have been provided for.

The fall of the deal has a disastrous effect on some town people. Brennan loses all he put into the team last year and this year. James Smith and J. K. P. Scheiffy are also out on what they invested last season. It is also said that Hon. B. J. Monaghan and M. E. Doyle are losers to the extent of about $300. The Central House is said to be a victim to the extent of over sixty dollars for board furnished players. It is a bad smashup all around.

Do not fail to enjoy the clam soup served as free lunch at the Scheiffy House tonight.

OBITUARY.

Another Ex-Chief Burgess of the Borough Passes Away.

Ex-Chief Burgess Jeremiah O'Connor died at his residence on East Centre street last night, in his 57th year. He suffered from stomach trouble for about two weeks, but it did not affect him seriously until a week ago. At the time of his death Mr. O'Connor was one of the assistants inside foremen at Indian Ridge colliery. He had been an employe at the colliery for about 25 years. A wife and two children survive the deceased. The children are Maurice, aged 14 years, and Nellie, aged 5. The funeral will take place on Friday morning. By the death of Mr. O'Connor the Annunciation T. A. B. Society loses one of its oldest and most respected members. The deceased was Chief Burgess of this borough in 1885. He was elected over H. J. Neumann in that year.

TRACY.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tracy, wife of John Tracy and sister-in-law of ex-Poor Director Tracy, died at her home on East Lloyd street, yesterday, in her 83rd year. She contracted pneumonia about three weeks ago, but had recovered to some extent when she relapsed set in with the result stated. A Former Citizen Injured.

Thomas L. Williams, the venerable father of John L. Williams, at Mt. Carmel, and Outside Foreman Williams, of Maple Hill colliery, who is living with the latter, met with a distressing and painful accident just as he was about to retire to bed last Saturday. He placed the palm of his hand upon the bed post, and when he bore his weight upon it, the hand slipped and he fell to the floor, the entire weight coming upon the arm, causing a fracture of the bones of the wrist.

Up to Date.

The truant legislators were saved a reprimand yesterday by the adoption of a resolution offered by Mr. Ritter. The delay in the passage of the apportionment bills means an extra session of the Legislature.

Our lawmakers are a little too slow. They should be prodded to do their work more promptly. There is entirely too many adjournments and too little business transacted.

Return the Books.

No more books will be issued from the public library of town until the second Thursday of June, next, but the library will be open at the usual hours on Thursdays and Saturdays to receive them, and all persons having books are requested to return them at once.

By order of the Library Committee, FRANK HANNA, Librarian.

Successful Picnic.

The picnic held at Wm. Penn on Saturday by the Wm. Penn Cornet band was a grand success in every respect. All who attended it enjoyed themselves immensely and the financial result was very satisfactory to the band.
