DEVELOPMENTS AWAITED.

THE MAN WAS PUBLICLY CHARGED WITH THE CRIME BEFORE JUS-TICE RYNKAWICZ.

He Was Having a Hearing on a Charge of Assault When a Spectator Claimed to Recognize

Him-In Jail.

Joseph Mundalwicz, a Polish resident of town, was taken to the county jail yesterday, to await trial on a charge of assault with intent to kill, preferred by a countryman. He was unable to get bail. While the case was in progress before Justice Rynkawicz a man in the office created a sensation by declaring that he recognized in the accused a man who was charged with murder at Buffalo, N. Y. and who escaped before he could be tried. The man was so positive in his identification that the justice at ouce relegraphed to a Polish priest at Buffalo requesting information as to the alleged murder and a full description of the man charged with the deed. He received a reply that a letter giving all information required would be forwarded at once.

When seen by a reporter last night Justice Rynkawicz said he knew nothing more about the case than what has been stated here. As the suspected man was unable to get bail in the other case no aggressive steps were taken in connection with the other case. He says that should the man be the suspected murderer he can be readily taken into custody, as he cannot secure bail and will be obliged to remain in custody at Pottsville until he can be tried on the charge of assault. The case has caused a sensation among the Polish residents of the town and they are awaiting the news from Buffalo with much impatience. The accused denies that he ever was in the city named.

A Curlous Engine.

The locomotive used on C. E. Titman's Oregon & Texas Railroad is in the shops at Fall Brook for repairs. The O. & T., by the way, does not extend from the state of Oregon to the state of Texas, but House tomorrow night to supply the is a log railroad terminating at Cammal, Pa., on the Fall Brook. The engine is a "hill climber" and a curiosity in its way. It works by means of cog wheels along a horizontal shaft, these wheels connecting the engine and tank axles. There are three vertical cylinders from which power is applied to the horizontal shafting mentioned. All this machinery is on one side only of the locomotive. The truck wheels are of the ordinary type and apparently the same as any other standard gauge engine. In company with a number of our citizens we made sev. pants 10 cents. eral trips to the lumber camp behind this wonderful engine and were amazed at the speed and safety with which le p hauled the train up the steep incline.

THE STRANDED BASE BALL PLAYERS RECEIVE VERY DISCOURAGING NEWS FROM EASTON.

A Game Will be Played for Their Bene fit at the Trotting Park Next Sunday Afternoon With a Picked Nine.

Late this afternoon a message was received from Allentown stating that the Easton people were not disposed to take the Shenandoah State League base ball franchise. The news had a very depressng effect upon the players here. They are without any funds and have been depending upon going to Easton. This afternoon the players made arrange ments to play a game at the Trotting park with a picked nine next Sunday afternoon. An admission of 15 cents will be charged and the proceeds will be given to the stranded men. The players are Mattern, King, McCoach, Carey, Mc-Garvey, Ford and Nevins and they will be assisted in the game by Hefron, Toole and Reilly. A strong team will be picked so as to give a game fully worth the price of admission.

Easton sports have not been so successful in securing enough money to encourage them in taking the franchise of the Shenandoah club in the State League. Shenandoah can, and may yet, keep the franchise. It remains with Superintendent Phillips, of the Lakeside Electric Railway, to insure this. A number of gentlemen of town are ready to go into the scheme to take hold, provided Mr. Phillips will give them sufficient en couragement to make it safe for them to

It is possible that, after the repeated failures, Shenandoah will be represented in the League. There is a better feeling prevailing for base ball since the last collapse. Chief Justice Fuller is now the most wailable person the Democrats could select for their standard bearer in the next Presidential contest.

If the Democrats are wise this year they vill do justice to one of their most conscientious men in their ranks by nominating Dr. S. C. Spalding, of town, lot Admiral Meade would make a popular candidate for the Presidency on the Republican ticket. He is a thoroughbred American and one who would be feared by all foreign nations. A. L. Shay, Esq., of Pottsville, will probably carry off the District Attorneyship in the Republican convention this year. His friends throughout the county are working hard for him. Unless the Legislature reconsiders its action of Tuesday, the Congressional, Senatorial, Representative and Judicial
