A Natural Gas Expert Makes a Dis-covery in Canada. — Canada Gets the Services of Our Natural Gas Expert and Gives Us, in Return, a Valuable Discovery.

Natural gas has become so important a factor in the increased facilities for cheaper manufacturing that many have turned from other vocations in life to study and perfect the modes of transmitting it to our larger cities, but out of the many who have larger cities, but out of the many who have seen in it a great field for improvement and taken up the subject, few, very few, become experts, and only those of peculiar adaptabilities can hope for success. Mr. T. J. Driscoll, of Pittsburg, Pa., is one of these favored few. In the Pennsylvania oil regions he is well known, and the fame of biblics of bitsburg. of his ability at piping natural gas spread to Canada. He was engaged by the Ontario Gas Company, to pipe gas for Wind-sor and Walkerville, and while perform-ing this operation, which he successfully accomplished, he made the discovery of a remedy which he speaks of as follows. We give his story in his own words: "I have been suffering with a kidney affliction which has troubled me more or affliction which has troubled me more or less for years. I have tried many of the remedies on the market for such com-plaints without any relief. During an en-gagement with the Ontario Natural Gas Company, while piping the city of Wind-sor for natural gas, I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills. I pro-cured some and commenced taking them with the most beneficial results. I have not fell as well in years, and I feel that it with the most opencial results. I have not felt as well in years, and I feel that it is all due to the agency of Doan's Kidney Pills. I feel like a new man, with an am-bition in life, and wish every success due to such a wonderful medicine."

Dedication of the Confederate Monument at Chicago.

A TOUCHING REUNION OF HEARTS.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

The Roses of the North and the Orange Blossoms of the South Bedeck Alike the Graves of Those Who Fought Bravely on Both Sides.

CHICAGO, May 81.-In one corner of Oak woods cemetery there have stood for years many rows of short white stones which mark the last resting places of 6,000 men who in the days between '61 and '65 wors the Confederate gray, and who, far from their homes and friends, scaled with their lives their devotion to the "Lost Cause." Today there stands above these lowly stones of white a tail and beautiful monumust erected partly by the sons of the southland and partly by men of the north to testify—the one their love for their gal-lant comrades fallen in the fight, and the other to the respect which hereic endurance and brilliant courage must always evoke when it is based, as was the endurance and courage of the men who sleep in Oakwoods, upon a firm conviction of justice of the cause for which they strove

Yesterday above those grass grown bounds the grizzled veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and the white haired warrior of the south clasped hands and realized that the war is over. The roses of the north fell in profusion upon the graves of the Confederate dead, and over the rest ing places of many of those who wore the blue were scattered the magnolia blos-soms of the south and by the hands of those who had flereely sought in battle the lives of the silent sleepers who lay

The dedication of the Con "relevate monument yesterday marked such a blending, or rather such an eradication of the two great sections, as the nation has rarely seen before. Side by side with the men who sent Pickett's brave Virginians against Gibbon's wall of steel on Ceme-tery ridge stood the men who stoutly hurled back Hood's mad charges at Frank-lin-Longstreet and Scholleid. Elbow to lbow stood the men who led the best blood of the south behind the guidons of Stuart and he who was the cavaller par excellence of Sheridan's famous cavalry-Fitzbugh Lee, Hampton and Wesley Mer-

There were present any number of other men who had borne their part nobly and with distinction, and others of the rank and file who fought as bravely and marched as well, but found no glory save that which hung around the colors of the army in whose ranks they fought. These men, who so often had stood against each other in the shock of battle, stood yester-day with eyes dimmed with tears while the cannon which had borne their part on both sides of the fratricidal struggle, and which will now stand around the monument, were spiked and forever silenced by the hands of their women.

This was the most impressive portion of the ceremonics-that of monumenting the guns. The four eannons used in the cere-mony formed part of a Federal battery during the war. They were captured from the Union forces in the battle of Murfreesboro, and afterwards fought on the Con-federate side in the battles of Missionary Ridge, Resuca, Dalton, Kenesaw Moun tain. Peach Tree Creek, Atlanta and Franklin. They were recaptured by the Federals at the battle of Nashville, and did service for the Union side during the remainder of the war. There was love and tears for all-fo Federal and Confederate, friends and for There were flowers and garlands for all, and if in the chance of war the men in blue had won the laurel while the willow was left for those in gray, no one perceived any distinction in the honors given to the memories of the departed warriors. Laurel and willow were intertwined, and, so enwreathed, were laid on grave and hung on

The Body of Secretary Gresham Taken to Oakwoods Cemetery.

AT REST IN THE TOMB.

CHICAGO'S SOZROWFUL TRIBUTE.

Two Hundred Thousand People Lined the Streets as the Funeral' Cortege Passed and Crowded the Cemetery Where the Final Services Were Held.

CHICAGO, May SL .- The remains of Walter Q. Gresham were laid in the vault in Oakwoods cometery yesterday afternoon, there to remain until the members of his family have decided upon a place of final inter-ment, either in Oakwoods or in some other concerner of Chicago. General Gresham oved Chicago and the city loved him. It revealed yesterday the affection it bore him and the esteem in which it held him when fully 203,000 people lined the streets through which the funeral cortege passed and crowdad the cemetery while the body of the nation's premier was being placed in the resting place from which it will be

Never in Chicago since the day when the dead body of Abraham Lincoln was carried through its streets has Chicago testified so fully her grief for the death of any one man. The streets and cometery vere packed with a crowd so dense that they could not be added to without suffo-cation. For hours before the time set for the arrival of the funeral train thousands of people stood waiting in the sun, which seat down upon them with a tropical lerceness. As the henrse passed slowly every head was uncovered in respect to the illustrious dead, and during the short services before the body was finally placed in the vault the cemetery for the distance of severa hundred feet around the vault was filled by a crowd which stood without sound or notion until the last of the rites was con inded. Every sphere of life which the dead had filled and advaned was represented by the side of his bier. The hands which bore his lifetess form from the car in which it had come from Washington were the hands of mon who had marched and lought with him in years gone by-the men of the Loyal Legion. The men who walked before the casket as honorary pallbearers were men who had sat beside him when he graced the federal bench and upheld the nation's laws with the frank a fearless spirit in which he had upheld its honor on the battlefield. There by the door of the open vault stood Grover Cleve land, the man who holds the highest office in the gift of the American people, and there stood other men-they of the Grand Army-whose hearts were full of love and the spirit of brotherhood of Walter Q Gresham

At one side of the vault were drawn up squadrons of the famous "lighting" Sev-enth cavalry, and in the background were the dark blue ranks of the Fifteenth infantry. They stood motionless at present arms, and when the last of the commitment service was over the buglars of the Seventh stepped forward, raised their bugles, and clear notes sounded "Taps. other military honors were given, and the ributes to which the exalted rank and minent services of the dead man so justly entitled him were, at the wish of the fam ily dispensed with. In fact, none were needed, for the fame of the manly man who had shone as a soldier, a jurist and a cabinet minister, is secure with the peode who loved him so well. Immediately niter the services at the tomb were concluded the president and his party took carriages and were driven to the waiting train, which started at once on the return trip to Washington. The train bearing the presidential party arived at Woodlawn station at 3:05 o'clock and started on the return trip at 3:54. The stay of the distinguished company in Chi-cago was therefore less than two hours. Secretary Morton and Secretary Carliale
