THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

A Special Water Meeting Held Last Evening.

WANTS ANOTHER PIPE TEST

At Its Next Meeting Council will Decide Whether Connections Will be Made to Properties at the Borough's Expense.

A special meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening to consider matters bearing upon the public water works.

President McGuire stated that a committee of Council and a representative of the contractors had witnessed what the latter called a final test of the public water works pipes.

Superintendent Betteridge stated that there is only about half an inch of cement at the bottom of the Fowler's Run reservoir and underneath nothing but a sand bottom.

On motion of T. J. James, the superintendent was instructed to have the dam repaired immediately and put it in condition to hold water.

Mr. Betteridge said the reservoir at Brandonville was full of water. The water is flowing over the breastwork.

The president urged the water committee to fix the water rates, so that connections may be invited.

A discussion as to who should pay for the connections arose. Mr. Gable said he was in favor of the borough making the connections, but the property owners should dig the trenches.

Superintendent Betteridge said that a number of property owners had told him that if the borough will make the connections and tap the water they will pay 50 cents per month for the first year, in addition to the mill rate.

The president asked the solicitor whether it would be legal for Council to expend money to make the connections, and whether the borough could borrow money for the purpose.

Solicitor Pomeroy replied that the borough could not borrow money without a special election, but any money it had in the treasury can be applied to the purpose.

A discussion of the test was taken up. Mr. T. J. James said the contract provided that the water pipes were to stand a pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch, while the highest pressure shown by the test was but 160 pounds.

Superintendent Betteridge said the contractors claimed they had asked Council to send a representative to witness the testing of the pipes at the foundry and it had failed to do so.

Mr. Kane said that was not the test Council was to be guided by; that the $6,000 withheld was to await the testing of the pipes after being placed in the ground.

On motion of Mr. Gable, the chairman of the water committee, was instructed to notify Mr. Quinn that the test made was not satisfactory to Council, for the reason that he had guaranteed that the pipes would stand a pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch.

THOUGHTS OF THE MOMENT.

Paraphrases on Odds and Ends From the Pen and Pencil.

It is gratifying and consoling, even when misfortune falls heaviest upon one's shoulders, to find that he at least has the sympathy of some of his fellowmen.

"As when a painting, pointing on a face, Divinely, through all hindrance, finds the man Behind it, and so points him that the face, The shape and color of a mind and life, Lives for his children, even at its best And fullest."

Shenandoah and vicinity has received its share of adversity and it is now in order for something good to come along.

The work performed by the firemen on Saturday morning should never be forgotten by the citizens of the town and those who are boasting of what was accomplished through the new water works should not, in their enthusiasm, forget the men who handled the water when they ask for facilities to perform the service.

The results of the last fire resembled in many respects those of the conflagration of November, 1883, but fortunately not to the extent that a second relief committee was required.

Its an ill wind that blows nobody good, and the electric railway lines are finding this out. The traffic has been tremendous since the fire.

The people in Shenandoah who were the first to see the fire are as numerous as the old women who lay claim to having heard George Washington make his farewell address, and singularly enough the proof of their assertions is similar in strength.
