Quietly Done.

At about four o'clock this morning some of the East Centre street ruins of the fire commenced to smoke freely and blaze up. Policemen Lee and Hand concluded that something should be done. There was too much fire to be quenched with buckets of water and yet not enough to alarm the town. Hand remained on guard and Lee notified Fire Marshal James S. Williams, who gave the use of one of the Columbia's hose carriages and Policemen Lee, Hand, Walaitis and Kerwin made good use of it without arousing more than two or three

Your Husband's Mother.

I will not call her your mother-in-law. I like to think that she is your mother in love, writes Ruth Ashmore in a very earnest article on "The Young Wife's First Year" in The Ladies' Home Journal. She is your husband's mother and therefore yours, for his people have become your people. There have been vulgar jests, riculous songs and coarse puns about the husband's mother ever since any of us can remember, but in how many households is the husband's mother an angel, not in disguise, but appreciated and leved? Now, will you take my advice and call her what your husband does? Will you treat her just as you do your own mother, not being afraid to tell her of your little affairs, receiving her as one of your own and making her feel happy in the fact that she has not lost a son, but has gained a daughter, and a loving, considerate daughter? Will you remember this, too-that before you name your husband was all in all to his mother? And sometimes when she comes to see you won't you leave those two alone and let them talk together as they did be fore the two became a trio? Don't make It evident that you are doing this, but go off for a little while and attend to some

Senate Amendments to the Religious Garb Bill Concurred to by the House - No Sensations Yesterday.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—The session of the Senate which was regun at 4 o'clock and lasted nearly two hours was devoted to the first and second reading calendar which was cleared and to the reference of the House bills to the committee on appropriations. A resolution was agreed to fixing the time for the opening of the morning session at 9 30 and changing the time from the afternoon session from 3 to 5, as has been the custom, to 4 to 6. Adjourned at 5:50 until this evening at 8 o'clock when House bills on final passage will be the MEASURES PASSED AND APPROVED. When the Senate met this evening at When the Senate met this evening at 8:15 there was a rush to report appropriation bills from committee and half an hour was spent in the work. The Governor informed the Senate be has approved the Woods' Bridge bill, authorizing the State to replace bridges over public highways destroyed by fire, flood and other casualties. The Senate concurred in amendments to these bills: House bill authorizing County these bills: House bill authorizing County Commissioners to furnish additional articles of supply; Senate bill for the licenses of buildings and other places, in theatres, circuses, theatrical and opera performances These House bills were passed as amended and were returned to the House for concurrence: Defining the offense of disorderly conduct; dividing cities into three classes with respect to population; exempting sewing machines from levy or sale on exe-cution or distress for rent; regulating the pay of election officers.

The bill to preserve the purity and prevent the pollution of streams and waters was defeated—yeas, 18; nays, 10; less than a constitutional majority voting for it.

The bill amending the liquor license law was defeated on final passage—yeas, 15; nays, 11, less than a constitutional majority voting for it. The Senate then read all the appropriation bills from the committee for the first time, Senator Grady asking this to be done. Adjourned at 10.30 until 9'80 to-morrow morning.

In the House,

The House met at 3.45 P. M. Fifteen minutes were taken up in receiving the pupils of the Chester Springs Soldiers' Orphans' School. The pupils were en route to their new home, the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School at Scotland. They were introduced to the members by Adjutant General Stewart. Mr. Lytle, of (Huntingdon), welcomed the children on behalf of the House.

Mr. Harvey, (Luzerne), offered a resolu-tion asking for a special order for the Sen-ate bill to repeal the law of 1878 for the division of counties. It is intended by this bill to shut off the people of Lower Luzerne county, who are urging the passage of the Quay County bill from having the power left them to create a new county by petitions, should the Quay County bill fail on final passage. The order was granted.

The General Appropriation bill was called up by Mr. Marshall, and passed

On motion of Mr. Marshall Senate bill 658 making an appropriation to the West-moreland Hospital at Greensburg, was recommitted; also the House bill making an appropriation to purchase certain ground at Valley Forge. A number of appropria-tion bills passed second reading, and a number passed finally.

The following House bills in the general calendar passed finally: To regulate the admission to the Soldiers' Orphans Schools; raising the ages from 14 years to 16; giving preference of appointments or employment to honorably discharged soldiers and esilors; for the protection of sturgeon.

The following bills were defeated:
Authorizing the Board of Health in cities of third class to regulate house draining, the registration of master and journeymen plumbers and the construction of cesspools; for the protection of game and providing penalties for violating the acts prohibiting bicycles and other such vehicles used, ridden or propelled by hand or foot, from ronning on sidewalks; author-izing the Board of Public Grounds to employ a capable person to superintend the construction of all State building. A short time before adjournment the latter bill was reconsidered and another vote taken on it when it passed finally, receiving 107 yeas

Mr. Fow, (Phila), said that the Senate amendment could not properly be con-sidered in the House for a similar amend-ment had been offered when the bill was in growther, flow, provisions less, voted down. The amendment he said altered the purpose of the bill by putting the penalty on the directors instead of the teachers as first intended. On agreeing to the Senate amendment the year were 130, and the nays 24; agreed to.

The House refused to concur in the amendments to the Judicial Apportionment bill as it came from the Senate and it was referred to a Committee on Conference.

At this juncture the Committee on Rules reported an order of business for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, which would be the consideration of Senate bills on first, second and third reading each day. BILLS PASSED AND DEFEATED.

The calendar of Senate bills on second reading was taken up and a number passed. The following Senate bills were defeated Authorizing the County Commissioners to keep in repair the course and bed of any public road within three respective counties, leading to either end of a county bridge; making it unlawful for Foreign Building and Loan Associations to establish offices or employ agents to receive or molicit subscriptions. The following Senate bills were defeated on second reading: Enlarging the equity jurisdiction of Courts of Common Pleas; providing for the incorporation of companes for the manufacture and production silver plated ware and of any other articles of merchandise by wholesale. The House adjourned at 11 o'clock until 10 A. M. to-morrow.

Contractor McAdams Calls Out the Sheriff But the Strikers Stayed

Awny.

Five bronzed and desperate looking Italians were placed in the county jail yester day, charged with rioting on eath of Frank Cavanagh, a timekeeper for William Mc-Adams, the contractor. There was a con-stable for each prisoner, and as the officers and prisoners marched from the depot to the jail they attracted considerable attention. The commitment was issued by Squire O'Brien, of Mahanoy City. The names of the prisoners are Frank Ross, Tony Johny, Frank Cross, Raphael Cunaro and Korah Hunaw. The men were arrested in their shantles at New Boston.

Contractor McAdams employed the men on his section of railroad which he is coustructing for the Pennsylvania Rallroad Company from Rock to Morea, a distance of one mile. When this line is completed the old road which runs almost parallel with it will be abandoned, owing to its unsa'e condition. Extensive strippings under the old road bed are now being made by the Dodson Coal Company and the new piece of road is being constructed to avoid all possible danger arising from mining operations extending to the sur

On Friday about 40 of the men quit work because Mr. McAdams would not increase their wages. The men were getting $1 and $1.10 per day, the latter being paid to a class of laborers known as rockmen. The contractor says he is paying standard wages and that the men get their money once a month. When a delegation of the foreigners demanded $1.10 per head for labor performed during the month of May, Contractor McAdams refused to accede to their demands, but when they followed this with a statement that they would not work for less than $1.25 a day during the month of June, he very emphatically told them they would not get more than they had here residue. been receiving. The men then indulged in threats and with a scowl on their dark visages, they left the works. About 30 of the foreigners who did not take a part in this controversy remained at work and their striking countrymen promised to make it unpleasant for them.

Saturday morning the strikers, to the number of 40, marched to the works in a body and drove away the men who remained faithful. A riot seemed imminent for a time, but as the strikers were armed and had an advantage as to force of numbers, the peaceful workingmen wisely concluded to offer no resistance. There was no work that day, and fearing that the strikers would offer the same interference, when his men would attempt to resume work yesterday morning, Contractor Mc-Adams called upon the Sheriff to give him that protection he was entitled to.

Sheriff Scott and his deputies, B. J. Smith and S. R. Beddall, with about 12 picked men, boarded a train on the Pennsy yesterday, and arrived at the works about 6:30 A. M. All was quiet, and there wasn't a striker in sight. Only a few of the men were on hand to go to work, the others etaying away because they frared violence at the bands of the strikers. The Sheriff and his deputies accompanied by Interpreter Sirrocco, walked up to New Boston and held a parley with the strikers. Frank Cavona, a padrone, who is looked upon as a high personage by his countrymen, keeps a supply house, and here the Italians were congregated when the Sheriff appeared. The men acted very orderly and said they did not intend to use violence. They simply wanted their money and when they got that they were willing to go elsewhere to seek employment. The Sheriff thought this was a fair proposition and advised the men to call on Contractor McAdams and state their terms. The officials followed by the strikers walked back to the works to effect a peaceable settlement Contractor McAdams informed the men that he Surrocco, walked up to New Boston to effect a peaceable settlement. Con tractor McAdams informed the men that he would pay them on the regular pay day, but not before then. He wanted the Sheriff to arrest the five ringlenders, but be declined to execute the warrant which the contractor had sworn out on the ground that he had no authority. He simply there to put down a riot if any existed and to put the rioters in jail. He could not, under the circumstances, make arrests, he said, as the men were not in-clined to commit any crime. When the clined to commit any crime. When the strikers heard Mr. McAdams' ultimatum they quietly left for their shanties and thereupon the Sheriff withdrew with his men and took the next train for Pottsville.

Some of the strikers returned to work.
It was after this little parley that the contractor secured the services of a number of constables and had the five ringleaders arrested and taken to jail. He says nearly all the strikers have since returned to
