THREE VOLLEYS REQUIRED.

Twice the Bullets of the Soldiers Sped Into the Man's Body After It Was Prostrate-The Culprit Was Brave Up to the Very End.

MADRID, June 5 .- Major Clavijo, the assailant of Captain General Primo-Ri vera, was shot this morning. At 2 o'clock Clavilo was awakened by the guard and the sentence of the court martial and the war minister's confirmation of the finding of the court were read to him. The con-demned man listened to the reading without showing any signs of emotion. He complained, however, that he had not been allowed to get a good night's eleop.

After the reading of the death warrant,
Major Clavijo slowly but in a firm hand wrote his indorsement upon the document conveying his sentence and afterward was visited by two cousins with whom he conversed for some time. He exhibited no signs of remorse or fear. After taking and carries it in stock at his marble and letters to his parents and his sweetheart. He occasionally spoke to his guards, and asked them questions as to the condition of General Rivers, whom he had attempted to kill, expressing hope that he would

The Ride to Death.

At 5 o'clock he was conducted to the prison chapel, where he attended mass and made confessions. He was then informed that his execution was fixed for 7 o'clock on the field of San Isldro. Though the guards were already under arms awaiting the order to proceed to San Isidro with the condemned man, there was some delay in starting, and the procession did not leave the prison until a quarter past 7 o'clock.

As Clavijo left the prison he was partly surrounded by priests, whom he saluted quietly. A carriage awaited him at the entrance, and as he stopped inside the vehicle, together with the priests, it was surrounded by an infantry gward and the march began. Arriving at San Isidro, Clavijo descended from the carriage with the air of a man who had come out for a pleasure drive.

As he alighted he was surrounded by the priests of the Brotherhood of Penance and Charity, whom he saluted gravely. One of the priests stepped forward and veiled the condemned man's eyes with a bandkerchief and then withdrew, leaving Clavijo standing alone awaiting the fatal moment. The splendid military bearing of the condemned man aroused the sympa thy of all present, the officer in command of the guard being noticeably affected, and there were traces of deep emotion in his voice as he gave the order to fire. Indeed. he and many others present were more deeply moved than was the condemned man

Three Volleys Necessary.

As the order was given to fire a volley there was a roar of musketry, and Clavijo fell with three bullets in his head, but he was not yet dead. Seeing that he moved, the order was given to fire another shot, which took effect in the chip, and as there was still motion in the body another shot was fired into his heart. Clavijo being then pronounced dead, the troops marched past the body and returned to their quar-

Clavijo, in his defense, claimed to have been persecuted by the captain general who, he asserted, acted under the influence of a demimondaine who had a grudge against him. He also claimed that the general had caused his pay to be withheld, REMEMBER there with the result that he became so distressed financially as to be obliged repestedly to appeal to the generosity of his friends. The judge advocate, however, de manded that the sentence of death be imposed upon the prisoner. Counsel for Clavijo pleaded eloquently for mercy on ground that the captain was not on duty when heattacked the enptain general, tha he had been twice placed under medical supervision on the supposition that his mind was deranger that he had gained promotion on the fit d of battle and on the ground that the imposition of a death sentence would be a severe blow to the aged father and mother of the prisoner.

In spite of this appeal, the court pro nounced the prisoner guilty and sentenced him to death, which sentence was carried out as already stated.

CARSON MINT SHORTAGE.

Only a Small Amount of Silver Discovered on Pickler's Premises

Canson, Nev., June 5,—A woman named Stewart caused the arrest of J. Pickler, with whom she had been living, for striking her. Later she told the attor-neys for John L. Jones, who is under ar-rest for being responsible for the mint shortage, that Pickler had a considerable amount of bullion from the mint secreted about his house and yard. Upon making a search the officers discovered several large pieces of retorted amalgam weighing 10 5 pounds, principally of silver. confronted with this, Pickler said it be longed to his brother in Idaho, who sent it here to be coined six months ago, but owing to the trouble in the mint be did not dare send it in. Pickler said it was worth $300, but the officers think it worth The smarch was continued.

The woman said that they would find gold granulations, but if there were any Plokler had disposed of them. She stated that Pickler had been stealing buillon from the mint for some time. Jones' at-torneys believe that this discovery will lead to something tangible soon. Pickler was in the smelting room under the Garnatt administration several years ago, and under Adams, the present superintendent, but was not employed under Hoefer.

Flynn was the pal of Fred Lockmeyer, who was agrested as a suspect in the mur-der case a few days ago, and who was aft-erward discharged when no convincing evidence was found against him.

The arrest of Lockmeyer was made on information furnished by the woman Kate Cromie, who had been arrested for disorderly conduct in the house of East Fif-teenth street, where Flynn and Lockmeyer lived. She told of the suspicious actions of the men on the afternoon of the Harris She afterward denied the story that she had previously told.

Flynn was said also to have been the pal of Louis Dittmetier, the alleged burglar, who was under arrest at the York ville prison at the time Kate Cremie was there and told her story. Dittmeier was accused of robbing the house of Jacob London, at 316 Fast Fiftieth street. He said he was the lover of Annie Shields of 615 East Fifteenth street, who had made the charge against Kate Cromle, Nothing incriminating was found on him when searched at the station house. Flynn is known among his friends as the "Junkman." His method in carrying out a burglary is to drive a wagon up to the corner nearest the house he may have in mind, then walk leisurely into the house, and, if not seen, take whatever he can get. When caught, he always make the plea that he was there to buy junk.

Two months ago he was caught in the room of Mrs. Edward Kelly, wife of the benker, at 17 East Thirty second street. Mrs. Kelly had just come in from a shopping tour. As she entered the room she saw Flynn walking over to her jewel case where there was $3,000 worth of jewelry. She asked the man what he wanted and he replied that he was there to buy junk.

He Got Off Easy. "Well, this is a queer place to buy junk," said Mrs. Kelly, and with that she caught hold of the burglar and screamed. A servant ran to her assistance, and the two women held Flynn while another servant went for a policeman, who arrested

Mr. Kelly appeared against the prisoner in the Yorkville police court the following morning. He found that Flynn had taken nothing from his house, and said he was not inclined to be hard with the fellow. Flynn received only ten days on the island.

THE PANIC IN JIDDAH.

Europeans Fear That the Bedouins Will Attack the Town.

SEEKING REFUGE ON SHIPS.

The Allied Powers Are Determined to Stand by Their Original Demands and a Conflict Is Regarded In London as Inevitable,

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 5 .- Advices reselved here from Jiddah, Arabia, the seaport town of Mocca, where the consular officers of Great Britain, Russia and France were recently murderously assaulted, announce that a panic prevails there and that it is feared the Bedouins will attack the town. The latter are held rewhich resulted in the death of the British vice consul, and a number of them were arrested in consequence. This has caused an angry feeling among the Bedouins, who demand their release and who threaten to use force if their demand is not complied with. The situation is so serious that the Europeans of Jiddah are hastily seeking refuge on board the morehant vessels in the harbor, taking with them all they pos-sibly can of their belongings. It is also stated in the advices from Jiddah that the arrival there of the Brisich Moditerranean squadron, numbering 17 warships of various classes, is auxiously expected even by the Turkish authori-ties, as the garrison is very weak.

In addition to the excitement caused among the Bedouins by the arrest of those supposed to have been connected with the assaults upon the foreign consuls, the Bedonins are dissatisfied with the quarantine measures which the Turkish government has been compelled to take at Mecea at the instance of the powers, in order to prevent the introduction of cholera into northern ports by the return of infected pilgrims

One Cause of the Attack.

In fact, it is believed that these sanitation measures were the real cause of the attack upon the consuls. The measures referred to were quite recently taken under evere pressure from the powers and at the instance of the Turkish international councils of health, for the purpose of cleansing the holy places frequented annually by so many thousands of pilgrims. These sanitary improvements began in April last at Jiddah and at other towns of the Hejaz, or pilgrim district of Arabia, and they include the building of hospitals, the frequent disinfection of the places re-sorted to by pilgrims, the selection by the health officers of the camping places, fur-nishing wholesome supplies of water and provisions and general sanitary supervi-sion over the pilgrims. To this new order of things the latter have been strongly objecting, looking upon it as an unwarranted interference upon the part of Europeans in their religious oustoms, and it is feared that the so called holy men are exciting the pilgrims against the Europeans.

It is known here that the pligrims are violently opposed to the erection of the sanitary hots outside of Jiddah, preferring to crowd togother in their usual dirty fashion in the slums of the city or in the filthy camps usually used by the pilgrims. Envoys Awaiting Instructions. The envoys of Great Britain, Russia and France in this city are awaiting instructions from their governments in regard to the situation of affairs at Jiddah as well as regarding the refusal of the Turkish government yesterday afternoon to agree to the referms in Armenia which have been proposed by the powers. In this connection the situation of affairs is unchanged. The porte's reply, however, is regarded as a momentary success for the military par-ty. On the other hand, the policy of Turkey in this matter is criticised by the Ot toman statesmen, who regard the porte's action as disastrous to Turkey.

Great Excitement In London. LONDON, June 5 .- There was much en eitement in London and at the foreign offlor on account of the receipt of dispatches confirming the dispatches from Constanti-nople, announcing that the Turkish government had refused to agree to the reforms in Armenia which were demanded by the representatives of Great Britain, France and Russia. All the foreign office officials, including the secretary of state for foreign affairs, the Earl of Kimberley, were at their posts, and have assembled again at the foreign office. There is a strong belief in well informed circles here that the reply of the porte was purposely drafted in unfavorable terms in order to gain time. The suitan is invisible during the Bairam, one of the two great Mohammedan festivals of the year, which has now will back this up by a naval demonstra The crisis in the cast is already recarded on all sides as being grave, and this feeling is intensified by the news from Con-stantinople today, telling of the panic at Jiddah, the threatened attack of the Bedonins and the flight of Europeans who are sucking safety on board the vessels in the hurbor. It is freely predicted here that an outbroak is inevitable. There is no question of the powers abating their demands in any form, although there is a growing belief that Russia is backing Turkey in the latter's refusal to agree to the reforms demanded by the powers for Ar-commenced. Consequently the powers, it is asserted here, will now address a stronger note to the porte, and in addition they

The full text of the demands of the powers was published here today. It makes over 8,000 words, and the main points of is have already been cabled.

Demands of the Powers

The note of the powers in this connection makes 12 distinct suggestions or demands in regard to Armenian reforms follows: First.-The eventual reduction of the number of vilayets. Second .- Guarantees for the selection of valls, or governors. Third. - Amnesty for Armenian political prisoners. Fourth. - Return of the America exiles Fifth, -Final settlement for comman law crimes. Sixth. - The inspection of prisons. Seventh. - The appointment of a high ommissioner to supervise the reforms. Eighth.—Creation of a permanent committee of control at Constantinople.

Nints — Indemnity to the Sassoun and other victims of the recent massacres. Tenth, - Regulation of religious conver-

Eleventh .- Maintenance of the Armenians' rights and privileges.

Tweifth.—Position of the Armenians in other vilayets of Asiatic Turkey to be regplated on the same basis.
