Senatorial Gossip Among the Schuylkill Members.

BLAMED FOR QUAY COUNTY

The Patriotic Orders and Senator Coyle-Judges' Retirement Bill Back in Committee-Au All Night Session.

HARRISBURG, June 7 .- The success of the Quay county bill and its probable chances of approval by the Governor has been the principal themes of conversation all of to-day. Crimination and secrimination are the order, Charges of the basest nature were heard last night and to-day in the corridor of the Capitol. Some of these were so pointed that they carried with them direct charges of the use of money as the controlling power by which the Quay county bill was carried,

HOW MONEY WAS BAISED.

It is well known that large assessments were made on business men in and about Hasleton to raise funds for the purpose of carrying the bill and a large sum is known to have been raised. "Of what necessity was a large amount of money raised, if it was not to make votes for this bill ?" is the question asked by many of the opposers of the bill, and they claim to have information which is reliable to the effect that many liquor men in lower Luzerne had to put up twice and thrice to meet the demands of the lobbyists. Some give their authority for their assertions. One man is in receipt of a letter from a prominent Philadelphia business man, who formerly lived in Pottsville, to the effect that (to use the lan-guage of his letter) "I had a man, Antone Wagner, tell me he paid one assessment $65, and then again $75. This is only one of many cases. Use it; it is straight."

A PASTER AND FOLDER'S CLAIM. There is a paster and folder here whose As the gossip is detailed to-day he is alleged to have said that if he had $2,000 he could have delivered 36, voten for the bill, and in the number several Schuylkill members' names were included. This coming to the ears of your members in the House they demanded that Senhe, the Senator, had him appoinced, as he, the Senator, had him appoinced. They said if Mr. Coyle would do that, they in the House would have the the resolution concurred in by the House. Mr. Coyle sent word back that the House people should first do the censuring and the Senate would concur, but one of the Representatives replied that as Coyle was responsible for the paster and folder he was the proper party to take the initiative. Nothing was done about it and in justice to employee it should be stated be denies the story, and especially that part of it re-lating to the Schuylkill county members. He admits, however, that he was in Huzleton recently.

IS MR. COYLE RESPONSIBLE?

Another gossipy sensation was created today by the appearance of the North American of Philadelphia containing the charge that Senator Coyle was indirectly responsible for the passage of the Quay County bill. When the paper resched here this morning it was eagerly grabbed up and the special to it in this subject was read and passed around among the people interested to be read again. It caused no end of talk and Senator Coyle's name was on many

The Senate and House will have late sessions to-night and the latter may not adjourn till daylight.

American is herewith subjoined:

Harmsbrad, June 6—The passage of the Quay County bill to-day in the House is another victory for Senator Quay and his friends. The bill creating the proposed county never had a ghost of a show until the Beaver man turned in for it. About a month ago he indicated the desire to have the measure pass, and his friends have since been active in their efforts to put it through the House. The fight for the measure was led by Senators Penrose, Thomas and Andrews Representatives Keyser and Burrell, and ex-Magistrate Durham, of Philadelphia. The forces of the opposition were marshalled by Major "sam" Losech, "Jack" Whitchouse, Senator Coyle, and the Luzerne and Schuyikill delegations in the House. It was the hardest fought battle of the session, and shows that Senator Quay has a strong grip on the Legislator.

Senator Quay has a strong grip on the Legislature.

The Representatives of the Junior Order United American Mechanics and other patriotic societies held the bainnes of power in the fight on this measure. They took no part in the contest when the bill was on second reading. Since then Senator Coyle has gone out of his way to offend the patriotic societies by his actions and speech ou the Reigious Garb bill. The result was that the members of the Legislative Committee of the Jr. O. U. A. M. turned in for the bill, and they claimed to have influenced 25 votes in its favor. Senator Coyle, more than any of the other opponents of the measure is to biame for their decent. The bill passed by a vote of 106 to 69.

REGULAR PROCEPDINGS.

advisability of passing such an act.

The Judges kettrement bill was recommitted on motion of Senator Grady, he stating that the triends of the bill had decided not to attempt to pass it at this session. Adjourned at 3 20 until 4 o'clock.

minority report to-worrow morning.

The Senate at 12 30 adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock this morning. In the House,

There was a slim attendance when Speaker Watton called the House to order at 9 o'clock this morning. There seemed to be a misunderstanding as to the hour of meeting, many being under the impression that the session would not open before 10 n'clock. A short time after the opening there appeared a quorum on the floor, and the business of the last day of actual legtalation for this session was begun.

The calendar of Senate bills on final passage was taken up, there being on it about 35 bills, but none of much import-ance. The Speaker said that if the House worked diligently that the entire calen-dar could be cleared in good time and would prevent a late night session.

The Honse concurred in the Senate resolution providing for the appointment of a Commission of five persons to investigate the system of bookkeeping in the charitable institutions of the State. tion was adopted pre-enting to Speaker Walton the chair and desk used by him At I o'clock the House adjourned until 3 this atternoon. The House met at 3 o'clock this after-Speaker Walton announced that the House would endeavor to clear up the calendar of Sepate bills on third reading and final passage this afternoon, so that the night session could be devoted to the consideration of conference reports.

Pending consideration of the General Appropriation bill the House adjourned at to meet at 7'80 P. M.

The House met at 7'30 to-night and will robably be in sessio a until morning. House refused to pass a resolution to ship the chairs occupied by the memiers to their respective homes after the adjournment. A number of tills were pa-s d and a few defeated and at 11:30 the House took

Killed a Mad Dog. A mad dog created great excilement at the Almshouse yesterday. The animal was discovered in the yard after it had snapped at several children. Then a number of men attacked the canine with clubs and Fireman John White wielded a sledge. The dog came near sinking its fangs into White, but a well directed kick drove it back. White and Night Nurse John Reese secured revolvers and poured lead into the But th ir aim was not very true and the dog ran away with at least a dozen bullets in its body. It did not go very far before a number of men working in a field killed it with shovels. Nobody was bitten, although the foam of the dog's mouth was left on a child's dress. No one knows who the dog belonged to. It was black and resembled the species known as the shepherd

Suloide Zimmerman.

The remains of Frank Zimmerman, who committed sa cide, have been removed to Wilmington, Deleware. L. W. Palmer, Wilmington undertaker, took charge the body. Philip J. Kern and Miss Mary Zimmerman, relatives of the deceased, arrived here and took charge of his effects. The father of the spicide is a merchant at Wilmington. Deputy Coroner Clemens held an inquest on the body.
