PENROSE ATTACKS FLINN

Money Reported for Investigating Committees Cut Out of the Appriation Rill-Proceedings of an All Night Session.

HARRISHURG, June 9 .- After an all night fight over the General Appropriation bill it was finally adopted at 8 o'clock Sat-urday morning. The House insisted on striking out the $20,000 for the Philadel-phia "Lexow" Committee and the $15,000 for the Committee to investigate the public schools, and won its point, the Senste re-ceding. The House opposition was based on the ground that these special Committees were composed exclusively of Senators.

The House became jubilant.

The last night of the legislative session of 1895 was one of absorbing interest, As the night hours were on and it became apparent that the House conferrees would not consent to any proposition in the General Appropriation bill which would give money to the Senate Committees to inves tigate the public and normal schools and the government of Philadelphia, excitement ran high. At 2 o'clock Saturday morning the senate took a recess until halfpast 3, and at that hour a fight was pre cipitated in the Senste, such as has rarely been seen in legislative halls. The battle started when the Conference Committee, consisting of Fruit, Penrose and Grady, came in and asked to be discharged, the being no prospect of agreement. Mr. Finn moved that the committee be continued, with instruction to recede from its position on the two amendments above poted.

PENEOSE ATTACKS FLINN. This was violently opposed by Senator Penrose, who in impassioned language at-tscked Senator Flinn. He declared that the latter was back of the refusal of the House Conference Committies to agree to the Senate amendments. On the question of the Penrose Committee's continuing its investigation should the money not be appropriated, be said that it mattered not at all about the appropriation except that it would look better to have the movement endorsed by the State. He could easily raise five or six times the amount necessary to carry on the work of the committee. In fact he had word to that effect from Philadelphia. If necessary, he would give his personal check for any deficit there might be, should the appropriation be reduced.

Senstor Flinn denied that he had not influenced the action of the House conference in any way, and in the discussion which followed the Senators from Philadelphia and Allegheny exchanged language more forcible than polite, each reflecting on the other's ability to adhere to the truth.

THE HOUSE GETS STUBBORN.

The sun was shining through the windows of the Senate Committee-room this morning when the final scene of the row between Senate and House over appropria-tions commenced. It was between 4 and 5 o'clock and all night long the Joint Conference Committee had wrangled over the two items of $20,000 for the Philadelphia Lexow Committee and $15,000 for the School Investigating Committee. The House was inexorable, and insisted that these two items must be stricken out. The Senate conferrees—Fruit, Penrose, and Grady—began to weaken. Then began offers to compro-mise which the House conferrees refused. There were numerous propositions submitted by Penrose and Grady, but they fell upon unwilling ears.

It was remarked that every time a new proposition was made, the House conferrees would retire to consult. This seemed strange to Penrose, and he made an investigation and found that they were meeting Senator Flinn, the right bower of C. L. Magee, and taking orders from him. made the Senate conferrees angry, and they withdrew from the conference and went to the Senate, where Penrose announced that in consequence of Senator Flinn's interferthe work of the conference he desired with Senator Grady to withdraw, and requested the appointment of the conferrees to take their places.

FLINN BECOMES INDIGNANT.

This made Flinn very angry, and he in-diguantly denied that he had interfered in any way. In fact, he hurled back into Penrose's teeth the assertions. Penrose insisted on the truth of his statement, and eaid that he and Grady had quit, and he intimated that the money for the Lexow Committee would be forthcoming, as it had been in New York. The Chair then appointed Mesers. McCarrell and Andrews to take the places of Penrose and Grady, and once more the conference met. Fruit submitted all sorts of propositions to the House conferences. He offered to make the Lexow appropriation $15 000 and the school investigation $5,000, but the House said no. Then heasked $10,000 for the Lexow Committee, but the House refused. It was getting on to 8 o'clock, and there was danger of no appropriations, for by a joint rule all bills had to be in the Governor's hands by 8 o'clock. hands by 8 o'clock.

The Senate conferees began to weaken, then they went to pieces, and finally agreed to recede from their stand on the two items. This conclusion was announced to both Houses, and the rule requiring bills to be in the Governor's hands by 8 o'clock was rescinded, so that the General Appropriation bill can be sent at any time before noon. Both Houses then took a recess at 9'30.

THE FINAL CLOSING.

When the Senate reassembled at 9:30 A. M. it disposed of the Heller-Laubach con-tested election case, awarding the seat to Henry D. Heller, and the latter was sworn After thanking Lieutenant-Governor Lyon, President pro tem Thomas, Chief Clerk Smiley and other officials the Senate was adjourned without day. At an informal session after the formal adjournment President Thomas was presented with a chest of silver.

WILL PROCEED TO INVESTIGATE.

The Senatorial Investigat on Committee held a meeting in the afternoon. All the raembers—Messrs. Andrews, Grady, Mc-Carroll, Hardenburg, Kennedy and Thomas —were present. Senator Andrews was elected chairman and Senator Thomas retary. The latter was authorized to em-ploy the clerks, stenographers and messengers necessary for the transaction of the committee's business. The committee will probably meet again next week to map out its plan of procedure.

In the House, Upon the reassembling of the House at 4 o'clock Saturday morning all bills on the calendar were dropped.

Mr. Boiles (Philadelphia), moved that the House adhere to its decision regarding the bill and that the Committee be continued. A motion to take a recess to 6 o'clock was then agreed to.

At 6 o'clock the House reconvened and Mr. Marshall stated the new conferees of the Senate had agreed to accede to a reduction of the items for the Phila-delphia and School investigation to $15,000 and $5,000 respectively, but the House reluse to agree. Then ac-other recess was taken until 9 A. M., and it met again at that time and adopted the report of the Conference Committee on the Appropriation bill with the items for the investigations left out. Another recess was taken to 10 o'clock and having reconvened at that hour, the complimentary speeches and thanks to the officers were made, including presentation of a set of silver to Speaker Walton and purses of money to the cierks, Messra. Schrink, Stewart and Spaugler were appointed to notify the Governor that the House was ready to adjourn.

Speaker Walton appointed the appointment of the following committees:

To Investigate the Number of Allens in Asyums-Messrs. Focht, Lytle, Comiy, Pascov, and Staples.

To Hepresent the Legislature at the Dedica-tion of the Anticiam Hattlefield Monument— Mesers, Niles, Hicks, Wyati, Schwarz, Ruck-walter, Funk, Raymond, Marshall, (Chester), Riebel.

To Investigate Convict Labor in the United tates—Messrs. Scott, Jones, and Zulick. At 12 o'clock the Speaker declared the House adjourned sine die.
