Petty Criticism.

Cyrus Small's time was largely spent in discovering the faults and shortcomings of things animate and inanimate, while Mrs. Small, as it seemed, was equally vigilant in attempting to bring forward something of which she could say. There, you can't pick any flaws in that:"

Once she thought this happiness would be hers. A certain man in the town in-berited large wealth under peculiar cir-cumstances. It was his under the law, but when the court awarded it to him he stood up and said that, in view of all the facts in the case, he believed that the prop-erty belonged of right to another heir. His action was generally looked upon as a no-

Mrs. Small was loud in her expressions

"Yes, I know," said her husband; "'twas a fine thing. Few men would have done it, and that's why he felt so awkward to stand up there and say what be did. He showed that be felt embarrassed by the way he stood."
"Cyrus Small! I should hope you would

"Oh, no I have no wish to criticise," said Cyrus, "but if I had been on the platform, facing all those people, I should have tried to tee out a little more."—Youth's Companyon.

He Got Half the Fine.

I man who had been on a bunting trip in the forests of northern Maine vouche for the entire truth of the following story, as he had it direct from the sheriff:

A man who lives in the Mount Katahdin region went into the office of a justice of the peace and inquired about the penalty for hunting deer with dogs, and very particularly as to whether one-half the fine did not go to the informer.

The justice consulted the game laws and assured him that it did.

"Very well," said the man. "I want to complain of myself and settle." The justice could not back out, and so gave the transgressor "a clean bill of health" upon payment of one-half of the penulty. It seems that the man got wind of the garon warden had got the drop" on him on his deer poachings with his dogs and was only waiting an oppor-tunity to arrest him; hence his shrewd bit of diplomacy.-Portland (Mc.) Argus.

Street Car Discipline.

The street car companies, like other concerns employing large numbers of men, have a system of rewards and punishment corresponding to those of the schoolroom. If a conductor keeps his record clear, he is moved forward in the list toward a job with better pay as fast as men ahead of him either resign or are discharged. If, however, after having been set forward 20 times, he comes to the barn a half minute behind the time fixed for taking out his car, he goes back to the foot of the list. If he is sick, he must send a man to sign him off, and if this man is a half minute late the consequences are equally severe. -Chicago Tribune.

"What does 'quartered oak' mean, fa-ther?" inquired little Dennis McKay, who had been reading the advertisement of a large furniture manufacturing company.

SUMMER SECOND

Most Critical Year in the Baby's Existence,

At No Time So Liable to Sudden Intestinal Disorders.

The Earliest Victims to Cholera Infantum

Extraordinary Care With Baby's Food Essential.

Weaning buby in summer is attended with peril when beat and improper feeding conspire to derange the sensitive stomach. As warm weather comes on children require the most wholesome, mourishing and palatable diet possible, and lactated food should be in the hands of every mother. Sudden changes of the atmosphere are langerous above all things to infants whose digestive apparatus is out of order, and the use of increated food is especially to be ommended because of its corrective influence in cases of irritability of the stomach.

Then, too, the mother who has tried hard to nurse her child, but growing weak and losing her own appetite until she is nearly worn out, and finds now that she must wean her infant while the days and nights are growing botter and more and more debilitating can do so, as thousands of mothers have done before, upon lactated

The infant will take it and grow strong and happy upon it. The composition of lactated food is simply this: Its basis is sugar of milk: with it is combined the digestive element of wheat, barley and oats, producing a pure food which meets every requirement of the growing child.

There is no secret about it. It is the food physicians use in their own families and rost generally prescribe.

Thousands of mothers have testified to he fact that lactated food has done what nothing else could do-saved the lives of their little ones.

No better evidence can be offered of its superiority than the many instances in which fretful, peevish and sleepless babies, as soon as put on lactated food, sleep all night and wake up laughing. The happy change, physicians say, is solely due to the superior nourishing and satisfying qualities of this lest of food.

It must be borne in £mind that lactated ood is so inexpensive that it is within the reach of every family.

CARLISLE AT LOUISVILLE.

The Government's Financier Renews His

Onslaught on Free Silver. LOUISVILLE, June 15 .- The large personal following of Secretary Carlisle in this city, and the keen interest felt by all classes in the currency question, filled Music Hall last evening with such a crowd as Louisville never before saw congregated on a similar occasion. For some time it had been recognized that this occasion would be something out of the ordinary, and nearly all the Democratic candidates Promptly at 8 o'clock Mr. Carlisle came, and was presented by Charles R. Long. His reception should have satisfied the most expectant. When the tremendous applause subsided Mr. Carlisle waded im-mediately into his subject.

Mr. Carlisle repeated his argument that the under valued metal would be driven out of the country by the adoption of a bimetallic system, and at some length paid atof silver was due to its demonstization. He said:

"It is insisted, it is claimed, that the fall in silver is attributable to the legisla-tion in Germany, the United States, France and various other countries during and since the year 1873, and most il-logically it is insisted that notwithstanding the reduced price of that metal, the re-sult of the unfriendly action of a great many governments acting in concert, and with a settled purpose, the United States alone can restore the value of silver. Of course, if it requires the action of twelve or thirteen different governments to bring the price of silver to its present state, it would seem quite clear that no one of them alone could restore it.

"The fall in the price of silver was not due to the legislation complained of, but to an enormous over production. Not-withstanding the fall in silver, silver mining continues to be a most profitable in-While the farmers and other producers are struggling to live comfortably and meet their obligations owners of silver mines have accumulated enormous

THE KEELEY GOLD CURE.

Some of the Secrets Bevealed by One Who Understands It.

PITTSBURG, June 15 .- In the taking of testimony to secure the pardon of Daniel Werling, the wife murderer, on the ground that he was insans when he com-mitted the crime, from the fact that he had taken the Keeley cure, Dr. D. E. Wiles, who for two years was in charge of the Pittsburg Keeley institute, for the first time gave out this much of the formula of the celebrated gold cure:

He said the treatment consisted first of internal treatment of simple tonics, of which cinchona was the principal ingre-dient. The second part of the treatment consisted of the hypodermic injection of what is known as the red mixture. This, ie sald, was composed of a portion of theine, eight to ten drops of hyoscamine and a solution of pilocarpine (one grain to the drachm), with morphia to suit the condition of the patient. The doctor said the pilocarpine was a strong relaxant, and that the other drugs caused a rush of blood that was particularly dangerous to men who suffered from fatty degeneration of the heart. He said he believed Werling was insane when he was discharged from the hospital.

Governor Hastings has already granted two reprieves to Werling on the ground of insanity, caused by the treatment of the Keeley cure.

The others went into the water to rescue him and all three lost their lives.
