UNCLE SAM AND SPAIN.
An International Commission Considered Probable.

SEVERAL CLAIMS TO BE SETTLED

We Have the Mora Claim Against the Spanish Government, While Some of Her Claims Against Us Have Remained in Abeyance for Years.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is not probable that an international commission between the United States and Spain will result from the urging of the Mora claim against Spain. This latter claim has brought up several others, and the situation is the same as that at the time the United States and Great Britain settled their conflicting claims by the Alabama commission, and France and this country came to an accord by the commission of 1881. At present the United States is urging the Mora claim, while Spain has an offset the claims for the invasion of Florida when it was a Spanish colony, and for damages to Spanish ships during the civil war. In addition to this there is the prospect that the Cuban rebellion will result in further claims.

It is said that the British claims commission gives a precedence to the subject. The treaty for that commission provided that all classes of claims should come before it. The Alabama case was only one of these, and the award was made in Geneva. Then the same commission sat at Washington and Newport and considered Great Britain's claims against the United States for damages to British ships during the civil war. This resulted in an allowance to England of $1,929,829. Subsequently the commission considered the San Juan boundary, and eventually all pending questions between the United States and Great Britain were settled. The French commission sat in Washington for two years and finally awarded France $295,506 for damages to French shipping during the civil war.

Officials who took a prominent part in those memorable commissions say that the claims between the United States and Spain can be settled in the same way, and that such an arrangement is not unlikely as a solution of the present controversy over the Mora claim. It is believed that Spain would regard this as a more equitable means of adjudication than a settlement of the Mora claim on the spur of the moment.

A commission between the United States and Spain, it is declared, has been desirable for many years, as there has been no commission since that of Feb. 19, 1871. This commission passed on claims of the United States arising out of the early Cuban rebellion, but no provision was made for passing on the several other pending claims. At the time of this commission Spain recommended herself to the United States by paying the awards as they were made from time to time, without waiting for the final award. Since then the old Spanish claims have remained in abeyance, although the Spanish ministers here have taken action from time to time to show that they were not abandoned.

It cannot be learned that negotiations for a commission have as yet been opened, although they are regarded as likely to be the natural outcome of the present circumstances.

Five Years for Forgery.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Carlos J. Pareira, who said that he came from Mexico last September, pleaded guilty to false pretenses and forgery, and was sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary. Pareira attempted to obtain money from a member of the firm of Ziegler Brothers, bankers, in this city, upon the strength of two forged drafts for $5,000 each. He also made use of letters of introduction signed with the name of a New York banking firm, which proved to be forgeries.

Liquor Men's Bonds Forfeited.

NEW HAVEN, June 21.—In the case of certain liquor dealers convicted here of the violation of the liquor law Judge Hotchkiss has ordered the bonds forfeited. This is practically the first instance of the enforcement of a provision of the law which the State Law and Order League has been for a long time endeavoring to have applied.

If it required an annual outlay of $100,000 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who would feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to risk their lives, and those of their family for such an amount. Any one can get this insurance for 25 cents, that being the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. One or two doses of this remedy will cure an ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for so small an amount? For sale by Grauber Bros., Druggists.
