

INSURGENTS DEMORALIZED.

Successive Defeats for the Men Fighting for Cuban Independence. HAYANA, June 26.—The band of insurgents recently commanded by Major Casallas, who deserted the enemy with a number of soldiers, and who were afterwards killed in the fight at the San Jose plantation, near Placetas, has been broken up, and is in a demoralized condition. Twenty-five members of the band have surrendered at Remedios, Calbarion and Placetas, all in the province of Santa Clara.

The troops came upon a band of insurgents in the Lajas mountains, near the Guira plantation, not far from Colorado, and captured fifteen saddle horses and five carbines. The three columns of troops which started on Saturday last from Honigolo Songo, province of Santiago de Cuba, in the direction of Gran Piedra, in order to attack the strong positions occupied by the insurgents in the Sierra Maestra, have encountered the enemy. The columns, consisting of 2,000 men, were under Generals Casco, Garcia and Navarro. The Navarro column has captured the insurgents' positions, with their camp, arms and ammunition. The insurgents lost many dead and wounded, and are being pursued in the direction of Siboney. Although the place in which the insurgent camp and hospital were located was thought to be inaccessible, only three soldiers were wounded during the engagement.

The insurgents colonels, Fernandez and Bello, wounded in the battle of Bocas de los Rios, in which Jose Marti was killed, are dead. It is estimated that their band was the best organized in the island.

A FRENCH DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Sad End of a Couple United Through a Divorce. PARIS, June 26.—A woman named Mme. Carre was formerly the wife of a Vienna banker named Baltizer. She employed Carre as counsel to obtain a divorce from Baltizer. The acquaintance thus formed resulted in her marrying Carre. The latter, however, had an intrigue with a married woman, whose husband threatened to get him disbarred from practice. Carre induced him to agree to a duel instead, whereupon the woman informed Mme. Carre of the intended duel, with a view to prevent it. Carre entered the room while the woman was revealing the affair, and, gathering from his wife's countenance that she was unlikely to forgive him, said that nothing remained but to kill himself. "I will die with you," said Mme. Carre, as she rushed to the dressing room and seized a bottle of laudanum. Carre's secretary, who followed, snatched the bottle away, and at that moment it shot through the board. Carre had committed suicide. He fell in the arms of his wife and secretary. His wife exclaimed: "I forgive you, my dear. I love you."

While the secretary was wiping the blood from Carre's temples Mme. Carre took the revolver from her husband's hands, rushed back into her dressing room and shot herself. Both died in a short time. The injunction made permanent. TRENTON, June 26.—The expected legal fight between the Spring Lake and Sea Girl Land association on the one side, and the mayor and common council of Spring Lake on the other, over the ownership of land facing on Spring lake, did not come off yesterday before Vice Chancellor Bird, the borough authorities of Spring Lake failing to appear. Vice Chancellor Bird then made permanent the temporary injunction granted last week restraining the mayor from tearing down five one story buildings which the association had erected on the lake fronts.

ORLEANS AND SAVOY UNITED

Marriage of the Duke of Aosta and Princess Helene.

LONDON, June 26.—Prince Emanuel Filiberto, duke of Aosta, nephew of King Humbert, of Italy, was married yesterday at the Church of St. Raphael, Kingston-on-Thames, his bride being the Princess Helene of Orleans.

The wedding ceremony was a brilliant affair. The route from Kingston railway station to the church was spanned by triumphal arches made dazzling with color by a multitude of French and Italian flags and ensigns, and by escutcheons representing the arms of Savoy and of the House of Orleans. Enthusiastic masses of people lined the streets of Kingston and cheered the arrivals most heartily. The Duke of Aosta is a young man of 25, the son of Amadeo, who, for a short time, was king of Spain, and Princess Marie Cisteria. Both his parents are dead. The Princess Helene is the third child of the late Comte de Paris, who married his cousin, a daughter of the Duc de Montpensier, in 1824. She is two years younger than her husband. Her older sister is queen of Portugal, and her brother, the Duc d'Orleans, is the son of the last king of France. She was born in England, and has few of the qualities of a French girl.

A Dispute Regarding the Bridgeton. KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 26.—A dispute has arisen here between the American and Spanish consuls regarding the character of the steamer Bridgeton, which put in here in a half wrecked condition, which her captain said was due to her having encountered a severe storm. She followed close upon the arrival of the George W. Childs, which is alleged to have landed a filibustering expedition in Cuba. The Spanish consul here alleges that the Bridgeton is a filibusterer, while the American consul and the captain and crew of the Bridgeton strenuously deny it. The British government has refused to take any action against the Bridgeton, on the ground that no evidence has been brought which shows that she is a filibusterer.

Mary Druse Pardoned. ALBANY, June 26.—Governor Morton has pardoned Mary Druse, who is serving a life sentence in Auburn for the murder of her father in Herkimer county ten years ago. Mary and her mother, Roxalana Druse, were convicted in Herkimer county over ten years ago for murdering William Druse, the husband of Roxalana and father of Mary. The mother first shot her husband and then chopped his head off, and finally chopped up the body and burned it. She was convicted and executed. Her daughter Mary at the time was 18 years of age. She pleaded guilty of murder, second degree, on advice of counsel, although it is alleged there was no evidence connecting her with the crime.

Irene Hoyt's Suit Compromised. NEW YORK, June 26.—The suit begun a short time ago by Mary Irene Hoyt against Hetty Green, to recover $100,000 damages for slander, has been compromised out of court by the parties interested. An order was entered by Justice Patterson in the supreme court discontinuing the action without costs. Miss Hoyt in her complaint charged that before Referee Henry H. Anderson Mrs. Green made use of the following language: "Did you ever see such a set of buzzards. Oh, it is sad to think of poor Irene Hoyt. Joe Choate and the other buzzards got hold of her, and she is in an asylum now."

A Reply to Bimetallists. LONDON, June 26.—The Gold Standard League association by way of reply to the recent bimetallic memorial, issued a long statement recounting the arguments against bimetallicism. The statement concludes: "The memorial proves the weakness of the bimetallic cause. After years of agitation and discussion, all that its advocates can produce is the proposal for a conference, in the vain hope that out of the conflicting theories and jarring interests there represented, by some process as yet undetermined, some cure equally uncertain may be found for exaggerated or imaginary evils."

Robbed of a Check for $125,000. CHICAGO, June 26.—School Agent C. C. Chase either lost or had stolen from him yesterday, in the corridors of the city hall, a check for $125,000. The money represented was to be used to pay the June salaries of the school teachers. The bank was notified and payment stopped. The only plausible theory entertained by the loser was that he was the victim of pick-pockets.

Bills Approved by Governor Hastings. HARRISBURG, June 26.—Governor Hastings disposed of twenty-four bills yesterday by vetoing two and approving the others. The bills which did not meet with his approval were purely local in character, and were vetoed because the governor deemed them clearly unconstitutional. Among the bills approved were: To prevent the pollution of waters of streams supplying centers of population by use of burial lands for burial purposes within the prescribed limits; authorizing boroughs to redeem outstanding bonds, and for that purpose issue and sell interest bearing bonds and provide a fund for the redemption thereof; to promote cleanliness and healthfulness in and about the public schools.

Y., June 26.—A woman about 25 years of age, giving the name of Mrs. Gunn, of Pittsburg, complained to the police here yesterday that her divorced husband had kidnaped their 2-year-old daughter while walking with his aunt on West avenue. The woman said the man jumped from a carriage, seized the child and drove rapidly away. Later developments show that the girl taken was the 4-year-old daughter of John Dwyer, a dry goods merchant of Pittsburg. The woman giving the name of Gunn was the child's aunt, instead of mother. Mrs. Dwyer is living here pending divorce proceedings from her husband.
