

"CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," thus making them strong, durable and waterproof. When soiled they can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. No other waterproof goods are made with this interlining, consequently no other goods can possibly give satisfaction. Do not forget that every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

Insist upon goods so marked and refuse anything else if offered. If your dealer does not keep them you can procure a sample from us direct by enclosing amount and stating size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

Out for an Outing.

The Shenandoah Outing Club left this morning for its second annual, common sense trip, "Roughing it in the woods." The club consists chiefly of school teachers and students, who find far more pleasure in the slovenly togs of a gypsy, in pursuit of happiness in the country, than in the tight fitting apparel of a dandy in pursuit of a dash in the city. The old camp officers were unanimously re-elected at the club's last meeting, having been found fully qualified by actual experience. Many new features will be introduced into camp this year, among them field sports and target practice, in which all the members will compete for high honors. The members are James Mollahy, W. J. Scanlan, J. W. Burke, Joseph Whitaker, Edward McHale, Arthur O'Hara and Daniel Ferguson.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Chailonette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with the grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having store I sent for a bottle and began its use, and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at A. Wasley's drug store.

AN ATLANTIC HORROR.

Collapsing of a Crowded Building in the City by the Sea.

ELKS WERE CELEBRATING THERE.

Fully a Thousand People Precipitated to the Floor Beneath, and Many Caught by Falling Beams—Many Legs and Arms Broken, but Only One Death Thus Far.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 11.—The social session tendered by Atlantic City Lodge to the visiting Elks at the Baltic avenue casino last night ended in a terrible disaster, in which fully a hundred persons were more or less seriously injured. The session had just opened, and only one of the speakers had been heard when, without the slightest warning, the building which had not been used for several years, collapsed, and fully a thousand persons were thrown to the floor beneath. Many women, the wives of the visiting Elks, who had been in the room, fully 25 persons with wives on the first floor of the building, and immediately beneath the banquet hall, were crushed beneath the timbers.

The fact that all the electric lights in the building went out at the time the building gave way added to the terrible situation. A double alarm for the fire department was at once turned in, and the city's entire force of 200 firemen and every police officer in the city were called to the scene as a hospital corps. The police ambulances and carriages of every description were utilized to convey the injured to the city hospital and to their hotels.

When the police and firemen arrived on the scene the excitement was so intense that they scarcely knew where to begin first. An immense crowd of people had been attracted to the place by the noise of the falling building and the cries of the unfortunate who were pinned beneath bricks and timbers, and the streets for several minutes were choked. Within a few minutes the police succeeded in clearing the space in the immediate neighborhood of the building and stretched ropes around to keep the crowd back.

In the meantime the firemen had set to work to extricate the wounded from beneath the mass of timbers, and they were aided in their work by the hotel keepers and residents near the scene. Every house was thrown open for the reception of the injured, and every available conveyance was pressed into service to carry them to their hotels. Meanwhile, physicians were on the scene and were doing everything in their power to all the unfortunate who had been caught in the crash. As quickly as the unconscious forms of a victim were taken out of the ruins, willing hands bore it to the nearest place, and everything that surgical skill could do to alleviate their sufferings was done.

The list of casualties so far reported is as follows: Frederick Clapthorpe, of Camden, both legs and arms broken, died soon after; James J. Armstrong, theatrical agent, New York, exalted ruler of New York Lodge, No. 1, both legs broken; Meyer Wolfe, Atlantic City, light house engineer, injured internally; Charles W. Tolwell, Camden, leg and arm broken; P. Eckman, Camden, leg and arm broken; Frank Bonson, clerk of the Hotel Traymore, this city, shoulder badly crushed and otherwise injured; Charles W. Foote, of Minneapolis, maimed and bruised; Detective James Doyle, of Minneapolis, badly bruised and injured internally; Miss Armstrong, daughter of James J. Armstrong (mentioned above), aged 11, arm broken; William Yarny, baseball manager, Baltimore, injured internally; Mrs. Flaischman, Philadelphia, both legs broken; C. M. Footen, arm broken; Nathaniel Duke, head and body bruised; Charles W. Farwell, Minneapolis, nose broken; a number of members of Jennings' band, of Camden, N. J., were injured internally.

The first victim to succumb to his injuries was Frederick Clapthorpe, of No. 518 Klammer street, Camden. He died shortly after midnight at a neighboring hotel to which he had been conveyed. Clapthorpe had been in the crowd on the lower floor of the building when the crash came. He was caught and pinioned down under a mass of timbers and when, after great difficulty, the police succeeded in extricating his body, it was found that both his legs and arms had been broken. He never regained consciousness.

It is now feared that many more deaths will result, and it is a matter of wonderment that out of the 200 or more persons who were on the lower floor none were killed outright.

Carelessness Costs Four Lives.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Two men and two women were drowned in the East river last night as a result of recklessness. Two of the women and one of the men were laughing, joking and struggling on one of the piers. Suddenly, no one knows just how it happened, they were precipitated into the water. Their names are unknown. The fourth person drowned was a young man who heroically tried to rescue them. His name is given as Michael O'Neill, a young steel engraver, of this city.

Minister De Lome's Vacation.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Minister Deputy de Lome, of Spain, left Washington yesterday for Boston. He will remain with his family in the resorts near Boston until October. The minister chooses this location so that there may be ready communication with Secretary Olney on the pending Cuban trouble. A Boy Commits Suicide.

CARLEISLE, Pa., July 11.—Albert Bucher, aged 19 years, a promising colored lad, who had been employed for two years in the office of George M. Pullman, at Chicago, came home from that city on Monday, and last night committed suicide by putting a bullet into his head. Letters left by Bucher showed that he had planned the suicide in Chicago and came to his home to execute his purpose. He had on several occasions expressed the fear that he was losing his mind.

Want a Mandamus Against Carlisle.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Washington A. Whaley and Harry Taylor, formerly partners in this city under the name of Whaley & Taylor, brought a petition yesterday for a writ of mandamus against Secretary Carlisle and Daniel N. Morgan, treasurer of the United States, to prevent the payment of a check for $17,350 in New York. They constructed two buildings for the military post of the United States at White's Point, N. Y., and their accounts have been approved by the secretary of the treasury. The above sum is still due. The secretary of the treasury has directed that the draft for $17,350 shall be delivered to Mr. Whaley and Mr. Taylor in the presence of certain alleged creditors. They object to these proceedings on the ground that the creditors are not bona fide or parties to the contract.

A Question of Veracity.

PARIS, July 11.—The Figaro reporter who wrote the alleged interview with United States Ambassador Eustis, which has caused so much comment, has addressed a letter to The Temps in which he states that he had denied the interview, stating that he was introduced to Mr. Eustis by Henry Vignaud, secretary to the United States embassy, on May 12 as an author. He says that he conversed with Mr. Eustis for three-quarters of an hour, and wrote and published the interview immediately afterwards. The writer concludes: "Probably Mr. Eustis did not know that he was talking to a journalist. This is the exact truth. I do not wish to discuss the matter further, and am only desirous of closing the regrettable incident."

For the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Fight.

DALLAS, Tex., July 11.—A diagram of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons building was displayed at Dan Stuart's office in the Astor building this morning. It shows an octagonal structure covering 400 feet of ground, or nearly four acres. The following are its grand divisions: Unreserved seats, 30,806; reserved seats, 17,893; seats in balcony, 2,403; seats for the press, 632. Total, 52,515. There never was such a theater built in the United States and possibly never will be again. The prize ring is in the exact center, and will be forty feet square, elevated four feet from the ground. The 632 seats reserved for the press will be next around the ring.

The names of the dead are: John Shaw, aged 38; John Bowman, 26; Thomas Webb, 50; James R. Shaw, 38; Edward Hughes and Charles Davis.

CORNELL CREW WEAKENED.

Badly Beaten by Trinity Hall in the Fourth Challenge Cup Heat.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, July 11.—The crews of Cornell university and Trinity Hall, Cambridge, rowed in the fourth heat of the trials for the grand challenge cup yesterday. The Trinity Hall crew won as they pleased. The Cornell crew, which led for half a mile with their rapid stroke of forty-six to the minute, went all to pieces after passing that point, three of the men being compelled by faintness or exhaustion to stop rowing. Trinity Hall crossed the finish line eight lengths ahead, while the Cornell men stopped rowing before they passed the judges, Fennell falling into the bottom of the boat in a fainting fit.

In the fifth heat for the grand challenge cup New college beat Eton.

In the third heat for the Thames challenge cup Kingston beat the French crew of the Societe de l'Encouragement au Sport Nautique, and in the fourth heat the crew of the Mousley Rowing club beat the crew of the London Rowing club.

In the second heat for the Steward's challenge cup the crew of the London Rowing club beat the crew of New college, Oxford.

In the third heat for the Steward's challenge cup the crew of the Thames Rowing club beat the crew of the Leander Boat club.

In the fifth heat for the Thames challenge cup the St. John's college, Oxford, crew beat the eight of the Anglian Boat club.

Trinity Hall's time was 7 min. 15 secs. The record time is 6 min. 51 secs., made by a Leander crew, and the cup was won last year in 7 min. 22 secs.

The general opinion is that the Cornell crew were hopelessly overtrained, and that neither climate nor malaria caused their defeat.

A Juvenile Murderer Confesses.

DETROIT, July 11.—Eighteen-year-old George Cheeseboro has confessed that he was the murderer of his grandmother, Mrs. Levi Piece. He claimed that his grandmother suddenly became offended at some thing which he did, and that she attacked him with a knife, and that he killed her in self defense. Mary Piece, the 13-year-old daughter, confessed that the killing was justifiable. Mary and her mother were having a wordy quarrel, and George, she claims, interfered and struck Mrs. Piece several violent blows with a store poker, and then throttled her to death. Mary did not interfere. Instead she assisted Cheeseboro in his attempt to clear up evidences of the struggle.
