TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

The People Satisfied With the Water Works Plans.

GALA DAY AT TURKEY RUN

The Residents Run After the Superintendent in Their Anxiety to Pay Rent For the Much Looked For Water.

Water is now the leading topic in town and in all quarters people are discussing the possibilities of the new plant and the probable effect of the Borough Council's action in cutting down the water rates to half the figures charged by the old water company. As thus far canvassed the people of the town seem to approve everything Council did at its last meeting and there is little doubt that the first year's duplicate will contain fully as many names as Council anticipate.

There is speculation as to whether the old water company will reduce rates to meet or beat the cut made by Council, but with the speculation there is a prevailing sentiment in favor of the public water works. Several prominent citizens were heard remarking last night that no cutting the water company may do will hurt the borough's duplicate. One gentleman said, "There is something that will work in favor of the public water works independent of the question of revenue and rates. I am not prepared to say what it is at present, but keep your ears open and you will soon hear what it is."

The first to swear allegiance to the public water works are the people of Turkey Run. Yesterday Superintendent Bettoridge, Ex-Councilman Gallagher and some workmen went up to the patch to make connections so that the people could get the long looked for relief. The actions of the people showed that the resolution of Council requiring the superintendent to enforce advance payment of water rent was superfluous, so far as that part of the town is concerned. As soon as the superintendent made his appearance the people ran to him in a mob with quarters in their hands to pay the first month's rent.

If Turkey Run had a band it would have been out yesterday. It was a gala day for the patch, as it marked the abandonment of trips to Maple Hill with barrels, wash boilers and other receptacles for water. People who own property in that section are also jubilant, as the introduction of water in that section will undoubtedly enhance the value of their holdings. Three hydrants have been located in the place for the present. Others will be located as soon as the contract for making all connections is awarded. The Turkey Run people have an excellent force of water. Among the first arrivals at one of the hydrants was a small boy with a big tin bucket. Ex-Councilman Gallagher turned the water on. It shot into the bucket like a bullet from a rifle and the people standing near were covered with spray. "Gee whiz!" exclaimed the small boy, "we'll have to tie the bottoms to the buckets."

The second of the loyalists to the public water works is the Phoenix Hose Company. The contractor who is to build the company's new building will begin work next Monday and steps were taken last night to make the water connections, which must be attended to at once. Mr. F. J. Brennan applied to Councilman Gable, chairman of the water committee, and received from him a permit to connect the property with the public water works. The company is to do the work at its own expense in order to do away with the delay that will attend the awarding of the contract for the general work.

Appropos the consideration of water in this town at this time comes the announcement that the HERALD's recent article concerning a project to connect Girardville with the public water works of this town proved a chaser. Capt. E. C. Wagner, the representative of the Girard Estate at Girardville, heard of the project and at once took steps to improve the water supply of that borough. Water was turned on from a second of the Raven Run reservoirs and the supply has since been much better, so that it is quite likely that the project will be dropped.

ANOTHER RAID MADE!

Chief of Police Tosh Continues His Good Work.

CITIZENS HAD COMPLAINED.

With Policemen Lee and Hand and Special Officer Mullahey he secures a Nest of Six Men and a Woman.

Chief of Police Tosh, Policemen Lee and Hand and Special Officer Martin Mullahey raided the house of Alex. Semianis, the saloonkeeper, at the south-west corner of Centre street and Pear alley, at about 10:30 o'clock last night. It is said that yesterday residents of the vicinity complained of the place as a nuisance and Chief Tosh detailed Policemen Lee and Hand to do detective work in citizens clothes in the vicinity of the place.

Shortly before the raid was made the attention of the police was attracted by a great noise on the second floor of the house. Chief Tosh was called and he and Mullahey entered the front entrance to the saloon. Lee and Hand went in the Pear alley entrance and subsequently Lee and Mullahey ascended the narrow stairway to the second floor. They found a door locked and demanded admittance, which was at first refused, but the proprietor opened the door after engaging in some discussion.

Upon entering the room the police found and arrested Mrs. Mary Fritz, of East Coal street, and six Polish men. The prisoners were marched to the lockup. Semianis followed them and raised a fuss in the lockup, but was ejected.

A short time after a second report of disorder was received from the vicinity of the raided place. Chief Tosh went back to the saloon and Semianis came out. He was in an ugly mood and addressed foul language to the officer. Tosh admonished the saloonkeeper to behave himself, but he failed to do so and Tosh took the man to the lockup.

Later in the night all the parties were arraigned before Chief Burgess Burns. The women and all but one of the men paid fines and costs and were discharged. The one who could not pay was remanded to the lockup. Mrs. Fritz is the woman who recently prosecuted Alexander Sands for assault and battery and attempted rape and caused Sands to be placed under $500 bail for trial at the next term of court on the charge.

Tumbled the Tamales.

The hot tamale man, who has become a conspicuous figure on our streets, was attacked last night at the corner of Main and Centre streets by four drunken men, who kicked his can of tamales into the street. Policeman Walatis went to the rescue and chased them to the pavement in front of Magargle's store, where the men turned on and beat the officer, after which they made their escape. The names of the men are known and warrants have been issued for their arrests.

IF YOU HAD A LOAD OF WOOD TO SELL
And told every man you met that you had a load of wood to sell, and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell, it would in course of time become pretty well known that you had a load of wood to sell, and every man you would not have any load of wood to sell. We have not got a load of wood to sell, but we have loads of groceries to sell and we are going to tell it to every body who reads this paper, and when these articles we will get more.
