

THOUGHTS OF THE MOMENT.

As Paragraphed by the Pen and Pencil Men.

Boys, as a rule, are famous for their capacity for storing away large quantities of provender, and a little fellow about six years old in size was no exception, the other evening, after purchasing one dozen bananas from one of the fruit stands, he sat down on a near-by curb and ate them all. A pile of "peels" testified that a workman is known by his chips.

Unripe green apples have made their appearance on the fruit stands, and are, of course, purchased by children. They have for years been appropriately styled "cholera pills." That they are in the highest degree detrimental to the health of those who eat them is too well known to require other proofs than those abundantly given in the past. The Board of Health should interpose its life-saving authority and promptly forbid their sale. They are a constant menace to health, and especially at this season of the year when diseases of the bowels are so apt to prevail.

The conductor of a Schuylkill Traction trolley car bound along Coal street noticed along the route strolling Italian musicians playing in front of dwelling houses. "If I had my way," he remarked to a passenger in the rear seat, "I would send all those dagos to jail. They make more money in a day than I do, and as soon as they accumulate a small sum they leave the country for their native land. I met the other day a man who rents out hand organs. He told me that he gets $5 a day for each one; but I suspect he was lying, for I don't believe any of the musicians can afford to pay such a sum and make a living. The people who give these itinerant musicians money wouldn't aid a starving man by giving him a bite to eat. That is the way of the world."

"It is remarkable how easily the people can be fooled," remarked a town grocer as he picked three big strawberries from a box, ate them and then gave the box a clever shake, which made it look as though it was fuller than it had been before. "There goes a woman who came to the store two mornings ago and bought half a pound of tea. She came back shortly after saying it was no good. I said 'all right,' I would give her a different mixture. Did I do it?" Of course not. I simply went back to the tea caddies, and when her back was turned slipped the same tea in a fresh bag and handed it to her. She came back today to tell me that the tea was just lovely."

We notice that the girls—pretty girls—God bless 'em, are making regular flower gardens of their lawns this season. And as the summer jogs along we observe that these gardens grow—just as though June's real roses and other posies were in it, and that the handwork of the flower factories in the cities and the milliner had nothing to do with them. If there is a prize being contested for to be awarded at the close of the season we can understand the matter fully, but otherwise the question stands. Flowers on hats are jaunty. They are always helpful to making a pretty face prettier, but there is limit beyond which it is not wise to go. By the way, the Knox hats worn by the ladies this year are pretty. They are an improvement on many of the styles lately introduced, but after all has it ever occurred to you, reader, that the old broad-brim white or yellow leghorn gave decided additional charms to a pretty face, and often helped a homely one out in a most generous way? There is something in hiding from broad view even that which is beautiful, making it all the more fascinating, and the old leghorn had filled that bill to the letter. If we were bosoning the summer hat business for girls that style of hat would be resurrected in short order.

"If all the gold in mint or bank, All earthly things that man can call wealth Were mine, with every title, rank, with I'd give them all for precious health."

Thus, in anguish, wrote a lady teacher to a near friend, telling of pitiless headache, of smarting pain, of pain in back and loins, of dejection, weakness and nervous, feverish unrest. The friend knew both cases and cure and flashed back the answer, "Take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." The distressed teacher obeyed, was restored to perfect health, and her daily duties once more became a daily pleasure. For lady teachers, salesladies and others kept long standing, or broken down by exhausting work, Dr. Pierce's "Prescription" is a most potent restorative tonic, and a certain cure for all female weakness. Two Murderers Lynched. CAMDEN, Ark., July 15.—At Hampton, thirty miles east of here, two negroes were mobbed by five white men. Two weeks ago a white man by the name of Martin was killed by three negroes. Two of them were arrested and confined in jail. A mob marched to the jail at midnight and demanded of the sheriff the surrender of the murderers. It was useless to resist such a force, so the keys were delivered to the mob. The culprits were carried to the neighboring forest and hanged to trees. The lynchers made no effort to conceal their identity.

Young Outlaws Sentenced. KINGWOOD, W. Va., July 15.—The four outlaws, "Bud" and Bill Smiley, "Hank" Harvey and "Archie" Patterson, who were convicted last week for shooting and seriously wounding Sheriff Leroy Shaw, of this county, were sentenced by Judge Hoke to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. These are the four Fayette county desperadoes who were arrested at the time the shooting occurred for stealing four fine horses last April at Browns-ville. Their combined ages aggregate only 83 years. "Bud" Smiley, the youngest, being 18 years old.

Cure for Headache. As a remedy for all forms of headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tonic to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at A. Wasley's drug store.

At East Palestine, O., wages are 61 cents per ton for mining.

Relief in Six Hours. Distressing kidney and bladder diseases relieved in six hours by the "New Great South American Kidney Cure." This new remedy is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by Isaac Shapira, druggist, 107 S. Main street.

When Dr. W. G. Grace, the English cricket champion, makes a run he carries with him 250 pounds of flesh.

Mrs. Ebbie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by Gruhier Bros., druggists.

Expensive Railroad Wreck in Ohio. WHITE SULPHUR, O., July 15.—Yesterday a bad wreck occurred at White Sulphur, on the Big Four, resulting in the wrecking of fourteen cars of whiskey, feed, tobacco and canned goods, worth about $75,000. Dick Hurley, a moulder, of Cincinnati, was killed. The cause of the accident was the burning of a journal.

Boundary Dispute Compromised. PARIS, July 15.—The Politique Coloniale announces that, with the view of avoiding a repetition of the recent conflict between French and Brazilian settlers in the disputed territory of Amapa, the governments of France and Brazil have decided to establish mixed posts in that region.

Chinan Murderers Captured. HAVANA, July 15.—The civil guard has captured two of the band who murdered eight persons at a store in an Jose, near Guanajay. Two of the gang, armed with machetes made a pretext of watering their horses, and killed a corporal of the civil guard who was pursuing.

half an hour. Warts on the face are especially disagreeable to have. Rub them with raw potato, or steep fresh beef in vinegar for 24 hours, and then apply at night.

Much sensation has been created in France by the proposal of the female conscription bill. It is a theoretical idea, and one very unlikely to be adopted, but should it be by some unforeseen chance the cooking department seems one of the most suitable openings for women.

Several persons whose adipose has increased to a disagreeable pitch and whose waist lines are in danger of becoming nearly if not entirely obliterated have found great benefit from striking the front of the body with the flat hand, especially after a hot bath. The rapid and smart concussion is said to break some of the fat cells, or at least to soften them so that they can be absorbed. One ingenious hygienist has invented a method of flagellation that is at once simple and effective. A number of lengths of very soft rubber tubing are attached to pieces of rope. With these the back and shoulders are beaten by throwing the tubes over the shoulders first one side and then the other.

The sketch shows a walking gown of blue crepon, with a plain godet skirt. The blouse bodice has a plain back, the front being arranged with a sort of plastron of taffeta matching the crepon in color. This plastron forms a box-plait, ornamented with two antique buttons and terminating at the top under a hand of guipure. Guipure frames the plastron at the sides and is carried around the shoulders behind. The sleeves are tight before the elbow, having a balloon puff above it. The hat is of rye straw trimmed with changeable ribbon and roses. JUDIC CHOLLET.

MILLINERY NOTES.

Roses of Surprising Shades—Fancy Pins and Buckles. Bonnets are decidedly larger this season, probably because fashion mixes her fabrics so inconspicuously and lays on color so vehemently. One model from Vior carried no fewer than 16 roses in four distinct colors, for nature no longer sounds the keynote of color. Flowers are reproduced artificially in all shades, natural and unnatural. The rose in particular is subject to marvelous liberties. She blossoms in purple and blue, and her lovely blush of red is toned to suit the modern Philadelphia. She is also garbed in crepon silk, and, in short, is subject to artistic travesties all round. The poppy is also now in every color and in crepon too. The orchid likewise suffers the same treatment. No botanical specimen escapes alterations and improvement at the hands of man, and the more it departs from its natural condition the more fashionable it appears to be.

It is a reeoco age. Both hats and bonnets are ornamented with a variety of ornamental pins, some with enormous heads, in many devices, from that of a gargoyles to a mediæval saint's head. These in French paste are the prettiest, and nowadays such paste is inexpensive, thanks to commercial rivalry. Buckles, buttons, links and various ornaments are all at a figure that almost any one can compass.

Straw is the favored material for hats and bonnets. It is produced in all the fashionable tints, butter yellow, tawny, copper and a curious shade of red. The plait is in many designs, some showing euphric excessiveness and some worked with creponed straps. It is said that Queen Victoria is very fond of straw plaiting, which is now becoming a branch of the great department of fancy work, a more useful and practical branch than many that might be named.

The illustration shows a gown of beige moure crepon. The godet skirt forms a double box plait in front. The bodice has a similar plait falling in a slight blouse. The belt and draped collar are of begonia green velvet. The latter adorned with two clusters of Russian violets. The skirt closes are plain. A white Louis Seize fichu of plisse mousseline de sole trimmed with white lace covers the shoulders. The tucks of beige straw is trimmed with begonia green ribbon and violets. JUDIC CHOLLET.
