ALLEGED ALIBI FOR HOLMES.

A Stranger Who Will Testify for the Accused Murderer. PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—That the defense in the now famous Holmes-Pitzel case, in which the former is charged with having committed several murders, among others the two Pitzel children recently found in Toronto, will be an alibi, was further proven yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon a French-Canadian, stockily built and with short black whiskers, called at the office of W. A. Shoemaker, Holmes' counsel. After a lengthy conference with the lawyer, who positively refused to give the name of his mysterious visitor, it was stated that the stranger had just arrived from Toronto.

The police authorities do not place any reliance in the alleged alibi, and believe that this is but another scheme of Holmes to escape the responsibility of the murders.

Assistant District Attorney Barlow and Detective Crawford have mysteriously disappeared from the city. It is believed that they have gone to Toronto.

Murdered by Her Children.

LONDON, July 19.—When the chief steward of the National line steamship France, now on his way to New York on board that vessel, reaches the United States he will receive terrible news. His sons, Robert Coombs, 13 years old, and Nathaniel Coombs, 11 years old, murdered their mother at Flitstow, an easterly suburb of London, on July 3.

DALLAS, Tex., July 19.—Galveston wishes the Corbett-Fitzsimmons glove contest pulled off on that island. The capitalists and business men of that city have appointed a committee to come to Dallas and make a proposition to President Stuart, of the Florida Athletic Club.

THE SPEEDY OARSMEN.

Hotly Contested Races at the Saratoga Aquatic Meet.

A GREAT EIGHT-OARED CONTEST.

One of the Best Ever Seen in This Country, Not Ten Feet Dividing the Three Rival Crews at the Finish—Won by the New York Bohemians.

SARATOGA, July 19.—There was a fitting climax to an afternoon of most spirited aquatic sport when the Bohemians, of New York, swung first across the finish line in the twilight after one of the most hard pulled eight oared races on record.

All of the other contests had been well rowed, and most of them hotly contested. But one stroke had marred the program, a foul in the final senior singles, for which Hackett, of Toronto, was disqualified, and because of which the race must be called again this afternoon.

In the senior doubles the Torontos and Rat Portage crews were the first at the course. The Harlems caught the water first, Torontos rowing 38, the Rat Portage 40 and the Harlems 36.

The Torontos were slightly ahead, followed closely by Rat Portage and the Harlems. When the mile was reached the crews were bunched, with the Torontos half a length ahead and the Canadians a length in the rear. The Rat Portage spurred and at the mile and an eighth, forged a little ahead of the Harlem crew.

At the stretch the Harlems and Rat Portage were on almost equal terms, but the Harlems crossed the line half a length ahead. The Torontos were about four lengths behind in crossing third. Time, 8:42.

All three crews started in the intermediate singles. At the half Jury, the Toronto man, was leading with Hobbs a close second, while Fisher had fallen to the rear about two lengths. At the mile Jury was two lengths ahead of Hobbs.

In the intermediate doubles the Dauntless crew did not come to the line. The Harlems caught the water first and pulled two lengths ahead before the eighth mile was reached, rowing 33 strokes to the Croscents' 37 and the Institutes' 30.

At the quarter the Harlems were a boat length ahead of the Institutes. At the three-quarter it was a procession, the Harlems, Institutes and Croscents about the lengths apart in this order. At the mile the Croscents were ahead, while the Harlems had dropped back of the Institutes.

At the mile and a quarter the Institutes had worked their shell ahead of the Winnipegs. The Institutes swept across the line a scant five feet ahead. Time, 8:43.

In the senior singles Hackett, McDowell and Rumbor participated. Rumbor had had dropped back two lengths and McDowell had taken the lead away from Rumbor.

But the coxswain of the Minnesotas had gotten his crew into a quicker stroke, and they drew up so that the shells lapped. The Tritons pulled stiffly, but Tesa, the coxswain of the First Bohemians, had his cap off and was cheering on his men.

HORR-HARVEY DEBATE.

Contestants Discuss the Crime of 1873.

THE FORMER DEFENDS CONGRESS.

He Declares That the Nation's Lawmakers Are as Honest as the Average Citizen, and Denies the Assertion That "Every Man Has His Price."

CHICAGO, July 19.—In the third day of the Horr-Harvey silver debate in the auditorium of the Illinois club the subject under discussion was what Mr. Horr characterized as the "Crime of 1873"—the demonetization of silver.

After some miscellaneous sparring Mr. Harvey charged corruption in the passage of the demonetization of silver. Mr. Horr, in reply, repudiated the inference that the citizens of the United States were all corrupt and sons of their women virtuous. He declared that it was not true that every man has his price. Members of congress were as honest as the average citizen. He (the speaker) knew whereof he spoke, for he had been a member of that body himself. Mr. Horr then took up the story of the demonetization act, and proceeded to show the stages through which it had passed, and that its final enactment was not till after it had been before congress for nearly three years.

Mr. Horr then returned to the attack upon the honesty of legislators throughout the country, including congress and the Illinois and Colorado legislatures. This quality was sapping the foundations and destroyed every republic of the past.

Mr. Horr again returned to the defense of the honesty of the American people. He said Mr. Harvey merely picked out a few corrupt men and drew from them the proposition that the people of the nation were all corrupt. Why, if Mr. Harvey had lived in Job's time he would have looked over that unfortunate man's sores and would have gone out and published throughout the world that all Chaldees was one immense carbuncle.

Mr. Horr then, amid laughter, said he would return to the question under discussion, and proceeded with the story of the demonetization of silver, pointing out how the bill had been read in full several times, and printed separately eleven times and twice in the reports of the comptroller of the currency. The debates in the senate on it occupied sixty-six columns in the Congressional Record. In the report of the committee it was stated that it had been examined line by line and word by word, and was finally passed. He would show that in so doing the senate knew what it was about.

Mr. Harvey, in reply, said that Mr. Horr would have to retreat from his position when the proper time came. In point of fact, the bill about which he had been talking was not the bill finally passed. Judge Kelly, in presenting the bill in the house, said that it was merely a codification of the mint laws. In response to a question Judge Kelly replied that the bill made no change in the value of the coins of the nation. In 1873, when the bill came up again, it was spoken of as a bill on a dry subject, and members lost interest. It was at that time that the first disclosure of the intention to change the standard of gold was made in a speech by Mr. Hooper. But there is reason to believe that the speech was not actually delivered, but was printed by leave, or that it was read from manuscript, and those words omitted. But no reference was made to the demonetization of silver. On the enrollment of the bill a clause was omitted, which had the effect of limiting the coinage of silver.

Mr. Horr, replying, charged Mr. Harvey with quoting a single sentence and leaving out the modifying context. The Record showed that this statement was made in the morning debate, and was not under leave to print. In the very speech referred to by Mr. Harvey the speaker said this bill provided for a standard in a "single metal," instead of, as before, in two metals, and that all coins, except subsidiary coins, should be of gold.

Mr. Horr then spoke on the demonetization of silver in 1873, as the result of experience in the use of the double standard. In 1871 Germany adopted the gold standard and threw on the market $300,000,000 in silver. It was this that set the world considering the silver question, not any goldbug conspiracy. The financial policy of nomination was never dominated by a conspiracy.

This closed the debate for the day, except the answering of questions by the disputants propounded by members of the audience.

The attendance was not so large, but was appreciative and generous and impartial in its recognition of telling points. On the request of Mr. Horr the further hearing of the debate was adjourned till tomorrow afternoon.

Victim of a Brutal Husband.

NEW HAVEN, July 19.—Mrs. Alice Colombe, 30 years old, lies at the point of death in Bethany, near this city, with both arms, left thigh and right hand broken and terrible scalp wounds. Her husband has been ill treating her for some time past. When officers were sent to her house to arrest him he drove them away at the muzzle of a rifle, and returning to his wife clubbed the weapon and dealt her the murderous blows with the stock. Colombe, who is now in jail, claims that his wife was unfaithful. The couple came from Holyoke, Mass., six months ago. The woman will die.

The Chester team won the first shoot, and the third and final will take place at Coatesville on Aug. 15. The conditions are 200 yards, standing rest, American targets, each team containing twelve men.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

PROF. W. N. WAITE, Of Amherst, Mass., Chewed Tobacco for 46 Years, and Was Cured by Narcoti-Cure.

AMHERST, MASS., February 8, 1893. THE NARCOTI-CHEMICAL CO., Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st, would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years, and of late have consumed a pound a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took NARCOTI-CURE, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days, all "hankering" for "chewing" disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining in flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say, use NARCOTI-CURE. Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

THE NARCOTI-CHEMICAL CO., Springfield, Mass.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about NARCOTI-CURE, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5.00 for a bottle by mail.
