THE NEWS GLEANINGS

A Mad Goat Holds All Comers at Bay.

FOUGHT A PLUCKY WOMAN

Justice Toomey Joined in Wedlock This Morning-He Made an Iueffectual attempt to Avoid Reporters.

A mad goat "ruled the roost" in the vicinity of the Cambridge colliery yesterday. It is not known where the animal came from, or how it happened to become affected. It kept everybody at bay and Hastings Club, called another meeting of Tower City, and his daughter are visiting had full sway for some time, when it concluded to seek new pastures and went away upon its own free will. No attempt was made to kill it and it is supposed to be still at large. When the goat first made its appearance a large black Newfoundland watch dog made a dash from the Cambridge breaker with the intention of giving the tomato previous action they failed to make it Grant and Herman Hesse and Miss Lou can demolisher a chase, but he slipped up on his calculations. As the dog rushed up the goat lowered her head and stood like a at 50c. rock, awaiting an attack. The canine halted for an instant and surveyed the enemy with an air born of surprise. Then he made a dash. This time he was met with a genuine surprise and went sailing through the air, propelled by a toss of the goat's head. The dog had hardly landed on the ground when the goat made an attack and poor Bingo was glad to seek the shelter of the breaker. Several boys attempted to champion the dog's cause, but they were also put to flight. The goat then turned its attention to butting shanties and fences and otherwise acted in a very peculiar fashion. A cow walked into the goat's path and was attacked by it. For a moment the cow seemed inclined to show fight, but the crazy goat was so vigorous in its attack that the cow finally took to its heels. Then the goat jumped high in the air several times and seemed anxious to turn a somersault, People who watched the animal say they
