CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP.

The readers of the HERALD receive this issue from the hands of an entire new management with the assurance that every effort will be exerted to conduct the paper in the future with all the success that has attended it in some respects and with better results than have been attained by others. We realize that there is to some extent a sentiment against certain policies of the paper as conducted under the old regime, and in order to leave no room for doubt as to the policy for the future we have been obliged to briefly refer to them and call attention as distinctly as possible to the fact that with the new management an almost entire change of policy takes place.

The HERALD will be a people's paper. Every effort will be directed to make it a welcome visitor to every home and business place in the town, bearing all the news of the day, with such editorial comments as the best judgment of the management may dictate. In giving the news we shall endeavor to furnish details in accordance with the importance of each item and with due regard to truth and authenticity, avoiding, whenever possible, any course that may tend to unnecessarily give offense. No newspaper can be conducted in such a manner as to please everybody at all times, or indeed, at any time, and we do not assume the control of the HERALD with the expectation that everything we may do or say will receive the approval of everybody; nor will we direct our energies to the attainment of such an end, knowing well that it would be a waste of time. We promise, however, to conduct the paper on a policy as much in accord with the opinions of the majority of the people as calm judgment, honesty of purpose and truth will permit, and we do not think the public can expect more.

In politics the HERALD will be Republican, standing ready at all times to maintain the principles of the party, avoiding all personalities whenever practicable, but reserving the right to criticize any who may attempt to use the party as a shield for improper motives.

Under the change that takes place in the management Mr. H. C. Boyer, the last of the founders of the paper, and who has been its editor-in-chief to the present time, retires with Mr. Joseph M. Boyer, his son, who has been the business manager and treasurer. Thomas J. Davis, Charles T. Straughn and Benjamin F. Parrott. Mr. W. J. Watkins, who filled the position of local editor under the old management, will continue in that capacity.

It shall be our endeavor to make the paper first-class in every respect, giving detailed accounts of important local events and covering with due respect to their importance all of minor character. At the same time interesting happenings in all parts of the region, especially Schuylkill county, will be duly chronicled, in addition to reliable telegraphic reports on notable events at distant points.

The columns of the paper will be open at all times for intelligent and fair discussion of all public topics, subject, however, to the judgment of the management, and all correspondents will invariably be required to furnish their names as an evidence of good faith.

Upon this prospectus we feel justified in expecting liberal support from the public and the encouragement which a large increase in subscriptions and liberal advertising and printing brings. We start out with an entire new plant of three printing presses and a full equipment of type for newspaper and job printing work that is second to none in the county. Not a line of type that was owned by the old company is included in it, as the old plant was completely destroyed in the disastrous fire of June 1st last. Our selection embraces nearly all the latest and best styles of type in the market, enabling us to produce up-to-date work as turned out by the leading establishments in the large cities. In dealing with patrons we shall be guided by a spirit that will go hand in hand with the character of our work and make each commission a recommendation of it.

To have a daily newspaper plant destroyed by fire, change the composing and printing operations from one town to another, change the management, restore the operations to the original town and open in a new building and with an entire new plant, all within the space of nine weeks, and without missing an issue, is an experience and task that only people engaged in the business can fully appreciate, and the HERALD can very aptly sing, "Home, Sweet Home."

THE HERALD is now published in its new home, which is a three-story structure, at No. 8 South James street. The new quarters are the most commodious and conveniently located of any the paper has had since it was published on Main street, before the great fire of November, 1889. We extend a cordial invitation to the public to pay us a visit.

THAT John Bull is not quite ready for the Socialistic ideas that have been coming to the surface in the Liberal party is quite evident from the result of the recent election. The quarrels of the Irish members appear to have helped regulate the issue in the background until some time in the twentieth century.

The cool region is passing through the worst period of depression our business men have ever experienced. If the collieries could have continued work for the balance of the year at full time Shenandoah would be a lively town in a short while, but the outlook is not very encouraging.

PROVINCIAL JUSTICES of the Peace seem to find the foreign element as profitable as birds do, and the day for calling Shenandoah names on this account appears to have passed. Mr. Hope can beat our first ward in its pinkest days.

SHENANDOAH has a good representation among the students of Girard College, and the lads are now at home enjoying their vacation.

ASTLAND is short of water. We have some to spare now. Bring your bucket up here, Brother James.

THE noble red man is still sufficiently amenable to make trouble and work for Uncle Sam's soldiers occasionally.

POLITICAL POINTS.

We sympathize with Capt. Edward Reese. He made a gallant fight, but the tide flowed too strongly for him.

It is rather humiliating to see the governor of a great Commonwealth being used to pull chestnuts out of the fire for a politician of the grade of Lobbyist Martin.

If all the claims made by the anti-Quay combine organs are as accurate as those made for Schuylkill county the Junior Senator will be elected chairman of the State Committee by an overwhelming majority.

Judging from recent developments, the Altoona needs men of business to direct its affairs and we hope the Republican county convention will see the necessity for a strong man morally, as well as politically, for the office of Director of the Poor.

Ex-Senator B. J. Monaghan, of town, is spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for Controller. Should he consent to run he will make a very strong candidate, as he is highly respected wherever known and has legions of friends in this end of the county.

The tide seems to be running Quay-ward pretty strong at present. While the mass of Republicans have no fault to find with Governor Hastings' administration, they do not intend to turn down Senator Quay to express their approval of the former. With the Governor it appears to be a case of "love me, love my dog," which, in the present contest, is not palatable to the majority.

The political card of S. Burd Edwards, who is seeking the nomination for District Attorney upon the Republican ticket, appears in this issue of the HERALD. Mr. Edwards is one of the leading attorneys now practicing at the Schuylkill county bar, and his ability as a lawyer is attested by the large clientele he commands. His Republicanism is of the stalwart kind, and in every campaign in which the party is interested he can be found battling for the G. O. P. His nomination would certainly add strength to the ticket to be nominated this fall.

Worn Out Women

Should read this letter. It shows the wonderful building-up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

"I wish I could stand in some public place and cry to alluring humanity, 'Hear this, ye people, what wonderful things Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me and my family.' I cannot express what I suffered. Only one of my sex knows what a woman can suffer in my condition. I was prostrate with nervousness and weakness. The least noise would drive me frantic. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am overjoyed to say that I am now well, hearty, rosy and plump."

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for those suffering as I have suffered. Mrs. C. C. KIRKPATRICK, Pine Grove, Penn.

THE STRIKE ABATING.

Two Thousand More New York Tailors Resign on Their Own Terms.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The principal feature yesterday in the tailors' strike situation was the issuing of bonded agreements to contractors. Of these 110, representing over eighty shops, furnished the required security, and 2,000 more strikers resumed work this morning. The strike though somewhat abated, is still on, and the strikers declare that they will fight until the contractors have all fallen in line and acknowledged their defeat by signing the new agreement.

About a hundred cloakmakers from the factory of H. Grosedel & Son quit work yesterday because the proprietors charged the workers with using cotton instead of silk thread in the making of garments. This the cloakmakers denied, and made a demand for fifty cents a day in the scale of wages, which was refused, and a strike immediately followed. The strikers were resolved with shouts of applause when they presented their demands at the general headquarters at Wall Street.

The strikers in a great number of the principal establishments on Broadway have been laid off, owing to the absence of workers to complete the garments. Meyer Schoenfeld, the strike leader, said that the struggle would not be straightened out for at least ten day more, as some of the belligerent contractors would have to be brought to their knees and forced to recognize the power of the Brotherhood of Tailors.

It is expected that the major portion of the strikers will be working before the end of the week.

A Polish Exile's Suicide.
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—August W. Kenkel, the Polish count, who shot himself Sunday night, died yesterday at the Michael Reese hospital. Kenkel's real name was Alphonse Wilhelm Djalinski, a count of Poland. An ardent patriot, he aided his country in its war for independence. He was selected for the most important of duties, and entered Russia as a Polish spy. After the subjugation of his country a price of 50,000 rubels was placed upon Kenkel's head by Russia, but he escaped across the borders of Poland and came to America.

The Unfortunate Negro Colonists.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The United States consul at Piedras Negras, Mex., has telegraphed the state department that 300 of the negro colonists have crossed the Rio Grande to Eagle Pass and 300 more are on their way to that point. He says the negroes are in a most deplorable condition, and while they are now being supplied temporarily with government rations they are generally without clothing and in many cases really naked. There is need for the extension of private charity.

Explosion by Blasting Dynamite.
HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 1.—Alexander Morton was killed and John Kolschaw and Messing Deringo terribly injured by an explosion of dynamite in the Lehigh Valley's Jeaneville colliery. The men went back before the charge prepared had exploded, and while they were standing on it it went off. Morton was taken to the hospital, where he died shortly afterwards. The other men are burned and bruised, but will recover.

Threatened by Forest Fires.
MANISTIQUE, Mich., Aug. 1.—Reports have just reached here from Whitesdale and Culliver, two small towns about fifteen miles east of here, on the Sault Ste. Marie railway, that those two places are in great danger of destruction by forest fires, which are raging in all sections of the country. Help was wired for and thirty-five men were at once sent there on a special train.

Charged with Murderous Assault.
CAPE MAY, Aug. 1.—Assistant Postmaster Blinn, of Woodbine, N. J., was held under bail by Justice Holmes to await the action of the September grand jury, on the charge of murdering assaulting L. M. Hess, of the West Jersey railroad, at that place. Blinn had some wood stored on the railroad premises, and was ordered to move it. The argument ended in the alleged assault.

Dixon Won on a Foul.
BOSTON, Aug. 1.—George Dixon, the champion featherweight pugilist of the world, last night won on a foul, in the fourth round, a contest with Tommy Connely, ex-amateur featherweight champion pugilist of the world. The fight was under the auspices of the Union Athletic club, in Union Park Hall.

John L. Wants a Saloon.
BOSTON, Aug. 1.—John L. Sullivan, pugilistic ex-champion of the world, desires to re-enter the retail liquor business. He called upon the police commissioners yesterday to find out what his chances were for a license, but they were unable to tell him definitely whether he might have one or not.

A Noted Architect Dead.
NEWPORT R. I., Aug. 1.—Richard M. Hunt, the architect of the Administration building at the World's fair, of the new Cornellus Vanderbilt villa here, and many other prominent buildings of high-class architecture, died at his summer residence here yesterday, aged 66, after an illness of two weeks.

A Physician's Suicide.
MOOREHEAD, Mo., Aug. 1.—Dr. A. E. Robinson, manager of the gold ore institute here, cut his throat yesterday, and died soon afterwards. Robinson was formerly a lawyer in good circumstances, and was married to the daughter of General Weaver, of Iowa.

Blown Up by Burglars.
THOMPSON, Ga., Aug. 1.—A stone house that joined the depot platform was blown up by a dynamite explosion during the night, which is supposed to have been the work of burglars. By hard work the depot was saved and the fire prevented from spreading.

FACIAL HUMOURS

Prevented by Cuticura Soap.

ASHATED TO BE SEEN because of disgusting facial humours is the condition of thousands who live in ignorance of the fact that in CUTICURA SOAP is to be found the purest, sweetest, and most effective skin purifier and beautifier in the world. For pimples, blackheads, red and oily skin, red, rough hands with shapeless cuts, dry, thin, and falling hair, it is wonderful.

SHE SPOKE HER MIND.

But She Didn't Know She Was Talking to Her Enemy.

When the car stopped at Monroe and Dearborn streets, a stout, matronly looking woman, with her arms full of bundles, got on. She dropped one of the bundles as she did so, and another portly female picked it up for her. Their eyes met, and a confused look of recognition came into them.

"It's a nice day," tentatively remarked the woman who had picked up the bundle. "Yes, indeed. I declare your face is so familiar I must have met you somewhere." "That's just what I was thinking. At church maybe or some kind of a meeting."

"Yes, or a funeral. Say I believe it was at Mrs. Walker's funeral, on State street."

"No, I haven't seen you since. Been to see the Walkers lately?" "No, I haven't. My nurse girl up and left me, and I haven't had a minute's time to myself."

"Now, that too bad. I've got a good one today, I tell you. Why, I don't even have to hide the novels when I go out and leave her with the children."

"Well, keep her close. Mine was a good one and well contented, too, but one day when she was out a woman—I won't call her a lady, not she wore lace and diamonds—persuaded her away. She was wearing a dress and cap and apron. I got her so's she'd look neat, and that woman liked her so well that she offered her a place at 50 cents a week more than I was giving her, yes, and told her there was a barber shop right around the corner from her house."

"You—you don't say so? Why, those flowers in that store are lovely! Mrs. Walker got some elegant ones at her funeral, didn't she?" "Indeed she did. The girl up and left me that night. If you see any of the Walkers, tell them I've been too busy to call, and, say, just tell them how I lost that good nurse girl I told them I had."

"I—I don't often see them myself. Quite a cool spell we've had, wasn't it?" "Yes, indeed. And would you believe it that girl didn't want to leave the dress I'd given her and said it wouldn't fit the new girl anyhow. I told her I'd make it fit."

"M'hm! I hope the fruit isn't hurt much." "I hope not. Did you ever hear of such a mean trick as that woman did? Mrs. Bigger's, her name is, and if I ever lay eyes on her I'll tell her just what—My! Do you get off here? You live a long way from where I thought you did."

As she settled back in her seat she said to the young woman with her: "Nice lady, isn't she? I'd have introduced you, but I couldn't just remember her name. French adopted this system of transmission of their correspondence. The communications were printed and then microphotographed onto thin films of collodion. Each pellicle contained the reproduction of 16 folio pages of type and was so light that 50,000 messages could be carried by one pigeon. To insure safe transit the films were rolled up and placed in a quill which was fastened to one of the tail feathers of the pigeon. Upon arrival of the messenger at its destination the films were unrolled and thrown on a canvas by means of an electric lantern, copied by clerks and dispatched to their destination. Later sensitive paper was substituted for the canvas, and the letters were reproduced on it ready for mailing."

Another production of French ingenuity was a balloon postal system with 67 balloons. Each ascension cost about $1,000, and although Krupp had built several guns for the German army designed especially to bring down these aerial mail carriers only five of them were captured. They carried many tons of mail as well as 91 passengers during the period of war.—Postal Record.

THE SETTLERS TO BELAIE.

Bannock Indians Have Been Driven to Deserting by a Justice.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Gov. Secretary Ryder, of the Indian department, has been in correspondence with the Interior department concerning the Bannock Indian uprising. As a result of his investigation of the matter he says:

"It ever in the history of our country a proper credit to be added by Christian people against the character of the Indians is now. The Bannocks, under the laws of the general government, are allowed to hunt. The government of Wyoming has made this a part of its territory. It has a lot of game in Wyoming territory. They were allowed, and it is being taken to the extent of the reservation and some down in their recent march."

"Those who who know of the brutal character of many of the white men who live in this western territory, and who are hunting to the Indians, have given a good testimony that the Bannocks are among the most peaceful and one of the best tribes in the present. If the steps of Indians were promptly arrested, and the Bannocks know that they will be impartially tried and severely punished if found guilty, the uprising will at once be at an end."

Secretary Ryder says he has received assurances from the department of the Interior that his opinion is correct as to the lawless outrage upon the Indians, and that no means will be spared to bring the guilty parties to justice.

DROWNED BY A CLOUDBURST.

Several Lives Lost and Much Property Destroyed in Colorado.

CHIPPY CREEK, Colo., Aug. 1.—A freight train on the Florence and Chippely Creek railroad was caught in a landslide and derailed near Adalade. A succession of cloudbursts occurred at the head of Eight Mile creek, about twelve or fifteen miles south of Adalade. Engineer Ben Gove and Fireman Maurice Lyons saw the water coming down the creek. Lyons managed to escape by climbing up the side of the mountain. Engineer Gove and brakemen Dick Dolan and Frank Caldwell were drowned, as was C. C. Hitchcock, night operator at Florence.

The flood struck the town of Adalade, doing great damage. The hotel there was completely demolished, and the owners, Mr. Tracey and Mrs. Carr, were both drowned, as was the cook, name unknown. Six persons are known to have been drowned at Adalade and two others are reported missing. The railroads for ten miles near Wilbur have been washed away.

No definite information was obtainable up to a late hour, but it is known much damage has been done in the path of the storm. It is estimated to be at least $100,000.

More destruction is reported at Camp McCort.

Many Railroad Bridges Washed Away.

CATSKILL, N. M., Aug. 1.—The Red River is swollen to a higher point than it has reached for years by a cloudburst, causing much damage. Much of the track and many railroad bridges were washed away, and it will probably be several days before the damage can be repaired sufficiently for trains to pass through. Ranchmen also suffered severe losses.

Terrific Explosion at Lorain, O.

LORAIN, O., Aug. 1.—A terrific explosion took place in the blacksmith department of the Johnson steel plant. Gas accumulated in a forge, owing to an impact of clinders, which united with the hot air blast from the blowery, causing an explosion that shook the entire plant. Four men were badly injured. A huge nail was driven into the abdomen of one of the blacksmiths, tearing out a portion of his entrails. He cannot recover. The injured are: George Wilcott, neck and shoulders burned and lacerated; Fred Eichler, nail driven into stomach; S. W. Douglas, severely burned; Robert Hall, arm mangled.

Death of Bishop Howe.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 1.—The Right Rev. M. A. DeWolfe Howe, Protestant Episcopal bishop of central Pennsylvania, died at his summer home in Bristol yesterday, aged 86. Bishop Howe's illness had lasted but a week. He had a strong local attachment for Bristol, the place of his nativity, and in late years he invariably spent each summer there. Bishop Howe was married three times, his third wife surviving him. He leaves a number of sons and daughters. His assistant, Dr. N. S. Rollison, will succeed to the bishopric.

Carlisle's Summer Vacation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Secretary and Mrs. Carlisle left here at 11 o'clock this forenoon for Chicago. While there he will consult with leading citizens and officials on the question of the appointment of an architect to design the public building in that city, and this disposed of, he, Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. W. K. Carlisle and her four children and nurse will take the lighthouse tender Amaranth for a month's cruise, arriving in Buffalo about Sept. 1.

"Matron of a Besieged Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, my wish to help others, overcomes my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the 'LaGrippe,' and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 bottles for $5.00, or it will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price, by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
