THE TRAIL OF HUMAN BLOOD

It Leads Through Several Apartments in Holmes' "Castle."

EVIDENCE AGAINST PAT QUINLAN!

Trunks and Other Property That Belonged to Minnie Williams Found in His Possession—Chicago Police Still Unearthing Evidence.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Human blood was found yesterday in Holmes' castle, spattered from one room to another. Science aided Detectives Fitzpatrick and Norton where other agencies had failed, and uncovered more startling evidence against H. H. Holmes and Pat Quinlan than has yet been found in the castle.

There was found in the castle by the detectives and a medical expert a trail of blood leading from the doorway of the dining room of Mrs. Julia L. Conner to the sink in the same room; from there into the dark chamber, where she and Pearl formerly slept, and from there to the inside of the door opening into the bath room, where the trap door was; on the base board of that room above the trap door, and down on to the secret staircase which led to the false elevator shaft and thence into the basement. The blood was human. A clot of blood mixed with human hair was found.

Also from the debris in the dark chamber, where mother and child slept, there was taken some child's underwear stained with blood; a pair of brown diagonal trousers, stained at the bottom with blood; the pocket of a woman's dress, blood soaked; a handkerchief which had been used to wipe up blood with, and various clothes and parts of underclothing soaked with blood. These articles were examined microscopically at the time of their discovery, and the test made then and there as to the stains and blotches being human blood. With one or two exceptions the experts say they were all marked with human blood. A rope was found, and on its knots blood was discovered.

In Pat Quinlan's private living rooms were found two trunks of the theatrical type. One was purchased from Meeks, in Denver. On both trunks were the initials "M. R. W." These initials had been repeated over. The initials are those of Minnie B. Williams. Pat Quinlan stated after his being taken into custody that both the trunks belonged to him. Detectives Norton and Fitzpatrick have now the trunks, and both trunks belonged to Minnie Williams.

Quinlan will be confronted with this evidence. He will also be faced with books found in his possession, and which belong to Minnie Williams. There are magazines bearing date as late as April, 1894, demonstrating that Minnie Williams was alive at that time. The fact that one of her trunks was brought to Denver was explained by the information, already secured by Chief Badenoch, that after she entered the employ of Holmes, and finally left Chicago, she entered the theatrical business in Denver.

Chief Badenoch has also secured, in addition to the above evidence, positive proof that Benjamin F. Pitzel was at Dwight as a patient when Emily Cigrand was there as a stenographer. He went under the name of Robert E. Phelps. Under that name he met Emily Cigrand and wooed her. The girl did not leave Dwight of her own free will, but was discharged for inability to properly perform her duties. As soon as he left Dwight she came to Chicago and entered the employ of Holmes. There she again met Pitzel under the name of Phelps.

Chief Badenoch believes all this evidence to be the most important of any, save the partial confessions of Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan, that he has yet secured.

The inference drawn by the officers from the trail of blood which was discovered was that the blood, being human, came from some person who was killed in the dark chamber, dragged from there to the trap door and thence down the secret stairway to the basement beneath.

Cardiff Singers Coming.

The famous Cardiff singers, who won the first prize at the World's Fair and have since been multiplying triumphs during a tour of Europe, and have appeared by special order before Her Majesty Queen Victoria, are about to make another tour of the United States and have been engaged to give a concert in Ferguson's theatre on November 1st, for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal church parsonage. The singers number 23 and are ladies of culture and refinement. The following committee of ladies has been appointed to act as a reception committee and will look after the comfort of the singers while they are here: Mrs. T. J. Broughall, Mrs. Charles Glavin, Mrs. J. S. Kistler, Mrs. S. A. Boddall, Misses Edith Morgan, Sallie Wasley, Ella McGinness and Bella Brown. The arrangements for the concert will be in charge of the following committee: Messrs. J. R. Price, Jesse Hughes, James Patterson, T. R. Edwards and William G. Gregory. They predict one of the best musical treats the people of this town have had for some time.

Election of Teachers.

A regular meeting of the School Board will be held in the West street school building tomorrow evening and an election of teachers will be taken up again. This has been made necessary on account of the resignation of Miss Jeannette H. Ramage from the position of teacher of vocal music. It is understood there are about half a dozen applicants for the position and the election will determine whether or not an election of another day school teacher will be necessary. If Miss Ramage's successor is taken from the day school corps a vacancy will be left for one of the applicants who were not elected when the corps was made up for the coming term, and possibly leave a vacancy in the corps of evening school teachers. Two of the applicants for Miss Ramage's position are not members of the day school corps and should either be elected no other elections will be necessary.

Bogus Certificates.

A war has been inaugurated by the United Mine Workers Association of the Anthracite district against the issuance of bogus miners' certificates, and Judge Pershing has been appointed to lend his assistance in the matter. His Honor has consented to aid the committee in stopping the nefarious practice, and the probabilities are that there will be less cause for complaint from this source in the future. The practice has been going on in this county, and especially in Shenandoah and vicinity, for a number of years, and in the meantime those who are responsible for the issuance of bogus certificates have filled their coffers out of the earnings of unsuspecting foreigners. Every encouragement should be given the movement by all regularly licensed mine workers.

The County to Pay Costs.

Circulars have been sent out by the State Board of Health to the County Commissioners and the Directors of the Poor. The County Commissioners are charged with certain duties. Among these are the assumption of expenses when it is necessary to quarantine or disinfect a district and the sufferers by reason of poverty are not able to bear the expenses. In minor matters, such as sporadic cases of contagious diseases and failure on the part of local authorities to take proper measure of a sanitary nature the Commissioners are expected to notify the State Board.

BOARD OF HEALTH ELECTION

A Change Made in Two of the Positions Last Night.

PRESIDENT SPALDING RE-ELECTED

John Curtin Succeeds Thomas M. Scanlan as Secretary and Hon. Patrick Conry Succeeds Edward Miles as Health Officer.

It was evident when the members of the Board of Health met last night that there was something in the wind. Some of them were rather tart in their addresses to each other and the feathers of the dove of peace seemed somewhat ruffled and soiled. After the meeting got started the piqued aspect of the department became more pronounced and on more than one occasion it looked as if there would be an open rupture, but the pent-up feelings were continued under control and there was no demonstration beyond dark looks and a few sharp exchanges.

It was exactly 7:30 o'clock when President Spalding took his seat. The doctor stated that he would await the arrival of Mr. Malone, one of the members, before proceeding with business, but Mr. Miles insisted that the meeting proceed, as the hour had arrived. The president said he would open the meeting, but would not allow any business to be transacted until all the members of the Board would have an opportunity to be heard. At this moment Mr. Malone entered the chamber and danger of a rupture on account of his continued absence was averted off.

The new arrival made a full attendance of members, namely, Messrs. Spalding, Miles, Malone, McHale and Morrison, and the president announced that the Board would proceed to organize.

Mr. Miles nominated Mr. Morrison for permanent president and Mr. Malone nominated Dr. Spalding. Mr. Morrison declined and Mr. McHale nominated Mr. Miles. Dr. Spalding was re-elected, receiving the votes of Messrs. Malone, Morrison and himself.

The nomination for secretary having been declared open Mr. Morrison named John Curtin and Mr. Miles nominated Thomas M. Scanlan. Mr. Curtin received the votes of Messrs. Morrison and Malone and the votes of Messrs. Miles and McHale went to Mr. Scanlan. President Spalding said he would not vote, as he had another choice. He was for Carl Coogan and another vote would be taken. Messrs. Miles and Malone raised the point that it was too late to name Mr. Coogan, as the nominations had been closed. A second vote was taken and Mr. Curtin was elected on the votes of Messrs. Spalding, Malone and Morrison.

Nominations for Health Officer were then received and Mr. Malone placed the name of Hon. Patrick Conry. Mr. McHale named John O'Donnell. Mr. Conry was elected by the same votes that elected the other officers and the president declared the Board adjourned until the regular meeting to be held next Friday evening. The old officers of the Board hold over until the expiration of their year, on the 18th inst.
