CHEERING NOW FOR QUAY.

The Result of Philadelphia's Republican Primary Election.

THE SENATOR'S VICTORY ASSURED

In the Contest For the Chairmanship of the Pennsylvania Republican State Committee—Eighteen Sure Delegates From Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21, 1895.

The Republican primaries to select seventy delegates to the state convention, and also to choose candidates for various city offices, were held last night, and resulted in a victory for Senator Quay and his friends. The Beaver statesman will receive eighteen delegates, and possibly twenty-two, with one or two districts still in doubt. The Combine leaders concede the Senator sixteen votes.

The Senator's fight for chairmanship of the state committee is now won. He has a clear working majority, and this will act as an incentive to the weak-kneed delegates in doubtful counties to come over on the winning side. From now on until the day of the convention he will receive new recruits, and the friends of the various candidates for Judges of the Superior Court will naturally want to court favor with the winners rather than compromise their chances by catering to a losing cause.

This victory is one of the most remarkable in the annals of the state. Betrayed and deserted by men whom he had reason to suppose were his friends, shorn of political patronage and with as strong a combination against him as was ever marshalled in a political battle, the Senator has succeeded in wresting victory from foreshadowed defeat. The result is conclusive evidence of all that has been claimed for him—that he is the greatest political leader of the day. No other man could have withstood the onslaughts of the opposition.

Little Gilkeson don't count, and the combine of ingratitude must go.

The polls were open from 6 to 8 p. m., and the scenes around the various polling places in districts in which there were contests recalled an exciting presidential election. Never before in the history of the Republican party in this city has there been such an exciting fight in the primaries. In many wards very near the full Republican vote was polled.

The result was in some respects a surprise to Senator Quay himself, who did not expect to overcome the influence that would be brought to bear against him in certain districts. The thirty-seven wards of the city are grouped into twenty-eight legislative districts, and those elected from one to seven delegates each. The hottest fights were in the Fifteenth ward, in which Mayor Warwick resides, and the West Philadelphia wards, the Twenty-fourth and the Thirty-fourth. In the former the mayor was badly beaten, the Quay forces, headed by Alexander Crow, Jr., carrying twenty-seven out of forty-three divisions, with contests in two. In West Philadelphia State Senator Thomas, the Quay man, won his fight handsomely, notwithstanding the fact that David Martin, the anti-Quay leader in this city, took personal charge of the fight during the past week. These two districts elected seven Quay delegates.

The Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Thirtieth, Twenty-Seventh and Thirtieth wards also elected eleven Quay delegates, making a sure total of eighteen. In the Fifth ward, the anti-Quay leaders changed the polling place in a majority of the divisions, and the result was that double primaries were held. Both sides claim the one delegate from this ward, but the anti-Quay man was given the credentials, and his opponent fled notice of contest.

The result in the First ward, where four delegates are to be elected, is in doubt. The Quay people claim to have carried twenty-seven out of fifty-two divisions, with seven in doubt. If this version of the result is verified Quay will have twenty-two delegates from this city. The Quayites also claim that the Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Thirty-fifth wards, electing five delegates, are in doubt.

Last night's contest practically closes the fight in the state, Lehigh being the only remaining county to elect delegates. It appears almost certain that Senator Quay has won his fight for the state chairmanship, with some votes to spare. A conservative estimate gives him 160 votes in the convention, fifteen more than the number necessary to elect.

The senator last night occupied his suite of rooms in the Metropole hotel, and a constant stream of visitors passed in and out, congratulating him upon his victory. He declined to speak for publication until after the convention, which meets at Harrisburg on Aug. 28. He was elated at the result of last night's primaries, and replied good naturedly to the compliments that were showered upon him. The contest attracted to the city politicians of the two factions and eagerly watched the returns.

Senator Penrose, who, more than any one else, precipitated the fight, carried his ward, the Eighth, by a vote of thirteen to three, and will go to the convention as a delegate.

John Russell Young ran as a Quay delegate in the Ninth ward. This ward is presided over by Sheriff Clement, who did not permit Mr. Young to carry a single division.

It was stated at the Quay headquarters today that two of the four delegates from Northampton county and one from Clearfield county have deserted the anti-Quay candidate for state chairman, B. F. Gilkeson.

The following candidates for city offices were chosen at today's conventions: For district attorney, George S. Graham; coroner, Samuel H. Ashbridge; city controller, John M. Walton; clerk of quarter sessions, William B. Geary; recorder of deeds, William M. Geary. All of the candidates are present incumbents except Mr. Geary.

TAPPED THE TILL.

Young Daniel Cullen Charged With Robbing a Money Drawer.

Yesterday afternoon much excitement was occasioned on Jarlin street by the arrest of a young boy named Daniel Cullen for robbing the money drawer in the dry goods store of Max Schmidt, on North Main street. Young Cullen is 14 years of age, and is the son of Larry Cullen, of West Coal street.

Mr. Schmidt, it appears from the evidence submitted before Squire Williams, has been missing money from his drawer for several days, and on Saturday all the money in the drawer was taken out with the exception of a few pennies. The proprietor then ordered his clerks to keep a close watch. On Monday young Cullen was caught close to the money drawer, and when asked what he wanted asked for a spool of thread, and paid for it.

While Mr. Schmidt was out of the store yesterday afternoon Cullen was caught at the drawer and one of the clerks gave the alarm. Just then Mr. Schmidt returned and gave chase. He followed the boy to the Jarlin street school building where he tried to hide, but was captured and taken before the Squire.

Upon his person was found a $20 bill, and in Pear alley $24.75 was also found that he threw away while being chased. At the hearing he admitted having taken $10 more on Saturday and shared it with James Gaughan, 14 years of age. The latter was arrested by Constable Dando last night and returned $5.30 of the $10. Each of the boys were held in $500 for appearance at court.

Furnished Excellent Music.

The Mandolin and Guitar club, of Mt. Carmel, furnished the music at the tin wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Beddall last evening, and afterwards serenaded a number of citizens on Oak, Jarlin, Lloyd and West streets, in this town. The music furnished by the club is of a high class and much favorable comment is heard of their performance. The club is composed of Messrs. Thomas Dawson, William Aston, Archie Derby, Charles Howard and Arthur Collins. Their proficiency is due to the tutorage of Prof. E. W. Wilde, of town, who has had them under his charge but one year. Mr. Carmel can certainly feel proud of the club.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING

An Adjourned Meeting Held Last Evening.

NEW COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

Dr. Halberstadt, of Pottsville, Notified the Board of His Appointment as County Medical Inspector and the Duties of the Office.

The Board of Health held an adjourned meeting last evening in the Council chamber for the purpose of receiving the bonds of the Health Officer and Secretary, and for general business.

The members present were: President S. C. Spalding, M. D. Malone, M. Morrison, T. F. Miles and J. B. McHale.

Secretary-elect John Curtin and Health Officer-elect Patrick Conry submitted their bonds for faithful performance of duty. The Board accepted the same with the understanding that they will be submitted to the Borough Council for approval by that body and the Borough Solicitor.

President Spalding appointed the following committees to serve during the current term: Rules and Regulations—M. D. Malone, chairman, J. B. McHale, M. Morrison.

Epidemics—S. C. Spalding, M. D., chairman, J. B. McHale and M. Morrison.

Nuisances—T. F. Miles, chairman, M. D. Malone and M. Morrison.

Printing—M. D. Malone, chairman, J. B. McHale and M. Morrison.

Neurology—S. C. Spalding, M. D., chairman, T. F. Miles and M. D. Malone.

Nuisance was complained of on South Plum alley, from polluted water being allowed to remain on certain premises. The matter was referred to the Health Officer.

The Health Officer was also instructed to enforce the regulations of the Board in reference to property owners on the west side of Main street, between Lloyd and Centre, connecting their properties with a sewer. Notices to that effect had been served by the former Health Officer.

Dr. Halberstadt, of Pottsville, who was recently appointed county medical inspector by the State Board of Health, notified the local Board of his appointment. The duties of that official are enumerated in the following circular letter:

First: To keep himself informed, in a general way, of the sanitary condition of his county, of the towns and villages within its borders, and of its public streams and other waters, making report of the same at least annually to the Secretary of the State Board of Health.

Secondly: To notify the Secretary of any instances in which boroughs have failed to comply with the law establishing Boards of Health in boroughs, and also of any instances in which local Boards of Health, either by their own negligence or through neglect of their councils to furnish them with the necessary means, habitually fail in the performance of their duties.

Thirdly: To notify the Secretary immediately by post or by wire, as the circumstances may in his judgment seem to demand, of the outbreak of any epidemics of communicable diseases, and of the occurrence of any case of Smallpox or Typhoid fever, which may come under his observation or be reported to him.

Fourthly: On receiving instructions from the Secretary, to make inspections, either of conditions complained of as nuisances or of the prevalence of contagious disease, and to report at once the result of such inspections, together with suggestions, when necessary, to be taken to abate the nuisance or to prevent the spread of the disease.

Fifthly: In cases of contagious disease, to order quarantine and disinfection in the name of the State Board of Health, in all places having no Board of Health of their own. In places where a Board of Health exists, he shall act in conjunction with the local Board of Health in taking any such measures, and in places where there is a Deputy Inspector, with such Inspector.

Sixthly: In all cases in which compliance with such orders would entail expense, to confer with the County Commissioners and the Directors of the Poor, in order that these authorities may assume, each their own appropriate share of said expense, which can, under no circumstances, be borne by the State Board of Health, unless the epidemic or catastrophic is of such proportions as to entitle it to consideration by the Board, consisting of the Governor, and other State officials, which has the Emergency Fund in its keeping.

Quarantine and disinfecting expenses should be assumed by the County Commissioners, and expenses for furnishing nursing and medical care, and provisions, when necessary, in consequence of the impoverished circumstances of the sufferers, should be borne by the Poor Directors.

Seventhly: To take an active interest in all legislation proposed by the State Board of Health, or others, for sanitary reform, and to maintain throughout the State, and to use his influence with his representatives in the legislature for the passage of such measures.

The hay wagon party last evening to Grier City, which was given by Lizzie and Bertha Leitzel, was a very successful affair. The trip was made in one of O'Hara's lively teams and the destination was George B. Leitzel's, where the party indulged in dancing and partook of an elegant supper. Music was furnished by a colored orchestra. The party was composed of the following persons: Misses Bertina and Lizzie Leitzel, Marie Frost, Emma and Maud Stetler, Sallie Beisel, Maggie Miller and Maria Evans; and Messrs. Speaks Well for the Company.
Mr. Shuford, of Harrisburg, insurance adjuster, was in town yesterday and adjusted the loss on the machinery of the Schaykill Hat and Cap Factory, which was damaged by the fire of last Friday, promptly and satisfactorily. It was insured in the Springfield and London companies, represented by David Faust. This speaks well for the latter gentleman and his companies. They are always prompt in settling losses either by fire, smoke, water or lightning.

A Fire This Afternoon.
The fire department was called out this afternoon by an alarm sounded from box 32, at the corner of Coal and Chestnut streets. The fire was caused by a defective flue in a house occupied by Michael Mounghan, who lives in the "Flats" on West Coal street. All the companies responded, but their services were not needed. The damage done was very slight.
