

VOL. X.—NO. 214.

SHENANDOAH, PA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1895.

ONE CENT.

PLACE YOUR ADVERTISEMENT IN THE "EVENING HERALD" AND REACH THE BUYERS.

Refrigerators, Baby Carriages.

Large Stock, Best Make, Lowest Prices.

J. P. WILLIAMS & SON,

South Main St., Shenandoah.

SCHOOL BAGS,

Plain and Initial,

Double and Single,

Leather and Canvas Bags for Boys.

SCHOOL COMPANIONS, &C., AT

F. J. PORTZ & SON,

21 North Main Street, Shenandoah.

CHERRINGTON'S —FINE— GROCERIES.

121 NORTH MAIN STREET.

We have opened with a full line of GREEN GROCERIES and TRUCK, wholesale and retail, which we receive daily in large quantities, and will be sold at close figures. . . Remember that we also carry the choicest line of groceries in the town.

ALWAYS FRESH.

HOME DRESSED BEEF
AND SPRING LAMB

TO-DAY AT

THOS. JONES, - - 119 N. Main St.

The Busy Store is the place to call; Here bargains Max Schmidt offers all—Elegant effects in Dress and Dry Goods, too.

Best assortment in Shenandoah, he has for you; Undersold by others, he will never be; Schmidt, "The Hustler" for bargains, you should see; Young, old, middle aged, rich or poor.

Strictly one-price goods at his store procure; Time tried "Schmidt" a reputation has won, On all sides pronounced "the best" by every one. Residents of Shenandoah, one and all, Early or late, at "The Busy Store" should call.

Max Schmidt,

116 and 118 North Main Street, Shenandoah, Pa.

FOR SALE!

2 Cars No. 1 Old White Oats.

1 Car Choice Yellow Corn.

1 Car Hay.

100 Bbls. Choice Old Wheat
Flour.

25 Bbls. Fresh Ground Rye
Flour.

At KEITER'S.

SENATOR QUAY THE VICTOR

He Wins at Harrisburg and is the Uncrowned King.

150 AT HIS CAUCUS LAST NIGHT

THAT OF THE GILKESON FORCES WAS VERY SLIMLY ATTENDED.

ONE CONVENTION THE OUTCOME!

SCHUYLKILL DELEGATES TO A MAN ENROLLED UNDER THE QUAY BANNER.

SCHUYLKILL AND THE COMMITTEES!

The Streets of Harrisburg Witnessed Wild Scenes When the Result of the Caucus Was Made Known—Chris. Magee Gave Up the Fight Early Last Night and Acknowledged Defeat.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 23, 3 p. m.—The state convention was called to order this morning without a jar in the preliminary work. At the conference between the Quay and Gilkeson leaders last night the proposition of ex-Collector Cooper that only one convention be held, has been fruitful of good results. It was agreed that the things who were placed in possession of the Opera House should be removed and thereupon the Quay men agreed upon that place for holding the state convention. The proposition of the Quay people was adopted on motion of Mr. Magee, one of the leaders of the Combine.

With this understanding only delegates and spectators were allowed admission to the hall.

The first test came on the election of temporary chairman, and it resulted in a big victory for the Junior Senator and his friends.

The Quay people had decided upon Congressman Jack Robinson, of Chester county, as their candidate, while the administration forces pinned their faith to Harry Hall.

The result was a complete vindication for Senator Quay, who won with hands down. Last night he was counting on 133 delegates, but this morning his forces were hourly increased by delegates deserting the losing cause.

Robinson received 1633 votes for temporary chairman, and Hall could only muster 1033, thus giving fighting Jack a majority.

Immediately after the election of Congressman Robinson as temporary chairman was announced Senator Quay was observed to leave his seat and walk over to the seat occupied by Governor Hastings. The Junior Senator extended his hand and the Governor took it. There was a hearty shake and a few whispered words which were not audible. The convention took up the signal of harmony and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed, during which Senator Quay returned to his seat.

As soon as some degree of order was restored Senator Quay arose at his seat and moved that Governor Hastings be elected permanent chairman of the convention by acclamation, which was done amid another great outburst of enthusiasm.

At 11:48 Mr. Gilkeson arose in his seat and said that in a spirit of harmony he would nominate Hon. Matthew Stanley Quay as Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and moved that he be elected by acclamation, which was done.

At 1:38 Mr. Quay nominated the six Superior Court Judges appointed by Governor Hastings, as the regular nominees of the party, and again the convention concurred amid great jubilation.

Immediately following these nominations there were loud cries for a speech from Senator Quay.

The Junior Senator responded briefly and said, "I will endeavor, in the ensuing campaign, to make it a campaign of merit."

After the applause and cheers following the remarks had subsided there were cries of "Hastings! Hastings! Speech! Speech!"

The Governor arose amid a flood of enthusiasm and said, "Recent events in the Republican party of Pennsylvania have proved that electric storms purify the atmosphere and the cyclone we have just had here will serve to disrupt the free trade and debt-creating Democracy."

The Schuylkill delegation will reach Pottsville at 9 o'clock to-night. Upon their arrival they will be met by bands and with music and fire works the people will ratify the work of the convention.

The platform adopted by the convention includes the honest money plank of the last national convention, makes a protective tariff a strong feature and incorporates Senator Quay's views upon Municipal Reform. These views are strong. They commit the

(Continued on Fourth Page.)

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

John Rogers, Jr., Attempted to End His Life.

He Gave Notice That he Would Throw Himself Before a Railroad Engine and Did So—He Was Irresponsible.

John Rogers, Jr., a once very promising young Polish man of this community, this afternoon concluded that his era of usefulness in this world had spent itself, and attempted to end his existence by throwing himself in front of a coal train engine at the Bowers street crossing of the Lehigh Valley railroad. He escaped death, but his injuries are such that, coupled with his general condition, they may have a fatal result.

The engine that struck the unfortunate man was No. 383. It was bound westward with a train of empty coal cars and running at a speed of from four to six miles an hour. The engine struck the man's intentions when approaching the crossing and had reduced the speed of the train considerably. The train was stopped right after it struck Rogers and that accounts for the man not being ground to pieces.

Rogers was unconscious when taken from the cawcatcher. His left foot had been crushed to pulp by the front wheels of the engine, his skull was fractured and there were a number of lacerations of the head and face. Friends carried the victim to his home on East Centre street, next door to Counselman O'Brien's hotel. Dr. D. J. Langton was summoned and temporarily dressed the injuries. Rogers was taken to the Miners' hospital on the 1:40 Lehigh Valley train.

A small Polish boy who witnessed the accident says that Rogers appeared to be trying to get on the cawcatcher of the engine, but a statement by Charles Nork leads to the conclusion that Rogers made a deliberate attempt at suicide. Nork says Rogers was playing dice with him in a saloon during a good part of this morning and Rogers complained that he had pertained to no food for three days, that he was drinking continually. Rogers said he was without money and that he intended throwing himself before a railroad engine. Nork keeps the saloon on East Centre street formerly owned by Mrs. Yodka. Shortly before one o'clock Rogers said to Nork, "Do I owe you anything, Charlie?" and was answered in the negative. He then said, "Well, this is the last time you will see me alive." Nork persuaded him to go home and he promised to do so, but instead went north on Bowers street towards the place where he made the attempt to kill himself, and within ten minutes after was carried mangled to his home.

Rogers is a son of the well-known East Centre street hotelkeeper. About two years ago he kept a grocery store next door to his father's saloon. He was married at about that time, but that did not seem to alter his habits. He drank heavily. He was finally induced to move to Waterbury, Conn., to see if a change of surroundings would improve him, but they did not. About a year ago he moved back to this town with his wife and she continued to live with him notwithstanding his habits grew steadily worse. He has done no work since his return here and has been drinking heavily most of the time. His friends say he was not responsible for his act.

Watson House Free Lunch.

Call's liver smothered with onions for lunch to-night.

Sour kraut to-morrow morning.

Artistic Work.

R. D. Hagenbuch, the well-known painter and decorator, has completed his contract at the Rescue Hook & Ladder Company's building with excellent satisfaction to all concerned. He painted the entire interior and exterior of the main building in very artistic style and the residence of Marsh, Hughes, the company's driver, and stable also show the effects of Mr. Hagenbuch's skill. The truck room of the main building and the hallways have been tastefully grained and papered and the meeting room and parlor on the second floor have been made exceedingly attractive by coats of paint and wall and ceiling paper of exquisite design. Mr. Hagenbuch is an expert workman and can always be relied upon to perform work promptly and at reasonable cost.

Babies made happy with Luke's Syrup.

Native Miners Crowded Out.

The annual report of the Miners' Examining Board of the Shamokin district shows that the English-speaking miners are being crowded out. The report shows that of the 475 certificates issued to miners during the year ending July 1, 1895, 371 were given to Poles, Huns and Italians, while only sixty-seven native Americans, eighteen Germans, seven each English and French, three Welsh and two Scotch were among the applicants.

The only baby medicine—Luke's Syrup.

May Work Full Time.

The collieries in this section will probably work full time this week. Orders have been issued by the Lehigh Valley Company to run their coal trains on full time this week, and this will necessitate a similar quota at all the collieries of that company. No orders have yet been issued by the Reading Company, but the indications are that the collieries of that company will also work the entire week.

Sprung Any Leaks Lately?

We can't stop the leaks from the clouds but Bell, the plumber, corner Main and Centre streets, can stop all your leaks in water and gas mains with satisfaction.

Excursion To-morrow.

The Trinity Reformed Sunday school and a large number of friends will leave town at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning, via the P. & R. railroad for Lakeside, where they will picnic. The train will leave Lakeside at 9 p. m.

THE BREWERY INJUNCTION!

EX-Senator Watson's Family Tell Their Side of the Case.

NOISE AND DUST THE NUISANCE

Several Hours Were Spent Yesterday in Examining Witnesses and the End Has Not Been Reached—Synopsis From the Testimony.

The officers of M. M. Burke, Esq., in the Egan building, were crowded yesterday by parties to and people attracted by curiosity in the suit of ex-Senator M. C. Watson against the Columbia Brewing Company. The suit was instituted several weeks ago to procure an injunction restraining the company from operating the brewery in such a manner as to disturb the peace, health and comfort of the plaintiff's family. The case came up yesterday in the form of a hearing before a Commissioner, who was appointed to take evidence on the plaintiff's allegations. After the evidence is all in it will be submitted to the court, and a decision will be rendered as to whether or not the injunction shall issue.

Among the interested parties in attendance yesterday were Stenographer Moore, of Votts-ville, who is acting as the Commissioner; ex-Congressman James B. Kelly and J. R. Cagle, Esq., counsel for the Brewing Company; John E. Whalen and M. M. Burke, Esq., counsel for ex-Senator Watson.

The sessions continued from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m. and was finally adjourned to take additional evidence. Mr. Watson was the first witness examined and swore that his property, which adjoins the brewery on the south side, had been made unfit for a family residence by reason of the brewery operations. When the plant was first started there was not so much annoyance, but after the ice plant was put in operation the nuisance became unbearable. When asked to specify the annoyance Mr. Watson said the working of a pump and an exhaust action in the brewery caused a vibration in every room of his house that shook the china and glassware on shelves and caused the pieces to rattle. The noise is like the thumping of some battering ram against the wall and was most pronounced and annoying at night, making proper sleep impossible. Mr. Watson also testified that dust from the smoke stacks of the brewery is also a great annoyance and has not been abated even by the removal of the steam plant to the opposite side of Pear alley.

Thomas M. Scudlan, teller at the Merchants' National Bank and son-in-law of ex-Senator Watson, was also witness and testified to the noise, vibration and dust. He complained especially of the annoyance caused by the exhaust and expressed the opinion that that part of the plant was not properly adjusted. He lives with Mr. Watson and swore that it is impossible to get a proper night's rest in the house. In cross-examination ex-Congressman Reilly asked if the dust from the stacks was not such as would indicate a stirring up of the fire by the fireman in the brewery, and Mr. Scudlan said he thought so. He could not indicate the length of time the dust continues to fall upon Mr. Watson's property as he was obliged to curtail his living and could not afford to stand and watch the falling of the dust. Mr. Reilly said he thought it a very important point and the witness should have posted himself. Mr. Burke said he objected to counsel lecturing. This was the nearest approach to a clash during the hearing, although there seems to be a strong undercurrent of feeling in the case. Counsel for the Brewing Company intimates that the suit is not based so much upon actual annoyance and damage by operations in the brewery as it is upon trade rivalry. This, of course, is stoutly denied by the opposite side.

Mrs. T. M. Scudlan, Mr. Watson's daughter, testified that during one period she was unable to sleep a night during two weeks on account of the operations and that the dust from the stacks made it necessary for the family to send its washing out. Windows had to be cleaned repeatedly. Mrs. Ellis, daughter of Sol Hank, also testified to the annoyances from the vibration and stack dust. Mrs. William Mitchell, a niece of ex-Senator Watson's and who occupies the house adjoining the south side of his residence, confirmed the testimony of the other witnesses and said that visitors to her house recently complained that they could not sleep on account of the noise. The stack dust obliged her to re-wash her clothes.

Counsel for the Brewing Company cross-examined the witnesses, but did not devote much time to it and did not call any witnesses. The proceedings partake of an extreme character, and both sides to the controversy will not be fully heard at this stage. Appearance indicate that the litigation is to be a prolonged one.

It Beats the Dutch.

Thirteen dollars worth of free laundry if you guess nearest to the right number of beans in the jar. Fay's Steam Laundry guessing contest.

Leg Crushed.

About an hour after starting work last night John Bolinkis had his right leg crushed between the ankle and knee by a fall of coal in the Wiggins colliery. He was removed to his home on North Plum alley, this town, and attended by Dr. G. M. Hamilton.

Just the Thing.

Columbia Beer the miner will cheer, As he rests at the close of the day; After digging the coals In the dirty old holes, It will wash all the cobwebs away.

The only baby medicine—Luke's Syrup.

WHERE IS CHARLIE GARDIN?

The Young Son of Justice Gardin is Reported Missing.

Charles, the 15-year-old son of Justice J. J. Gardin, has been missing since yesterday afternoon. Persistent search by the parents have failed to reveal any trace of the boy. He was a pupil of Miss Amelia C. Whelanor, in the Lloyd street public school building. The boy's stutters and it is said that his classmates tormented him on the impediment yesterday. He left the school and has not been seen since. His parents are almost distracted by grief.

Max Levia's Hats.

act well their part. They keep their shape and hold their color. At the up-to-date hat store, 15 East Centre street.

Noburny City Business College.

The work of organizing the new Noburny College in Mahanoy City was begun last week, and the way students are enrolling it will be a very successful business school.

Being a branch of the excellent Williams Business College, and the management offering so low rates of tuition for the first year to compare it thoroughly, it gives the people of this county an opportunity to attend a first-class business college at nearly half the usual cost.

A Charter Membership is issued which entitles the holder to a complete course (then unlimited) in the commercial and English branches, and shorthand and typewriting for only $50. Tuition school only $10.

There will be excellent teachers and thorough courses. In the commercial department the celebrated Snider system will be used for teaching accounts. It is being adopted now by the best and largest schools in the country. The shorthand and typewriting department will be nicely equipped. The Standard Grammar system of shorthand will be taught, and both Remington and Smith's Premium Typewriters used. For further particulars write to G. W. WILLIAMS, Principal.

Seaman's House.

Boston-baked beans to-night. Chicken soup. Hard and soft shelled crabs. Oysters. Clams. Deviled-eggs. Fish cakes.

Coal Contract Awarded.

The committee of the School Board instructed to receive and consider proposals for supplying the public schools of the borough with coal have met and awarded the contract to William N. Siewinter. The bids for supplying the various grades of P. & R. C. & I. Company coal per ton were as follows:

	Bag	Stove	Pen	Average
William N. Siewinter	$2.05	$2.00	$1.84	$2.00
F. J. Davies	2.90	3.00	1.80	2.48
Gwen Brennan	2.05	2.90	1.85	2.60
John Roberts	2.85	3.00	1.95	2.93
M. O'Hara	2.68	2.97	1.81	2.48
Col. H. & S. F. Co.	2.72	2.90	1.83	2.51

Mr. N. Siewinter also offered to supply Kelly's line coal at the following rates: Egg, $2.75; stove, $3; pen, $1.94; average, $2.91. The Columbia Hose Company offered Cambridge colliery coal at $2.95 for egg; stove, $2.85; pen, $1.70; average, $2.40.

At Brown's Cafe To-night.

Mock turtle soup foin. Plough for everybody. To-morrow night genuine snapper. This turtle is on exhibition now. Watch for Saturday's free lunch.

Attended Robbery.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock last night an effort was made to rob the house of Mrs. Isabelle Holland, on North Bowers street. A window sash was removed at the rear of the house, but a dog prevented the party from entering. Mrs. Holland says she knows the party, but does not wish to divulge the name at present.

Rendrick House Free Lunch.

Bean soup to-night. Liver and onions to-morrow morning. Largest oysters and little neck clams. Meals served at all hours.

A New Postal Rolling.

The postoffice department has decided that a request to pay a bill can be sent on a postal card, but that it must contain no threat or intimation as to what will be done if the debt is not paid.

Weller's for Your Lunches.

Delicious ox-tail soup for free lunch to-morrow morning.

For Sale at Once.

Household furniture, carpets, bedding, piano, dishes, etc. Apply at 232 West Oak street. 8-29-tf

Teething children should be treated with Luke's soothing syrup.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK.

LUCK.

In fishing around the market we found a couple barrels of extra fine Norway mackerel cheap. Very fat and white. Not large. Weigh about 3-4 of a pound. 14 cents a pound. We have the big ones, too; weigh 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 pounds, for little more money. These are the finest fish caught, and we can not always buy the small ones.

Graf's,

122 North Jardin St., Shenandoah.