THE MARYLAND HEROES.

Dedication of a Monument to Their Valor in the Revolution

BROOKLYN, Aug. 28.—This city was en fete yesterday in honor of Maryland heroes, Since the historical battle of Long Island, which was fought 119 years ago the memory of those brave Maryland sol-diers, who were killed by the British and Hessian forces on that memorable occasion, has been revered by every patriotic

The bodies of 256 of those brave men are buried in a lot situated between Seventh and Eighth streets, on Third avenue; but up to the present time there has been very little to show where these honored remains have laid. Yesterday a monument in honor of the Maryland pahad taken a fourth of a bottle I was very triots, erected by the Maryland Society of much better, I also used Hood's Phis and the Sons of the American Revolution, in Prospect park, was unveiled.

The oration was delivered by Colonel Pearre, and the speech presenting the monument to the city of Brooklen was by Colonel William Ridgely Griffin. In accepting the gift Mayor Schleren referred feelingly to the patriotism of Maryland's

The monument is in the form of a Corinthian column and stands twenty-seven feet high. The shaft proper is of highly polished Tennessee marble, sixteen feet high, surmounted by a bronze cannon ball. The shaft rests on a block of granite, and this has as its foundation a mound twelve feet in height. The inscriptions are in bronze raised letters.

The ceremonies attending the unveiling of the Maryland monument were concluded last night with a banquet tendered to the visiting guests at the Hotel St. George, on Clark street.

Sloux City's Latest Tragedy.

Stoux City, Ia., Aug. 28.—Startling developments came to light yesterday in connection with Sunday morning's double tragedy, in which Max Noack and Ira Minter, alias Hazel Hammond, lost their lives. The most important find was the discovery of the imprint of a strange man's hand on the dust in the room in which the bodies were found and an exit to the alley below, which had not been noticed before. A hammer with what appears to be human blood on it was also found. It is now thought that this hammer figured in the killing. Last evening Maud Hoyle and Dan Berry, a pugilist who formerly lived in Omaha, were arrested charged with murder in the first degree. The of-ficers have become convinced that the couple were killed by a third person whose identity is as yet unknown, for the purpose of robbery.

When the warrant and specifications had been read the court went into executive session. Lieutenant Draper said that the question of structural weakness would not be investigated by the court, although it might be brought up by Captain Sumner, who will be the principal witness.

To Punish the Bull Fighters. DENVER, Aug. 28. -J. H. Wolfe, of Cripple Creek, the promoter of the Gillette bull fights, was arrested yesterday. Officers have been sent to Gillette to arrest the Mexican bull fighters, together with the Meadows boys, Arizona Charley and the Kid. Adjutant General Moses and his assistant, General Klee, swore out the warrants, which charged conspiracy, and will conduct the prosecution.
