A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the "female weakness," peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use. Sent for a free pamphlet or receipt 10 cents in stamps for book (48 pages) on "Women and Her Diseases." Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Washington's Greens.

Local W. Washburn's great allied shows, big drawing circus, musical, monogram and hippodrome shows to town tomorrow, August 29. Manager Washburn, while being among the younger school of circus owners, is also one of the wealthiest, and in organizing his shows for this season he has spared no money to secure the best for every department. His horses, many of them imported, are models of horse-flesh, while his trained animals do everything but talk. They will appear at every performance with their original trainer. A royal troupe of Japanese, imported expressly for this show enterprise, and the only double troupe ever brought to this country, is another feature. The hippodrome department is certainly the largest ever seen with traveling organization, and the many most trials of strength and athletic games are well stirring and worth going miles to see. The menagerie is large and the varied denizens of field, forest and jungle, are to be found in this large collection.

Purchased the Screen Factory.

The screen factory at the corner of Coal and Emerick streets, operated by W. A. Wilde, has passed into the hands of A. L. Graf, of town, who will assume charge on the 26 of September. Mr. Graf is well qualified to conduct the business, having been connected with the factory for some time. He contemplates making many improvements and will thus be in a position to turn out work with better satisfaction and upon short notice.

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold; was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in the St. Paul Volks Zeitung I procured a bottle, and after taking it a short while was entirely well. I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cold. Wm. Keil, 678 Selby Ave., St. Paul, Minn. For sale by Grubler Bros., Druggists.

party against the use of money in politics; to resistance to corporate control of Legislatures and Municipal Councils and the enslavement of public employees.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28, 9 a. m.—Last night and this morning Harrisburg is a howling mob. Bands are playing in all directions, and the streets and hotels are crowded. The upper Schuylkill delegates arrived yesterday morning, and are quartered at the Columbus Hotel, while the others are at the Bolton and private houses. To kill time, they went out on the trolley, and Joseph Perry, of Shamokin, came near being left behind, and would but for the heroic howling of B. J. Yost and Alexander Strouse.

All yesterday afternoon was spent in conferences by the adherents of the two factions. The Quay headquarters are at the Lochiel, while the Governor and his friends are quartered at the Commonwealth. In this hotel the Philadelphia delegation is holding forth with booster Voorhees and his grip, and is still ready to exchange its contents for votes for his man Gilkeson. If the crowds are any criterion to judge by the Combine is not in it.

Danny Cox, of Drifton, is here with a large crowd of heels. Shades of Eckley R. Cox! To think of his degenerate nephew tying himself to a politician like Dave Martin, who was that sterling old Democrat's part accession of all politicians!

Lancers turn out large delegations wearing white duck caps with "Blue" in large letters, while Laekavara comes out strong with white badges to help boom Willard. Loyal souls send delegation to shout for Gilkeson. At both the Quay and Hastings headquarters badges were distributed by hundreds and every shouter has a half dozen plastered all over his manly bosom. The stock on hand gave out at both places and had to be renewed. Some of the heels were pinning them on the colored wenchos about the streets and it was quite amusing to see a fat old manny with a Quay badge on one side of her ample bosom and a Hastings one on the other.

The crowd is a good-natured one and a great deal of good-natured chaffing goes on. The Quay caucus was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd, and it was simply impossible to restrict admission only to delegates. The caucus was presided over by Senator Bolos Penrose, while Senator Kennedy, of Allegheny, acted as Secretary. On calling the roll 500 delegates answered to their names, not including the three from Northumberland who were present, but, while giving their adhesion to the Junior Senator, refrained from answering roll-call for diplomatic reasons. On motion of Hon. T. V. Cooper who, alas, is now gray-headed but still hopeful, a committee consisting of Hon. D. D. Phillips, of Schuylkill, and ex-Speaker Thompson, of Warren, were appointed to escort Senator Quay to the hall. Our David soon found him and brought the Senator to the room. His appearance was the signal for a storm of applause that was deafening and long continued, and in a few well-chosen remarks expressed his gratification and thanked the delegates for their support. After appointing a committee to name the temporary and permanent officers and arrange the order of business the caucus adjourned with rousing cheers.

The street outside of the hall was so densely crowded that it was almost impossible and the cheering inside was echoed by the surging mass outside. The streets at this hour are alive with people shouting for Quay, and it is no longer doubtful as to whether the combination of city bosses and contractors or Senator Quay will direct the politics of the state of Pennsylvania.

One feature of the case now occupying the attention of the politicians is the nomination for Superior Judges. It is quite probable that all the Governor's appointees will not draw prizes, and Willard, of Scranton, is likely to be the first to drop, as he has been unqualifiedly identified with Hastings and Gilkeson, as has also Orsley, of Huntington. But just likely what is to occur it is hazardous to venture a prediction. The Schuylkill delegation met after the caucus and resolved upon a course of action which, in certain contingencies, may result in placing a Schuylkill lawyer upon the ticket. All the delegates, and a large number of the representatives here, are united upon it, and it is among the possibilities, though there is nothing definite.

NOTES.

The Schuylkill delegation held their caucus in the large offices of Judge Hargest, opposite the Lochiel. Senator Keefer says he never saw such a crowd at a convention—it beats the crowd when Delamater was nominated.

Hon. D. D. Phillips is here, there and everywhere, and doing all possible for the Schuylkill people here.

Bolos Penrose had the caucus with him from the word go.

The banners in the parade last night were ornamented with hogs being slaughtered and other devices that took the crowd.

Parades last night had the number "1600" on their banners fifteen minutes after the caucus adjourned.

Sam Matt Friday, of Lancaster, ex-Collector of Internal Revenue, was an enthusiastic supporter of the Junior Senator.

The Governor's headquarters at the Commonwealth were rather a dejected air about midnight.

The Wilkes-Barre crowd scattered more rick about Harrisburg than fifty wedding parties. Showers greeted you all along the streets.

Pittsburg turned out strong to back up its favorite, Chris Magee, but they are not as noisy today as they were at noon yesterday.

Squire Tom Williams was the only Hastings man from upper Schuylkill on the train, and had to stand a lot of chaffing.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at A. Wasley's Drug Store.

MENACE TO PROPERTY.

A Case Requiring Immediate Attention From Borough Authorities.

Shortly before nine o'clock this morning the fire department was called out to the north end of Poplar street, where smoke was being issuing from a stable used by John K. Jones as a place of storage for rags, bones and powder kegs. The services of the fire departments were not required, but Chief Fire Marshal Leary found room for an inspection. The alarm was caused by dense clouds of smoke pouring out of the stable and the Marshal learned that the source of the smoke was one of the most glaring violations of the borough ordinances and safety of property that has been brought to light for some time. Jones has been making the stable a place of residence as well as storage and has a kitchen range in one part of it. The pipe reaches to within a few inches of the slanting roof of the building, where a piece of sheet iron is fastened. There is no chimney, nor apology for one. The sheet iron is intended to keep sparks from the roof, and the smoke is left to make its way out through the crevices between the boards at the sides and in the roof. As an additional source of danger the range is less than eight inches from a wooden partition covered with old bags. Jones had started a fire in the range to make his breakfast. He agreed to put out the fire, but declared that no authority in the town could compel him to remove the stove. Fire Marshal Leary threw several buckets of water on the fire and extinguished it, while Jones rummaged among the foul contents of the stable, muttering something about the rights of people to intrude on his premises. The committee on fires should give the case its immediate attention. The residents of the vicinity have made repeated complaints about Jones' methods and say that his promises to abate nuisances are broken as soon as made. It is necessary that he should be compelled to either build a chimney, or remove the range from the stable.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages, this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. P. O. S. OF A CONVENTION.

Over Six Hundred Delegates are Present at the Gathering.

The state convention of the P. O. S. of A., began at Allentown yesterday and will be in session three days. Over 600 delegates are in attendance. The reports show the order to have had a very prosperous year, the increase in membership being 4164. The enrollment is 51,798. Benefits paid, $107,882; assets of camps, $837,143; number of camps, 649. The state camp has a balance of $3,793 on hand.

The state officers were elected yesterday afternoon, but the result was not known until today. The fight for state president between C. F. Huth, the present incumbent, and Maj. Reed, of Philadelphia, was very spirited. C. F. Huth was re-elected by 26 majority; George B. Anderson, of Wilkes-Barre, Vice President; Harry W. Aikens, of Norristown, Master of Forms; H. F. Trumbore, of South Bethlehem, State Conductor. Weand and Smith were re-elected State Secretary and State Treasurer respectively.

Pottsville and Altoona are in the lead for the place of holding the next state convention. The oratorical contest was held last night, and was attended by a large crowd. It was one of the pleasing and instructive features of the convention. W. H. K. Patterson, of Philadelphia, received the first prize; F. C. Knowles, of Pottsville, second; Harry Lucas, of Philadelphia, third prize.

G. L. Hafner, of town, was appointed a member of the committee on State of the Order.

THE POLICE CASES.

Justice Lawlor Holds the Officers Under $1000 Bail Each.

Last night Joe Miller, Joe Ramakiss and Stiney Davittus appeared as prosecutors before Justice Lawlor against Chief of Police Toshi, Lieutenant Lee, Patrolmen Hand and Walakiss and Special Officer Martin Mullahy, charging assault and battery and false arrest. The complainants are three of the men who were caught in the raid made by the police early Monday morning. They claim they were arrested without warrants and at the time the raid was made they, with another man and the girl Susie Burke, were seated at a table. The men had a pitcher of beer and the girl a glass of soda water. Nothing improper was going on. One of the men was a visitor from Girardville and another and the girl had just returned from Leont Dale, where she had been visiting her mother.

Chief of Police Toshi said that the police had acted under his orders and he was responsible for anything that had been done. Justice Lawlor said he would have to hold all the police if they did anything wrong in the light of assault and battery, or false arrest, and as the officers waived a hearing, he fixed the bail at $100 each, which was furnished.

A Perfect Force.

Postmaster Michael Mullett to-day received a letter from the postal department at Washington informing him that the Secret Service Department had reported the Shenandoah postal service in excellent condition. Two Secret Service officers spent several days here last July spotting the carrier force. The only faults found were two, and they were of a minor character. On July 20th one of the letter carriers neglected to wear his number on his cap and the change in the schedule of collections and deliveries of mail was not shown by the cards on the letter boxes. Our carrier force is to be congratulated on this excellent endorsement.
