Mahanoy City Business College.

The work of organizing the new Business College in Mahanoy City was begun last week, and the way students are enrolling it will be a very successful business school.

Being a branch of the excellent Wilkes-Barre Business College, and the management offering so low rates of tuition for the first year to organize it thoroughly, it gives the people of this county an opportunity to attend a first-class business college at nearly half the usual cost.

A Charter Membership is issued which entitles the holder to a complete course (time unlimited) in the commercial and English branches, and shorthand and typewriting for only $50. In night school only $40. There will be excellent teachers and thorough courses. In the commercial department the celebrated Sessler system will be used for teaching accounts. It is being adopted now by the best and largest schools in the country. The shorthand and typewriting department will be nicely equipped. The Standard Graham system of shorthand will be taught, and both Remington and Smith Premier Typewriters used.

For further particulars write to G. W. WILLIAMS, Principal.

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the "weaknesses" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use. Send for a free pamphlet, or write to the publishers for book (109 pages) on "Women and Her Diseases." Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pills are especially constipation, sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and kindred ailments.

Outstanding Taxes.

The County Commissioners say the indifference of tax collectors in settling their duplicates has caused the county treasury to run very low, and they are now agitating the question of compelling the delinquent collectors to pay up. On the first of January last there remained unpaid on the duplicates of '92, '93 and '94 the sum of $121,000. Up to this time about $60,000 of the above amount has been turned in, leaving about half still outstanding. The Commissioners have been compelled to make a number of temporary loans, the aggregate of which foot up to $100,000. This is the heaviest indebtedness of the county, and, together with the bonded indebtedness, which is $300,000, puts on a nice little strain annually in interest payments. The Commissioners have decided to adopt strong measures to bring the collectors who are delinquent to time.

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold; was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in the St. Paul Volks Zeitung I procured a bottle, and after taking it a short while was entirely well. I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cold. Wm. Keil, 678 Selby Ave., St. Paul, Minn. For sale by Grahler Bros., Druggists.

Clasche-Carroll Found.

Charles, the 13-year-old son of Justice J. J. Clasche, who was reported missing, was found last night. His brother found him on the mountain north of town and induced him to return home, where there was much rejoicing by the family, especially on the part of the parents, who had become almost distracted. This morning the boy again attended school. In giving an account of himself Charles said that while in school on Tuesday morning he became depressed with the idea that the other pupils of the class were ridiculing him on account of his stammering. At noon he concluded to neither return home nor to school and went up on the mountain. He remained there until night and then sought shelter in a shanty at the rear of his home. Early in the morning (he again) went to the mountain and remained there until found by his brother. He failed to return home during yesterday, but he might be punished for truancy from school. When he got home last night his parents were so much rejoiced that they forgot about the truancy and there was a killing of the fatted calf instead of serious lecturing.

The Lavelle Fair.

The 10th annual fair will be held at the Lavelle grounds, Ashland, Pa., on September 11, 12 and 13. The grounds are conveniently located, and premiums of $2,500 are offered. Many new features have been added this year. Japanese performers will give daily exhibitions, and the Midway Plaisance will be an attraction. There will be trotting, racing and running races. 8-25-06

Picnic at Lakeside.

The Trinity Reformed Sunday school and many friends held a picnic at Lakeside today. Unfortunately their pleasures were interrupted by the storm, but not until several very pleasant hours were spent.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Chambersburg, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use. He would not be without it, if possible. G. A. Dyckman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy, that he has used in his family for eight years, and it has never failed in the slightest. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested? Trial bottles free at A. Wadley's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

every promise of being one of the most exciting ever known in the state, developed into a "love feast," and wound up about as tamely as any ever seen here. The confining, for purposes of safety, of the spectators' tickets to 100 for each faction, while a prudent move, robbed the proceedings of much of the usual accompaniment of noise, and the customary band playing between the acts was noticeable by reason of its absence.

The first battle between the factions came on the election of a temporary chairman. The Quay candidate won by a majority of thirty, and after this the senator had his own way completely.

An incident of the day was the offering by Senator Quay of a resolution calling for the publication of politics and civil service in all branches of the public service, which was afterwards embodied in the platform.

Because of the fear that the outside rabble might break in it was deemed unwise to open the doors of the hall after all entitled to admission were inside, and it was necessary for the fifty platform makers to get in one corner and discuss their business. The anti-Quay minority, led by Congressman Dalzell, fought for a more definite expression in favor of sound money, and being outvoted in committee, brought their fight to the convention floor and here carried their point without much opposition, Senator Quay accepting their plank as an addition to the one in his own platform. The resolutions were prepared by men opposed to Governor Hastings, and the matter of endorsing his administration was very nearly overlooked, a thoughtful delegate offering the necessary plank a few minutes before final adjournment.

The day was the hottest of the season, and for more than four hours the delegates, newspapermen and spectators were imprisoned in a sweltering atmosphere without food or drink. With a few exceptions, every man sat in his shirt sleeves, Senator Quay being one of the first to set the example.

The delegates who arrived early found over 125 men in the hall, guarding the entrance to prevent roughs and hoisters from taking possession of the premises. They had been there all night and showed evidence of their long vigil as they marched out of the hall shortly before the hour for convening.

Although there was an outward indication of harmony and forgiveness, it is said that this extends only to Governor Hastings and his friends. Those on the platform observed that Senator Quay did not look at or speak to C. L. Mages, David Martin and Senator Porter, the men who have led the fight against him, and it is predicted that the wounds now temporarily healed will be reopened in a very short while.

Tamaqua's Electric Light.

At an adjourned meeting of the Borough Council of Tamaqua a contract was made with the Edison Electric Light Company to furnish the borough with eighty arc lights, 2,000 candle power each, at $75 per light per year. Hereafter the borough had incandescent light only, and the citizens had aspirated arc lighting, and Council headed it. The Edison is the best company. A New York company had also put in a bid.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Hereafter the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages; this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Grahler Bros., Druggists.

The Circus.

Washburn's circus tents were pitched at the Trotting park today and at noon a very creditable street parade was given. The storm interfered considerably with the performance, which was said to be very good by those who were in attendance.

The Coal Trade.

The anthracite coal trade appears to have at last struck bottom for low prices, and from the best information we can gather, from now on the general situation of the trade should improve, says the Philadelphia Ledger.

The larger producing and carrying companies are no longer inclined to look orders for future delivery at the ruling low prices, and they are also more strictly controlling their own output of coal by partial suspension of colliery operations as well as holding down the production of the individual operators by keeping short the supply of cars in the mining regions. On a trip through the anthracite fields the absence of the usual long trains of coal cars, either full or empty, is quite noticeable, and neither are they to be found standing along the lines of the railroads, hence the belief that many of the coal cars are now being used to store coal at the tidewater or lake shipping points.

Several of the companies are reported to be now short of stove and egg coal, but chestnut and the other "junior" sizes, pea and buckwheat, are stacked almost mountains high at the storage pockets in the mining regions. For the smaller steam sizes the companies expect a largely increased demand during the fall and winter, when they will be required for both manufacturing and steam heating purposes, and then the companies expect to get better prices, while they would have to sacrifice the coal if any further effort is made to move the surplus tonnage now at the prevailing low quotations.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken very ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the Remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is, as I do. Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion Co., Florida. For sale by Grahler Bros., Druggists.

The P. O. S. of A.

The third day's session of the state camp of the P. O. S. of A., now being held at Altoona, was very largely attended. It was decided to hold the next convention at Altoona, and the semi-centennial celebration of 1897 will be held at Reading. A. B. Conger, of Scranton, was elected State Lecturer. Today's parade was very large, about 3,000 men being in line. The following appropriations were made: State president, $500; vice president, $50; secretary, $180; an increase of $200; Camp News, $750. The per capita tax was increased, after a hot debate, from 10 to 15 cents. A session was held last night, and the business of the session completed. After installation of officers the state camp adjourned. Most of the delegates remained today to witness the parade.

Annie Saves John Again.

Bright and early this morning John Sneddon and his wife, Annie, made the vicinity of their residence on North White street noisy by indulging in a vigorous disagreement, and shortly after Mrs. Sneddon applied to Justice Lawlor for John's arrest, charging him with beating and kicking her and smashing some ornaments in her parlor. The warrant was issued and executed and John is awaiting trial on charges by his wife for the fourth or fifth time since last December. He is a one-armed veteran of the rebellion and those who have watched the progress of the litigation say that John will be at home again about the time his pension falls due. It is said that between pension days John gets cranky and his wife swears him behind the bars as soon as he commits an overt act, but as the time for the pension to be paid draws nigh she relaxes and everything becomes lovely again. Yearly, this is a funny world.

A Lively Time.

Chief of Police Tush had a lively time this morning. He called at the residence of Mrs. Moses Winestone, on West Coal street, to make an attachment on some furniture under the insolvent debtor act. Mrs. Winestone jumped at the officer with a determination to punch his head and quite a struggle followed. Tush forced the woman to the street with the intention of taking her to the backup, but she became agitated and was released. The attachment was made on a claim for $40 by Isadore Lubenstein against Mrs. Winestone's husband.

Went to a Good Place.

At noon today a Hungarian with a wild side in his eyes, hatbox, and as nervous as a cat, made a dash out on Poplar street into Jardin, and on to the porch of the English Lutheran church. Seizing the brass knob of one of the doors he held on to it like a drowning man to a plank. Some people thought he was a Hindu in distress seeking a place to hide his head, but he proved to be a Pole named Rice who has been acting strangely of late. Two citizens took charge of the man and escorted him to his home on Poplar street.
