THE DEFENDER'S VICTORY!

The American Yacht Wins the First Race.

VALKYRIE FIRST TO GET AWAY.

But the Yankee Makes a Spurt and Skims Ahead Around the Turn, Continually Gaining on the British Boat to the End of the Race.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The first race of a series of three best in five between the British yacht Valkyrie III and the Yankee yacht Defender for the America's cup, the 1,000-ton championship of the world, was sailed Saturday afternoon outside of Sandy Hook, and resulted in a victory for the Defender that was, in some respects, the most notable known in the history of English attempts to build a better yacht than the Americans could do.

The figures show that the Valkyrie crossed the line four seconds in advance of the Defender; that the Defender rounded the flag marking half the journey in windward work, three minutes and twenty-three seconds in advance of the Valkyrie, and that the Defender crossed the finish line eight minutes and sixteen seconds in front of the Valkyrie. With the time corrected, the Defender won by eight minutes and forty-nine seconds, truly a victory which must satisfy all America.

All of the work on the run out to the mark was windward. In this the Defender showed but little superiority until within the last three or four miles, when, by a wonderful flight of speed, she caught her swift rival, which was doing fine work at the time, and went ahead, almost as would a steamer, round the flag, three minutes and twenty-three seconds in the lead. The return, instead of being a run as it was thought it would be, developed into a broad reach on the port tack, and in this kind of work the Defender showed even more superiority over her rival than she did in the windward work, beating her in the fifteen mile reach four minutes and fifty-seven seconds.

The yachts seemed very closely matched for the first two hours of the race, the advantage of either being always problematical and very slight, but from the time the Defender put on the burst of speed, which the 50,000 who saw it will never forget, the result of the race was very plain and it became simply a question of minutes.

Both yachts were superbly handled, and the finer lads from the coast of Maine need yield not a jot the palm to their English cousins. If anything the American boat was the better handled. Beginning right at the start the Valkyrie was first over the line to be sure, but she was not in the windward berth in which Captain Spearman had dreamed for months to land her. The Defender had the weather berth.

On the run out the boats kept together very closely. After one hour and forty minutes of tight sailing the Valkyrie, farther ahead but to leeward, essayed to cross the Defender's bow and put the American in the leeward berth, but Cranfield failed and his failure was greeted by an uproar from the whole fleet. On rounding the flag and starting for home the Defender's crew set her balloon jib with a most gratifying quickness and dexterity. The Valkyrie's crew did not begin to equal this performance. On the reach in Haff kept up his stay sail in addition to the balloon jib from the first. Cranfield did not set his on the Valkyrie until at least a quarter of the way home. When the Defender crossed the finish line her crew were forwarded and had the balloon jib in and stowed before the fleet realized it.

The Valkyrie is a light weather boat. There is no doubt of this. Of the work that she has done her best performances have been in light airs. She was built for light winds, and Dunraven held out strongly for race dates early in September, hoping for the light winds which his yacht was designed to meet. Surely there is but little probability that his yacht will meet lighter winds than she met Saturday. Two-thirds of the race was sailed in a six or seven knot breeze and at times the wind did not blow more than five knots an hour. In the last half of the reach home the wind freshened to a nine or ten knot speed, and the result was that the Defender perceptibly increased her lead.

Not one yachtsman in ten can be found who will not prophesy three straight victories for the Defender. This is due in a measure to reaction, for nobody looked for such an easy victory in Valkyrie weather. The official time table is as follows:

Yacht	Start	Mark	Finish	Time
Defender	12:20:59	3:31:29	5:21:14	3:00:24
Valkyrie	12:20:46	3:31:32	5:29:59	3:08:44

Valkyrie allows twenty-nine seconds.

It is estimated by the syndicate owners of Defender, C. Oliver Iselin, E. D. Morgan and W. K. Vanderbilt, that their expenses in connection with the present series for the America's cup will amount to not less than $240,000.

Hardly less than this amount will be expended by Lord Dunraven in the same good cause, and it is impossible to estimate what it cost the 50,000 people who utilized the steamers in viewing the contest on Saturday.

NEITHER SIDE SCORED.

An Interesting Game of Foot Ball at the Trotting Park.

About two hundred people went to the Trotting park Saturday afternoon to witness the football game between the Shenandoah and Columbia teams, both composed of local players. The teams lined up at 4:45. They were very evenly matched and, although the ball was kept in Columbia's territory most of the time, neither side was able to send it across the line.

The Columbia possessed the advantage of knowing their opponents' signals and blocked them in every move.

The Shenandoahs were handicapped by the absence of four of their regular team and, to some extent, presented a patched up appearance. Notwithstanding this they put up a good contest. The game was called after 10 minutes of play in the second half, owing to the retirement of Ormsby, who had been injured. The features of the game were the tackling of Ormsby and the heady running of Price and McHale. The teams played as follows:

Shenandoah.	Positions.	Columbia.
Lavelle	Center	Davis
McHale	Guard	Scorlan
Haffner	Guard	McNulty
Malkin	Tackles	Morrison
Burch	Tackles	McGeever
Monaghan	Ends	Grady
Price	Ends	Stuck
Burke	Quarterback	Ormsby
Warr	Halfback	Carl
Shortall	Halfback	McCormick
Burkhardt	Fullback	Stanton

The Coxie Funeral.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

DUNFON, Sept. 9.—The funeral of the late Daniel H. Coxie took place at 1:15 this afternoon. The remains were interred in a grave beside the grave of the deceased's uncle, Hon. Eckley B. Coxie. The funeral was the largest ever held in this region.

The employees of the D. S. & S. Railroad, the Freedland Board of Trade, the Young Men's T. A. B. Society and the pupils of the borough and St. Ann's schools were in attendance. All the business places in Freedland were closed this afternoon. The floral tributes were beautiful. The D. S. & S. R. H. telegraph operators presented two telegraph poles with a parted wire; the trainmen, two car wheels, mounted on a broken axle, bearing the name Danny; the office employees a pyramid with a memorial base containing the words Daniel Coxie.

Tamaqua Hoffmans Won.

The long-pending match for $30 a side between W. Hoffman and J. Hoffman, of Tamaqua, and N. Hoffman and C. Burke, of Mahanoy City, took place at Mahanoy City park on Saturday. The shoot was to be at seven birds each, but owing to a mishap to one of the boxes in which a number of the birds were confined, four of them made their escape and the parties then agreed to let the match stand at six. Some excellent shooting was done by the quartette. The Tamaqua team won by the score of 5 to 0.

BURSTING OF A WATER PIPE

No Supply From the Borough Plant For Several Hours.

PRESSURE ON A WEAK POINT!

The East Mahanoy Junction Land and Improvement Company to Establish a Pipe Line—To Benefit Ashland, Girardville and Other Places.

A serious mishap occurred to one of the mains of the public water works Saturday afternoon and the supply of water was cut off for several hours. The accident happened at about 2:30 and the plant was out of service until 1 o'clock yesterday morning. It was due to the lead of a joint at the corner of Coal and Emerick streets being forced out by pressure of the water and it is the same joint that gave out a few weeks ago when the Councilmen were experimenting with the pumps at Brandonville.

The point is the most important and yet the weakest of the whole pipe line system. The main supplies all the pipes in the town and at the corner stated it makes a turn west on to Coal street. It is just at the turn that the troublesome joint is located. The full pressure of the water strikes the bend and it is quite likely that the construction at this point will have to be remodelled. A few feet west of the bend is a T that sends a branch supply south on Emerick street. It has been suggested that by placing the T at the bend the trouble can be averted.

When the break occurred Superintendent Betteridge was at the Brandonville station and several members of the water committee were out of town and nothing was done but the shutting off of the water until about eight o'clock at night. Meanwhile there was much complaint in the town over the cutting off of the water. Many people did not know what had happened and they complained bitterly because they had not received notice. Manager Hutchinson, of the Ferguson House, was among the most bitter complainants and claimed that four guests left his hotel during the night because they could get no water and went to Mahanoy City. His complaint was about the delay in making the repairs.

At about eight o'clock in the evening Councilmen Gable, Straughlin, Kane, Hoese and McGuire, Superintendent Betteridge and ex-Councilmen Gallagher and Lamb went to the place in overalls and commenced work. Two workmen had been laboring, but the force was too small to do any good and several additional laborers were sent for. All hands, including the borough fathers, worked like heroes until one o'clock yesterday morning jacking up and calking the pipes and removing a valve near the oil tanks which was damaged by workmen injudiciously applying power while turning off the water. The stem of the valve was badly twisted.

After the repairs were completed the Councilmen agreed that it would be advisable to put iron clamps to strengthen the joint and this morning workmen started to make the improvement.

Another disadvantage at the point of trouble is that three sewer pipes pass under the main, thereby weakening it, and the jarring caused by the railway trains passing close by.

As regards the consideration of water works there is a well defined and, apparently, well authenticated report that the East Mahanoy Junction Land and Improvement Company is making arrangements to relieve the people of Girardville, Ashland and other places down the valley who are suffering through a lack of or impure supply of water. The company now figuring on the cost of putting pumps is at the Lakeside dams and pumping water to the towns mentioned. It will only be necessary to put the water half way through the Mahanoy tunnel and from that point gravity will carry the supply to all the desired places.
