STATE TICKET.

STATE TREASURER, BENJAMIN J. HAYWOOD, of Mercer.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGES,

JAMES A. BRAUER, of Centre. E. W. WILLARD, of Lackawanna. CHARLES E. ROE, of Luzerne. GEORGE B. ORLANDY, of Huntington. JOHN J. WICKHAM, of Beaver. HOWARD REEDER, of Northampton.

DEFENDER is a yacht that can defend.

It would seem that John Bull will not be able to try the eagle's talons of the American's cup this year, and the lion will be obliged to go home again with his tail behind his legs for the forty-fifth time.

The death of Daniel Cox, of Drifton, removes from the sphere of human activity, a young man of much promise whose prospects were of the brightest kind.

The old soldiers are dropping off rapidly. The famous Bucktail regiment, which held its ninth reunion at Lock Haven last week, had a total enlistment of 1374 during its three years service and has but 314 survivors, scattered over 22 states of the Union.

A BREAK in a main of the public water works deprived the HERALD of the use of its water motor and delayed the issue of the paper until a much later hour than usual. The Sunday News very generously allowed the use of its press and we take this opportunity to acknowledge the courtesy.

SHOULD the Valkyrie win three out of the five heats with the Defender it will be worth a whole lifetime of three score years and ten to see her do it, for it will of necessity prove the Britisher to be a boat superior to any ever dreamt of, even when in fancy the most patriotic laid the lines of Defender. To do it she must beat a boat immeasurably superior to any that ever before did service in defense of the trophy.

THERE were many aspirants for political office on Saturday to take in the Labor Day observance and loudly say: "I am for the working man." In this district they were not heard, as the day was hardly noticed and nearly all the workmen were at work, where the voices of politicians are seldom heard.

PENNSYLVANIA will be extensively represented at the Atlanta exposition, and it will be largely on account of the fraternity of feeling existing among the newspaper people of Atlanta and Pennsylvania. At the convention of the International League of Press Clubs in May, 1889, acquaintances were made and ties were formed between Pennsylvania and Georgia which resulted profitably and pleasantly for both states.

THE STATE LEAGUE.

The last game of the State League of base ball clubs will be played next Saturday, and with the final decisions of the umpires on that day will close one of the most unsuccessful seasons of base ball ever played by a league in this state. The many changes of locations of clubs in the league during the season, caused by a lack of patronage at several places, caused an almost lack of general interest and the more the clubs changed the more apparent it became that the league was built on wind and that the many individual and joint promises made before the season opened had their birth on paper and died there.

President Hanlon undoubtedly acted in good faith, and had he been given the support promised would have given the people all that was promised, so far as he was concerned. But after the season opened it was found that boasted backing of clubs here and there was not forthcoming; the failure of the "ghost" to walk on salary day discouraged the players; guarantees went by default, and step by step the league tottered towards dissolution. Several times it drifted into this channel and was only saved by herculean work on the part of President Hanlon. This he accomplished in spite of the disclosure that only one or two of the clubs had posted the required guarantee to finish the season. Pottsville, the town that supported the champions last year, was among the towns to go down long before the season closed, and this did more than anything else to diminish interest in the game in this county. Harrisburg and Allentown also injured the league considerably when they withdrew. The withdrawal of Shenandoah was of little importance, as league base ball was only an experiment here. For several weeks the league has been hanging on by its eyelids, as it were, and little if any interest has been manifested in the games played by the four remaining clubs. As a whole, the past season has almost killed state base ball and it will be difficult to put it on its feet again. However, plenty of time will elapse before the opening of another season and meanwhile the past may drift into oblivion and sufficient interest may be revived in the game to insure full bleachers. It is doubtful, however, if State League uniforms will be worn in Shenandoah again, unless it should be by a visiting club in an exhibition game. The majority of the people of Shenandoah take great delight in the game, but those who care to contribute liberally to its support can be easily counted.

A woman in the Case.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 9.—Particulars have been received of the killing of Konra Regin by Dean Tompkins, just across the Kentucky line near Livingston. Tompkins is United States commissioner of Clinton county, and is said to be a desperate character. A woman named Edington, young, beautiful and rich, is said to have been the cause of the shooting.

Slow Progress Made in the Durrant Trial. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The trial of Theodore Durrant will be resumed tomorrow, today being a state holiday. During the past week little progress was made in the taking of testimony. None of the really important witnesses for the people have been placed on the stand, and no material points have yet been made against the defendant.

Counterfeiter Bradford Recaptured.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Chief W. P. Hazen, of the United States secret service, with his detectives, succeeded in recapturing Dr. Orlando Bradford, of the Brooklyn gang, who escaped from his office on Aug. 4, while under arrest charged with counterfeiting. Incidental to the capture, three other important arrests were made, and some valuable evidence seized.

Masonic Temple Burned.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Masonic temple, one of the finest Masonic buildings in the United States, was almost entirely destroyed by fire. The building was magnificently furnished, and the loss will probably reach $300,000.

In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Rushford, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not like to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and unequalled by any other. They are for sale here by Grubler Bros., Druggists.

Big Fire in Nova Scotia.

LIVERPOOL, N. S., Sept. 9.—A disastrous fire visited this place and the greater portion of the town is destroyed, entailing a loss of $75,000. The insurance was only $20,000 on the property burned. The fire was discovered in the midst of the business district, and the entire locality was threatened. The Trinity hotel, the Music Hall block, The Times and Advance offices and the Western Union Telegraph office were destroyed. From these ruins the flames communicated to several dwelling houses, which were also consumed, with their contents.

A Missing Insurance Agent's Shortage. WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Wilson E. Kramer, until last Saturday manager of the local branch of the People's Live Stock Insurance company, of Pennsylvania, is missing, and there is a shortage in his accounts variously estimated at from one to several thousand dollars. Kramer went into the employ of the company when he was very young, and for fourteen years has possessed the confidence of the managers.

Fatal Collision on the Rail. LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 9.—A head end collision occurred on the Cincinnati, Southern railroad near Blanchet, between two freight trains, one of them a double header. Two engines were demolished and the third badly used up and four cars were smashed. John Slosser, the fireman, and James Hendricks, a train man, were killed, and Engineer Roberts was injured, perhaps fatally.

Scrofula in the Eyes.

As well as in every other form, is permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. "I had scrofula in my eyes and tried several physicians but found no cure. My wife persuaded me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I had a choking sensation, was troubled with night sweats, and had dyspepsia in very severe form. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla two weeks the choking spells and dyspepsia troubled me less. I have now taken several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and find that I am entirely cured." WILLIAM L. PAYNE, Berryville, Virginia. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only True Blood purifier prominently in the public eye. It is sold for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

FEW KNOW ABOUT THE SHAKERS OF MOUNT LEBANON.

We may not accept their peculiar religious views. We cannot enter into the spirit of their sacrifices, and therefore we do not study their habits of life. It is not necessary to believe as they do, but we can and do respect their sincerity of purpose and the honor and brightness which mark all their business dealings. In one particular the Shakers excel all other men or classes of men. This is in the cultivation of medicinal herbs and plants. They have made it a study for more than one hundred years. They are also expert in extracting from them their characteristic essences and medicinal virtues. This is their peculiar industry. Their lives have been devoted to it. By it they are supported. They excel in their branch as do the monks of the order of St. Benedict with their famous liquor called "Beneficence." Now, this life-long study on the part of the Shakers has not been in vain. They have accomplished much good. Their medicinal extracts and cordials are known throughout the world. The Shaker Digestive Cordial is probably the most useful medicine ever given to the public. It is not a cure for all diseases; it doesn't pretend to be, but one disease it will cure, and that is indigestion. It is not pretended that it will cure anything else, and a sufferer has no long to wait to see the result. The effect is immediate. Almost the first dose will give relief, and, if continued, a permanent cure will follow. Every druggist has been sent a supply of our handsome Donkey Puzzle Books, and a copy may be had for the asking. It tells all about the Cordial as well as Laxol, the new castor oil. Try a twenty-five cent bottle of Digestive Cordial and see what it will do for you.

THE BRIDGE COLLAPSED.

Carrying With It Several Cars Filled with Passengers. CHEROKEE, Kan., Sept. 9.—Further particulars of the wreck of the west bound passenger train on the Cherokee branch of the Memphis railroad have been obtained. Twenty persons were seriously hurt. The wreck occurred at Lightning Creek, about a mile west of Monmouth, and was caused by the breaking of an axle on the rear coach. The breakdown occurred at a point 600 feet from the bridge. The car broke loose from the train after being dragged 300 feet and rolled over into the ditch, which was filled with backwater from the creek.

The accident caused the other cars to pitch and rock so badly that when the bridge was reached the baggage car struck the side timbers of the bridge and caused the whole structure to give way, thus precipitating all the other cars into the stream below, which is swollen from recent rains. The front coach followed the baggage car into the stream and rested partly upon the baggage car, which kept it from sinking into the water. The smoking car turned completely over and is now lying bottom up in the creek. The cars and bridge are completely wrecked.

Investigating an Express Robbery.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 9.—Assistant Superintendent Curtis, of the Adams Express company, arrived here at an early hour from Columbus, O. He is making a thorough investigation of the robbery of the company's safe by its local cashier, J. Don Farden. The city agent of the Vandallia railroad, J. R. Barnett, is known to be implicated in the crime. Disclosures develop the fact that the robbery had been planned for the last three months, and it is ascertained that both Farden and Barnett had packages of money in their possession before leaving town Friday night. The belief is widespread that Farden, who for many years has been a trusted employee of both the government and the express company, would not have run away with so small a sum as $16,000, the amount covered by the express officials as having been stolen.

Destructive Tornado in Kansas.

EMPORIA, Kan., Sept. 9.—Emporia and vicinity was visited by a tornado about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon which did $60,000 worth of damage at the state normal school. Considerable other damage was done down town. Clark's wholesale furniture store was wrecked and the stock of goods badly damaged. But meager reports have been received from the surrounding country, and it is feared the damage has been great. At Hartford, twelve miles southeast of here, several houses are reported blown down, and one woman, Miss Bessie Henry, dangerously injured. At Neosho Rapids a church and several buildings were destroyed.

Hit in a Saloon. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 8.—Mill Creek, a small salooning town here, was the scene of a riot Saturday night. After a game of baseball between amateur teams a crowd of spectators invaded the saloon of a Polisher named Paul Mazonski, and a fight started. Beer glasses and bottles were thrown about with terrible effect. Mazonski was injured so badly that it is feared he will die. One hundred Poles came to the rescue of their countryman, and the rioters fled to the railroad station, where they barricaded themselves. The superintendent of the railroad telegraphed to Sheriff Walters and sent a special train for him, but the ringleaders of the row surrendered before he arrived.

Boy Accidentally Shot. POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 9.—George Walker, aged about 9 years, was accidentally shot by Richard Morrison and almost instantly killed. Young Walker was watching Morrison and a companion, Frank Schuering, shoot at butternuts on a tree. He was a son of George P. Walker, ex-chief clerk to the county controller.

J., Sept. 9.—While driving across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Barton's Landing road, one-half mile east of Stanwick, David Verter, aged 40 years, employed by William P. Lippincott, of Hartford, was struck by express train No. 888, east bound from Philadelphia, and instantly killed. Both horses were killed and the wagon demolished.
