IRISH PATRIOTS IN SESSION.

Full of Enthusiasm at the Chicago Convention.

THE SPEECH OF HON. J. J. FINERTY

The Ex-Congressman Declares That Our Nation Should Disregard the Neutrality Laws in the Interest of Oppressed Cuba and Ireland.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—In the spacious auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association, a structure dedicated to "Peace on Earth and Good Will Towards Men," there were inaugurated yesterday the preliminaries of a movement that may be fraught with pregnant results to England and her little possession across the Irish channel, the progress of which will be watched with intense interest by sons of Erin throughout the civilized world. The delegates were slow in assembling, and it was not until noon that J. J. O'Connell, chairman of the local committee, called the convention to order and introduced ex-Congressman J. J. Finerty as temporary chairman.

Every seat in the hall was occupied. The delegates were seated by states, all the states in the Union being represented, as was also Canada and Australia. One of the scenes was the welcome tendered O'Donovan Rossa when he walked down the aisle and took a seat among the New York delegation. Rossa appeared hale and hearty, and seemed to feel the effects of time very lightly. There was one lady delegate, Miss Fannie O'Grady, of Chicago, came as a delegate, but her sister, also a delegate, was not present.

One of the most interesting events of the day was the presentation at the door of a certificate of a delegate to the convention of the Fenian Brotherhood held Jan. 17, 1895, in Cincinnati, by Owen McSwiney, Mr. McSwiney was not elected to the present convention, but owing to the fact that he held in his hand a certificate of eligibility to the second annual convention of the Fenian Brotherhood of America he was admitted.

A feature of Chairman Finerty's address which evoked special enthusiasm was his reference to Cuba.

"I am as good a citizen as any man," said Mr. Finerty during his speech, "but I would welcome the sight of 100,000 armed Americans breaking the neutrality laws in behalf of Cuba, and doubly could I welcome the sight of 500,000 armed Americans breaking the neutrality laws with England in behalf of Ireland."

"These are those who fear that we may do something here against the laws of the United States. Our loyalty to the United States is shown in the Stars and Stripes on our platform here, but our loyalty is a matter entirely independent of and separate from the neutrality laws. When has England paid any attention to neutrality laws? Certainly not in Ireland, wherever your presence is a standing memorial of her breach of neutrality laws. Though there be comparatively few Irishmen left in Ireland to bear the blows of the oppressor, there are twenty millions of Irishmen in every part of the world, ready and anxious to strike the blow that shall make the old country free."

In conclusion Mr. Finerty said: "We are here to proclaim to the world that the Irish race is by no means defeated or disheartened. There are more Irishmen to-day than were ever on the face of the earth before. We'll circle England with a wall of fire which shall never be extinguished until Ireland is free."

Chairman Finerty's spirited address was frequently interrupted by the cheering of the enthusiastic delegates. No attempt was made to transact business at the opening session, and at the conclusion of Mr. Finerty's speech the convention adjourned for luncheon.

Dearborn, and Charles Fisher, alias Boland, the alleged postoffice robbers and forgers, were taken out of the city today by the western detectives sent here after them. A Wheat Laden Barge Lost with Her Crew.

THE FULL-TIME SCHEDULE.

It is Predicted the Miners Will Have Steady Work for Several Months.

The announcement made in this paper on Monday to the effect that the Philadelphia & Reading Company collieries would work full time, was received with much gratification by the employes of that company and those dependent upon them. It is now semi-officially stated that the full-time schedule may continue for several months, or at least until the commencement of winter. This is such an unusual state of affairs in the coal region, that the announcement has already been felt by our business men, and they are anticipating a brisk fall trade. They will not be disappointed if the collieries continue on the present schedule.

The amount of orders coming in and the increased demand that is being made for coal, causes the belief that there is a bright outlook for this section, unless the continued drought may necessitate the shutting down of several collieries.

It is also stated that the Lehigh Valley Coal Company is making preparations to resume on full-time, but no official notice to that effect has as yet been issued.

"A Money Order."

The above play appeared at Hazleton, and the Daily Standard of that town says: "Julie Walters was seen here last evening for the first time in his new play, 'A Money Order.' The dialogue is spicy, and the action prompt and natural. There are many climaxes in the piece, which were loudly applauded, the whole company receiving a curtain call at the end of the third act. Mr. Walters assumed the role of a tramp to perfection, the entire absence of horse-play adding merit to the role. Miss Ada Walters performed a clever specialty that won a hearty encore. The different actors assumed their parts perfectly and were a great factor in the success of the piece." This play will be produced in Ferguson's theatre this evening, and should attract a big house. We have heard much favorable comment, and Manager Quirk, of Mahanoy City, where they played last evening, speaks in the highest terms of the performance. Quite a number of theatre-goers from that town will attend the performance here to-night.

THE COAL STREET SHOOTING

William Evans and John Curry Put Under Ball.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS APPEARS.

Joseph Boehm Gives Testimony as a Disinterested Party Showing That McHale Was Not Shot by One of His Companions.

Justice T. T. Williams made another effort last night to get at the bottom facts connected with the shooting of James McHale on the 19th inst. The investigation arose on a counter suit by Paul Meloshko, who is charged with the shooting. It was delayed by the confinement of Meloshko in the Pottsville jail pending the outcome of McHale's injuries. Last night the accused man was present, as well as William Evans, who is charged by Meloshko with having started the fight that led to the shooting. Charles Kanca, who was with Meloshko at the time of the shooting, and John Curry, who was one of Evans' companions, made their first appearance. Joseph Gorman, of Girdardville, who was also with Evans, has not turned up yet.

Considerable time was spent on the case during the evening and the evidence adduced was of an important character in many respects. It went to show that Evans and his party were the first aggressors and that Meloshko was the man who fired the shot from which McHale suffered, notwithstanding Meloshko's positive statement that he did not have a revolver that morning.

Koukar swore that he was walking along West Coal street with Meloshko and Verboch when Evans stopped Meloshko and asked for tobacco and a match, and when he failed to get them started the fight. The witness was very positive that when McHale and his party came up they joined the McHale forces in attacking the Lithuanians. Koukar swore he left the place before the shooting occurred, leaving Meloshko behind, but he heard the shot.

Joseph Boehm, who resides on West Coal street, and nearly opposite the scene of the shooting, swore that he was aroused by the noise of the row and soon after saw three men run up the street towards West Coal street. Two of the men were slightly in advance of the third, who turned half way around while on the run and discharged a revolver to the rear at a crowd that was following and hurling stones at the men who were running in advance. Only one shot was fired and upon its discharge the crowd following halted and retreated west on Coal street, while the three men reduced their gait to a walk and proceeded east, without turning or stopping to see the result of the shot.

Mr. Boehm proved to be the most important disinterested witness thus far secured and the deductions made from his evidence are that it was not while exchange of blows were in progress that McHale was shot, but while the three Lithuanians were on the retreat and the victim did not suffer at the hands of his own or the Evans' crowd, which was a point that remained undecided until last night, except upon the evidence of McHale, who swore he was shot by Meloshko when he got within thirty feet of the man.

Justice Williams has placed Koukar, Evans and Curry under $300 bail, each, for trial.

"Julius Caesar."

Julius Caesar is, no doubt, the most widely known of all Shakespeare's works. It is read in the schools and hardly an amateur reciter in the United States but has shone Marc Antony's address over Cesar's body. The play is of absorbing interest. Its story is so clear and moves with such directness that everyone can understand and enjoy it. The conspiracy, the assassination of Cesar, the tumult of Rome's mob, Marc Antony's oration and the death of Brutus follow fast on each other. Charles B. Hanford, Elmer R. Spencer, Norm O'Brien and a company of picked players will play Julius Caesar Monday night. The splendid Julius Cesar scenery made for Booth and Barrett will be seen here.

For the first time in the history of the county steps have been taken to collect the bail of defaulters. The County Commissioners have instructed County Solicitor Ulrich to proceed to collect the bail of about 35 fugitives from justice, who failed to appear at the last term of court, when their cases were called for trial. The bonds of at least 150 other defendants were also forfeited at the last term of court by reason of failure to have them renewed. The bondsman who will be effected by the new order of things number among them lawyers, politicians and business men.
