DURRANT IS ON THE RACK!

The Alleged Double Murderer Continues His Testimony.

HE CREATES A LAUGH IN COURT!

By a Silly Story of Alleged Information Conveyed to Him by a Stranger—The Prisoner Still Retains His Composure Under Trying Circumstances.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Under the rigid cross examination of District Attorney Barnes yesterday Theodore Durrant made a number of answers that are regarded as decidedly incriminating.

Two days before the body of the young woman was discovered, Durrant said, as he was standing at the corner of Market and Montgomery streets, a stranger approached him and asked if his name was not Durrant.

He did not ask the stranger his name, his residence, or for any additional information. He went to lunch and from there to the ferry, where he remained until 3 o'clock, not having caught a glimpse of the missing girl.

Mr. Barnes asked him if he told anybody else of the clew given by the stranger, so they could continue the search. Durrant said he had no opportunity to tell any of Miss Lamont's friends.

After a short recess a surprise was sprung on Durrant in the hope that it might disconcert him. After asking him if he had ever made a written statement of his whereabouts on the day Blanche Lamont was murdered, and receiving an affirmative reply, District Attorney Barnes asked the following questions:

"Is it not a fact that you sent a written statement of your case to your attorney and wrote on the envelope, 'To be opened if I am convicted and to be returned if I am acquitted'?"

The excitement caused by this question was intense. In the hum of voices Durrant's answer was lost, and the stenographer was asked to read the reply.

"I never sent an envelope to my attorneys bearing such an inscription," said he. Durrant was questioned at length regarding the communication and the significant inscription on the envelope, but he denied that he ever sent such a document.

Durrant was next shown the various garments worn by Blanche Lamont, and asked if he had secreted them in the belly, where they were found. He identified the pieces of clothing as the ones worn by Miss Lamont on the day of her death, but said he did not hide them in the church.

Durrant's strong nerves were tested by a number of questions relative to the last time he saw Miss Lamont, but he stuck to his former statements on that point.

FRANEY'S LATEST PROJECT.

Hotel Property and New Private Residence Occupies His Time.

It is now a certainty that Shenandoah is to have another hotel. Mr. J. J. Franey is the power behind the movement, and workmen are now making room for the foundation walls of the structure, which, with other buildings already erected, will form the hotel.

These buildings will be razed and upon both strips of land will be erected a three-story brick structure L-shape in itself, but to be connected with the property occupying the corner lot and making a first-class hotel block 45x65 feet in size.

Since the reports of this change has gone abroad there has been much speculation as to where Mr. Franey proposed locating his residence. This he has also decided upon. The apartments on the first, second and third stories in the Main street end of his property at the southwest corner of Main and Oak streets are to be completely remodelled and appropriated as a residence.

BUILDING BOOM GROWING!

Property Owners on Market Alley are Forging Ahead.

THEY WILL HAVE STREET PAVING

The Improvements in the Locality Have Been so Extensive of Late the Abutting Property Owners Want the Thoroughfare Made into a Street.

The building and general improvement boom continues in all parts of town and properties which have heretofore been depreciating in value by reason of the age of buildings and want of repair are steadily taking on a shape that will put them on the market again at a goodly price.

There is a thoroughfare extending north and south between Main and White streets which has heretofore been known as Market alley. The abutting property owners have decided to raise it to the full dignity and distinction of a street and appeal to Council to have the same changed.

A few years ago Market alley, in the district referred to, was lined on both sides with stables, cut off vehicles and receptacles for rubbish. Since then neat dwellings have been erected by J. K. P. Scheibly, Mrs. Gneber, Thomas Bellis and the O'Hara estate, besides a neat brick building erected by C. E. Titman and the one now being erected by Lewis Klein.

The demand for dwellings will in time cause owners of properties on almost all the alleys in the town to do as the people on Market alley are doing.

"DEMOREST"

is the name of one of the best Sewing Machines now manufactured.

How much and yet how little most folks know about Sewing Machines.

It would astonish buyers if they knew what actual cost is and what retail price would be were machines sold on the same basis as the Dry Goods, Shoes, or other merchandise.

Why not sell them so? Time for important patents has expired.

The field is now open, therefore we offer you now a

$50.00 MACHINE for $19.50.

Taken all in all, we count the "DEMOREST" the best Sewing Machine in the market.

Light running, easily managed, no noise, high arm, no springs, every movement positive, hardened steel bearings, all steel attachments.

No canvassers, no installment business, nothing to make customers stand extra costs.
