THE WARFARE IN CUBA!

Spain to Surround the Island With War Vessels.

TO KEEP OUT AID FROM ABROAD!

Now That the Rainy Season is Over it is Expected That Spain Will Inaugurate a Vigorous Campaign Against the Insurgents.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—A statement cabled from Madrid to the effect that the United States government has intimated to the Spanish minister here that there is need of prompt action on the part of his government in putting down the Cuban insurrection, cannot be confirmed at the state department. The officials when approached neither would confirm nor deny the report, though their manner would indicate disapproval of its accuracy. It is believed quite probable that representations may have been made to Spain of the wisdom of aggressive and active operations against the Cuban insurgents, but it is thought the United States government did not make these suggestions.

It is apparent that the Cuban Junta does not intend to urge recognition of the insurgents as belligerents prior to the opening of congress, and daily events point quite as strongly to a determination to force the question on the attention of congress, in the belief that the legislative channel affords the most practicable route to the accomplishment of something in behalf of Cuban independence. It is pointed out here that the circumstances at present are different from those surrounding the last Cuban rebellion, when President Grant took his stand, in that the rebellion dragged along for nearly ten years, while the present insurrection has been in progress less than a year, or not nearly as long as our own rebellion.

Whatever may have been the inspiring cause to Spanish activity against the insurgents (whether the Minister de Lome's representations or the previously formed determination of the heads of the Spanish government), it is known officially that Spain is about to open a campaign of far greater energy than any thus far taken. The wet season has prevented the movement of troops and the maintenance of an aggressive campaign, but the dry season begins about three weeks hence, and this will be the signal, it is said, for extensive movements. A cordon, consisting of a double line of gunboats, will surround the islands to prevent the landing of arms or ammunition for the insurgents, and without arms from outside it is believed they soon will be helpless.

The new boats about to arrive in Cuba will not be far short of twenty. Several of them were recently sent from the United States. About twelve were built in England, and are now on their way. Several more were constructed in Spain. They are very small, not much larger than a steam yacht, but are well armed and are of such light draught that they can run in the keys that surround Cuba. They will form the inner cordon around the island. Outside will be the second cordon, made up of the Conde de Venadito and other large ships which Spain has in Cuban waters. With the island thus cut off from without General Canales will push the fighting from within. It is expected by Spanish officials that this forward movement will change the entire aspect of the conflict from one of minor skirmishes to extensive battles. The sentiment among Spanish authorities is that a decisive forward movement is essential, and the coming campaign is relied on to meet fully the requirements of the situation.

George H. Smith, of Pottsville, committed suicide last evening at his home by hanging himself with a cord tied to a door transom. The deed was committed about 6:00 o'clock, and no cause can be assigned for the rash act. Mr. Smith represented the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and had an income of $225 per month. He was 42 years old and about a year ago came to Pottsville from Pittston. He is said to have been a man of literary attainments and shrewd in business. ### A Child's Long Journey.

A little girl about 12 years of age and plainly, but warmly clad, arrived at the Lehigh Valley depot this morning. She was unable to speak or understand English, but readily answered inquiries in the Polish language. A tag on her shawl showed that her name was Alibosta Salonia and that she had been sent from the immigration headquarters at New York to join her father, Adam Salonia, in this town. No friends met the child at the depot, but a Polish man who read the card recognized the name and took the girl to her parents, who reside in the First ward. The girl had made the journey from Poland to Shenandoah unaccompanied, her travels being guided by tags.

Liquor League Meetings.

The Schuylkill County Liquor League was in session at Pottsville yesterday afternoon. About twenty-five delegates from different parts of the county were in attendance. The Shenandoah League held a business session in Mollo's hall yesterday, and outside of routine business very little was done.

MOVEMENTS IN THE MINES

Extensive Improvements Being Made at Some of the Collieries.

NEW AIR SHAFT AT KOHINOOR!

It Will Also be Used to Hoist Men and Occasionally For Hoisting Water. Elmwood and Tunnel Ridge Are to be Consolidated.

Passing by the various collieries one fails to observe anything other than the monotonous puffing of steam, hoisting of cages, running of cars, etc., but should the visitor descend into the dark caverns from whence the blackened cages come he would find at several of the collieries many departures from the ordinary course of work. At the Kohinor colliery, for instance, some very important new work is in progress. No. 2 shaft of that colliery, which is low down to the Holmes vein, is to be sunk to the Mammoth vein, and may be extended to the Seven-foot. The object is to make it an air shaft, as well as a second opening for the hoisting and lowering of men. In the event of a freshet it will also be used as an auxiliary shaft for hoisting water, as is done in No. 1 shaft.

In addition it is proposed to erect a 21-foot fan on the shaft. The present air shaft, which is located northwest of the colliery, is in danger of being destroyed by reason of the workings of the seven-foot and Buck Mountain veins worked by the Thomas Coal Company. A continual and gradual squeeze has already been developed to the extent that the surface in the vicinity of the shaft has been already disturbed and large fissures branch in many directions.

The new shaft will be of great advantage to the employes in that it will afford additional means of ingress and egress, and the solitude of the P. & R. C. & I. Company for the welfare of the employes is shown by the fact that they are making the improvement at a cost of from $12,000 to $15,000.

The work on the breaker and washery which are to be located near the shaft of the old Plank Ridge colliery has been temporarily suspended, but the work will be resumed in about two weeks. The breaker is about one-third completed. The suspension is due to there being a drag in the market for the sizes of coal the place will prepare and also on account of all repairmen under the P. & R. C. & I. Company who have no urgent work on hand being required to build wooden tanks to be used in purifying sulphur water to feed the boilers of the collieries. All the collieries controlled by the company in this region are to be supplied with those tanks.

The company looks to the proposed washery and breaker as a mint. The banks upon which the plant will operate have never been disturbed since they were created, which was during the early years of operation at the old colliery, when not only thousands upon thousands of tons of what was then known only as waste and is now put on the market as buckwheat, pea and rice coal was thrown aside, but thousands of tons of chestnut coal, then not in demand, was also dumped to keep the men employed in the mines. If the original owners who cast this coal aside through such a generous impulse were still in command they would justly enjoy a large returning harvest. It is estimated that it will take the plant three years to exhaust the banks.

The slope at the P. & R. C. & I. Company's Elmwood colliery, on the outskirts of Mahanoy City, has been sunk to the second lift below water level and gangways are in course of construction. A tunnel cutting the middle and bottom split of the Mammoth vein and one to the Buck Mountain vein are also being driven. The depth of the slope extension is 100 yards, making the total depth of the slope 900 feet.

The slope at Tunnel Ridge colliery is now being sunk to the second lift below water level, or about 60 feet, making a total depth of 800 feet. It is contemplated to drive across the basin, pump all the water from Tunnel Ridge, and take all the coal from Elmwood colliery to Tunnel Ridge in order to prepare all at the latter place. The object is to consolidate the operations of the two collieries in one, and to that end there will be built at Tunnel Ridge a mammoth breaker modeled after the type of the Shenandoah City colliery. The consolidation will reduce the working force at one of the collieries, especially the engineers, firemen and slate pickers. The cut will be felt principally among the outside employes and there will be a reduction in foremanships. It is claimed that as the coal business has been so dull the past few years, and the prices realized have been so low in the line trade and at tide water, the operators are forced to make all retrenchments possible.
