WALLER'S TRIAL WAS ILLEGAL His Conviction and Sentence Not in Accordance with French Law,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18,-It has been understood all along that the fate of ex-Consul Waller, who is still held in prison by the French at Marseilles, hinged on the Reliable : Hand : Laundry, partment has directed its efforts mainly securing a copy of the record of the court. Now that the record is in Paris a careful examination of the documents is being made, and already there have been developed some points, in the nature of what may be fatal flaws, that in the end may form the basis of a demand for the release of the prisoner.

In at least two points it has been found that the proceedings of the court martial were in violation of the French law, and if such a case arose in the United States this would be sufficient ground for the setting aside of the proceedings and the sentence and the release of Waller. In the first place the court was composed of five officers, whereas the French military rogulations are said to require at least seven persons to sit on the court.

But more important than this, it has been discovered that Waller was not really tried as charged, but that as the trial progressed evidence was taken on another charge not included in the original matter, and that it was upon what might be called a supplementary but irregular charge that Waller was convicted. the other points in the case, this matter of irregularity of the proceedings may in the end go far to make up the case of our government as presented through Ambassador Eustis.
