How to Prevent Croup.

SOME REMEDIES THAT WILL PROVE INTERESTING TO YOUNG MOTHERS. HOW TO GET OVER AGAINST THE DISEASE.
Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will, never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Grubler Bros., Druggists.

THE SHENANDOAHS DID IT.

Shenandoah's Consolidated Team of Foot Ball Players Defeated.
The cup of joy of the Shenandoah foot ball team, its admirers and the sports in general is filled to overflowing. The team yesterday defeated at the Trotting park the strongest team the people of Shamokin could send; a team made up Wednesday night by the consolidation of the best players in the two crack teams of the town and embracing such men as Lessig, renowned throughout the coal region for his skill and shrewdness on the foot ball field, and Simmons, late of the great University of Pennsylvania team.

In size, weight, experience and general knowledge of the game Shamokin had the advantage of the home team and it told wonderfully during the first part of the first half. After that Shenandoah gave evidence of an immense stock of reserved strength, and after the second half was progressed Shamokin weakened perceptibly. Shenandoah made its first touch down on Fahey's sprinting. The second was scored by another sprint by the manager of the Shenandoahs and hard, steady work by his colleagues. It was very dark when the third touch down was made and by mutual consent the game was declared ended. The game was as hot as can be imagined. The Shamokinites said it was as stubborn as anyone could wish for, and the result shows that the Shenandoahs have great staying qualities.

There was a very unfortunate accident during the game. Jeremiah, of the Shamokin, sustained a bad fracture of the right leg, immediately above the ankle. It was a bad break. Both bones of the leg suffered. B. Davis, the mite player, also suffered, but not nearly as badly as Jeremiah. Davis was rendered unconscious twice, the last time when the ball was near the Shamokin goal. Evans succeeded Jeremiah and Bauford took Davis' place.

It was agreed that two halves would be played, 15 minutes for the first and 20 for the second. Shenandoah took the first kick. Jones made the kick off for Shamokin, Fahey fumbled the ball and Lessig got it. Shamokin made two slight gains through Shenandoah's centre. Davis got the ball and gained three yards around Shenandoah's right, when he was successfully tackled by Shortall. The Shamokinites showed superior work all through, but the home team was putting up a desperate game. Frost tackled Hepler successfully within a yard of the Shenandoah goal, but it was like a drowning man grasping at a straw. At the end of 6 minutes Jones made the touchdown. Simmons missed the goal and left the score 4 to 0 in Shamokin's favor.

Shortall made the kick off for Shenandoah and sent the ball to Shamokin's 10-yard line. The ball was quickly recovered by McCall, but a good tackle by A. Ross prevented an advantage. J. Davis made a gain of 5 yards around Shenandoah's right, and Shamokin gained 3 yards around the left, and Hepler followed with 10 yards before he was downed by R. Ross. It was a story of steady gains by Shamokin, yard by yard, and occasionally a sandwich of two or three yards, and it looked as if the Shamokinites were to be the winners.

But just here came a big surprise and for the first time during the game a great shout went up for the Shenandoah boys. Jeremiah got the ball and started for Shenandoah's right end with all the speed he could command when R. Ross picked him up bodily and carried him and the ball fully 25 yards. Then the Shenandoahs and Shamokinites threw themselves into a great tussle and when they became entangled it was found that Jeremiah had sustained a fracture of his right leg. Great cheering followed the tackle, but it was not allowed. Jeremiah is a stalwart fellow and fully a head and a half taller than the player who kidnapped him.

The teams returned to the place where the tackle was made and the second grand surprise and a great play followed. Fahey got the ball and darted around Shamokin's right like an arrow. Twice he was tackled and fell, but assisted by clever interference on the part of B. Ross, Fahey regained his feet and completed a run of ninety yards with a touch down. This almost broke the hearts of the Shamokinites. Shenandoah failed to kick the goal and the score was left a tie—4 to 4. Jones made the kick off for Shamokin. Wertz got the ball and was downed on the 20-yard line by Evans. The Shenandoahs were gaining on their opponents when time was called.

For the second half Shenandoah took the east goal and Shortall made the kick off. B. Davis punted the ball to mid-field and after some fumbling on both sides Simmons got the ball and was downed on the Shenandoah 29-yard line. Evans made an effort, but Wertz downed him. Shenandoah settled down hard backing of the Shamokin centre, McCall, Lavelle and Ringbeiser, distinguishing themselves, and three or four gains of from 7 to 10 yards each were made, when Fahey suddenly made a dash around Shamokin's right and scored a gain of 30 yards. The crowd had pressed upon the field and had this not occurred the sprinter would have reached a point very near the Shamokin goal. If he failed to score a touchdown before being tackled by B. Davis, Shortall added a gain of 5 yards through the centre and McCormick, by a great run around Shamokin's right, added a gain of 20 yards. From this point on it was Shamokin's goal. Constant, stubborn and slow but vicious backing of Shamokin's centre was like the beat of prey crawling to its victim. The Shamokinites seemed like the breastwork of some large reservoir gradually giving way under a great pressure. Yard by yard Fahey's men forced the ball to the coveted point, tried by throwing Shortall over the somewhat weakened bulwark offered by the Shamokinite's bodies, and finally Shortall made the touch down, the time being 10 1/2 minutes. Shortall made the kick for the goal but failed, leaving the game in favor of Shenandoah by a score of 8 to 4. The local foot ball players seemed to own the town last night, and if title to it can be earned by such work as they performed yesterday, they deserved it. They never met a better team, and is the credit of the Shamokin players be it said they are gentlemen, and can take a defeat with perfect grace.

The two teams lined up as follows:
Shenandoah, Position, Shamokin.
Lavelle, Centre, McCall
Ringbeiser, Left Guard, Reed
A. Ross, Left Tackle, Lessig
Mellale, Right Guard, Brunson
McCormick, Right Tackle, Mansfield
Frost, Right End, Davis

Wertz, Quarter Back, B. Davis
B. Ross, Left Half Back, Hepler
Fahey, Right Half Back, Jeremiah
Frost, Full Back, Jones
Thinkkeeper, J. J. Reilly, Referee, Robert Smith, Manahay City, and Peter Monaghan, Shenandoah. Umpire, George Garrett, Manahay City.

A GRAND CHOIR.

A Large Audience Delighted by the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir.
Ferguson's theatre was crowded last night to the doors and dome and for about two hours the audience was enraptured by the efforts of the Royal Welsh Ladies' choir, who gave a concert under the auspices and for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal church. It was one of the grandest musical treats ever afforded the people of this town and the effect will be cherished long after the choir has gone out of existence. The concert was given under the direction of Mrs. Clara Novello Davies, and Miss Winifred Evans was accompanist. The choir is composed of twenty young Welsh ladies who formed a part of the Welsh choir that won the first prize at the World's Fair competition. Most of them are pupils of Mrs. Davies. They started on a tour of this country last September and will close it in time to sail for Wales and join their respective families at Christmas dinner.

Too much cannot be said in praise of this admirable organization. The audience was enthusiastic throughout the concert and encores were frequently demanded. The program comprised, among others, selections from Rossini, Verdi, Liszt, Mascagni, Arduini, Gwent and Parson Price. The renditions raised the thoughts of the auditors above all earthly considerations. The melody was of a simple and noble character and the powers of harmony were rendered available in their greatest energy, without, however, indulging in artificial modulations, or injuring the purity and clearness of the melody by combinations of too complex a nature, and an accumulation of dissonances without object. The selections were presented in the simplest and clearest form. The vocal solos formed a happy contrast with the energies of the chorus, and at no time aimed at displaying the mechanical dexterity of the singer. It was evidently the desire of each member of the choir to win the applause of artists, rather than that of the multitude. Each has acquired a clear notion of the compass of the human voice, as well as a clear conception of points in which its highest power lies, and in what other points it is best adapted to the expression of what is soft and tender. In choruses they are animated by one and the same feeling, the whole is given with that perfect smoothness, both as regards to time and style, that leave nothing further to be desired.
The concert was a grand success financially as it was in an artistic sense, thanks to the energetic efforts on the part of the committee, especially those of Mr. J. J. Price, who worked zealously from the time the idea to secure the services of the choir was first conceived to have the project properly advertised and take other steps to secure a large audience. Every seat in the theatre was taken and the share of the church from the sale will be a handsome one.

Never Such Testimonials. What the Mail Brings to the Paine's Celery Compound People.

What excuse is there for not getting strong and well? Paine's celery compound, the world's great remedy for nervous weakness, can be obtained at any druggist's in any city or in any country town. One can get a heartier, healthier appetite, purify the blood and increase its power of feeding the nerves and tissues by taking Paine's celery compound.
It is the greatest invigorator in existence. Convince yourself of the fact. Try it.
Testimonials for publication are taken quite at random by the present proprietors of this great remedy.

The letters are never "doctored."
Titles are never placed before the names of untitled people. Honest but obscure men are never said to be "honorable." Every-day kind of men who have been made well by Paine's celery compound are never paraded before the public as "The Great Mr. So-and-So," or "The Wonderfully Successful Mr. This-and-That." Cases of ordinary sickness are never elaborated into hideous, impossible diseases.
When it happens that the mail brings a heartfelt letter from such a man as State Treasurer Colvin, of New York, or Mr. Carlisle's private secretary, or Edmund Ross, or Mayor McShane, of Montreal, or Rev. Fr. O'neil, or Commodore Howell, or Mr. Gillam, of Judge, or Ida Lewis, or ex-Minister to Austria John M. Francis, or any other widely known man or woman who expressly wishes others to be benefited by his or her experience, the proprietors of Paine's celery compound gladly give such unselected testimonials to the public press.

But one person's health is as valuable as another's, and in publishing the testimonials of people whom this great remedy has made well and strong, no particular emphasis is put upon such persons' official standing.
"The world is made up of what Abraham Lincoln called 'the plain people.' It is they whom Paine's celery compound has most benefited.
Here is a letter (verbatim) just received from Louisa Pierce, of Mellette, South Dakota:
"I used Paine's celery compound first for rheumatism, and found that it helped me very much. I have since used it for nervousness and kidney trouble, and have received very much benefit from its use, and consider it one of the best of remedies. Mr. A. Cady's people use it and think they can hardly get along without it in the house. I know of several others that have used it flat. I am not acquainted with, but one other lady, Mrs. Ondell, used it for nervousness, and it made her well."
There is the testimony of thousands, Paine's celery compound makes people well!
