TO-MORROW'S ELECTIONS!

Offices to be Voted For in the Several States.

EIGHT GOVERNORS TO BE CHOSEN

Some of the Leading Candidates in the Contest for Party Control of State Administrations—Interesting Fights in Maryland and New Jersey.

This is an off year in Pennsylvania politics, the only state officials to be elected being a state treasurer to serve two years and seven judges of the new superior court to serve ten years. The candidate of the Republicans for treasurer is Benjamin J. Haywood, of Mercer county, at present cashier in the state treasury. Ex-Congressman B. F. Meyers, of Harrisburg, is the Democratic candidate. The election of Mr. Haywood is a foregone conclusion, the only question being involved being the extent of his majority. Last year the state gave Governor Daniel H. Hastings the unprecedented majority of 211,000. Conservative estimates place Haywood's majority in the neighborhood of 125,000. The Populist, Prohibition and Socialist-Labor parties have also made nominations for state treasurer, but they will not figure in the contest, as their combined strength amounts to only a few thousand votes.

At the Maryland state election the offices to be filled are governor, attorney general and state comptroller. No election in recent years in this state has been contested with the bitterness and acrimony which has characterized the present fight, which is looked upon as the most crucial of the many contests in which Maryland's Democratic leader, United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, has been engaged. The candidates for governor are: John E. Hurst, Dem.; Lloyd Lowndes, Rep.; Joshua Levering, Pro.; Harry F. Andrews, Pop.-Soc.

The election in Ohio is known as the general state election, including members of the legislature and state officers, except of those of secretary of state and school commissioners. There are five tickets in the field, the gubernatorial candidates being: Asa S. Bushnell, Rep.; James E. Campbell, Dem.; Jacob S. Coxey, Pop.; Seth H. Ellis, Pro.; William Watkins, Soc.-Labor. The prohibitionists have made an aggressive canvass, and expect to poll between 30,000 and 35,000 votes out of a total vote in the state of 800,000.

The elections in the state of New York this fall are not of such an important nature as those of last year, so far as the filling of state offices is concerned. The offices to be balloted for are a secretary of state, a comptroller, a state treasurer, a state's attorney, a state engineer and surveyor and associate judge of the court of appeals, three judges of the supreme court for the First district, three judges of the supreme court for the Second district, one for the Third district, one for the Fourth district, two for the Fifth district, one for the Sixth district, two for the Seventh district and three for the Eighth district. There are also to be elected 150 assemblymen and fifty senators, the assemblymen to serve for one year and the senators for three. The candidates for secretary of state are: John Palmer, Rep.; Horatio G. King, Dem.; William W. Smith, Pro.; Erasmus Pollenz, Soc.-Labor; Thaddeus B. Wakeman, Pop.

The offices to be filled in the state of New Jersey are: a governor, six members of the senate and sixty members of the house of assembly. This is the entire number of assemblymen. The candidates for governor are: Alexander T. McGill, Dem., and John W. Griggs, Rep.

Virginia this year elects only one-half the members of the state senate and the entire house of delegates. The legislature will elect an auditor of public accounts, a second auditor, secretary of the commonwealth, state treasurer, superintendent of public printing and register of land office. The only issue of any importance involved is the matter of a new election law and the repeal of the present Wilson law.

The people of Kentucky will be called on to elect state officers, one-half of the senate and a new house of representatives. The incoming legislature will elect a United States senator, to succeed Senator Blackburn. The candidates for the position are the present incumbent and Congressman McCreary, both Democrats. The gubernatorial candidates are: P. W. Hardin, Dem.; W. O. Bradley, Rep.; T. S. Pettit, Pop.; T. B. Demoree, Pro. Among the other Prohibition nominees are Mrs. F. E. Beauchamp for secretary of state and Mrs. J. K. Henry for superintendent of public instruction.

The citizens of Massachusetts will cast their ballots for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, executive council and members of the general court. There are five tickets in the field. The three principal candidates are: Frederick T. Greenhalge, Rep.; George Fred Williams, Dem.; Edward Kendall, Pro.

The political campaign in Nebraska this fall has been tame, notwithstanding there are five tickets in the field, and some elements which ordinarily would provoke a spirited contest. The fact that a justice of the supreme court and two regents of the university are to be elected has contributed to the quiet situation.

In Utah there are three tickets in the field, the candidates for governor being: Heber M. Wells, Rep.; John T. Caine, Dem.; H. W. Lawrence, Pop. Of the ten candidates on the Republican ticket four are Mormons. Of the twelve candidates on the Democratic ticket seven are Mormons.

The Iowa Republicans are fighting the campaign on national issues, the Democrats and Prohibitionists on prohibition, while free silver is the issue with the People's party. National issues predominate, however, because the legislature to be elected will choose a United States senator to succeed Senator Allison. The candidates for governor are: Francis M. Drake, Rep.; W. I. Babb, Dem.; Sylvester Crane, Pop.; Frank Bacon, Pro.

Kansas will elect a chief justice of the judge of the common pleas court, two state senators and a full set of county officers in about half of the counties in the state.

In Mississippi, state county and municipal offices, from governor to constable, are to be elected. There are two tickets, the regular Democratic and the Populist, but the last named party is expected to poll but a small vote. The candidates for governor are A. J. McLaurin, Dem., and Frank Burkett, Pop.

The event of the evening was the presentation of a handsome gold fireman's badge to one of their charter members, Samuel Gilbert, and in behalf of the company Capt. George W. Johnson made the presentation speech. The recipient was taken by surprise, and in a few words expressed his thanks. The evening was very pleasantly spent by those present. Vote for Dr. S. J. Seyfert.

Trouble at the "Shaft" Again.

The residents of North Chestnut street complain of frequent disturbances that arise in and about the notorious house on that street known as "the shaft." It is conducted by the same people who were raided several weeks ago and were released upon paying fines and costs and promising to leave the town. It is alleged that at midnight on Saturday the whole neighborhood was again aroused. The man who is known as the "buffer" of the place attacked a man and showered blows upon him while struggling along Chestnut street until they reached Coal street, where the "buffer" administered what appeared to be a knockout blow and left his victim lying in the street. During the attack the occupants of the notorious house added to the disturbance by foul exclamations.

FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Distressing Affair on South Emerick Street This Morning.

CHILD KILLED, ANOTHER INJURED

The Children Were Playing on the Street When the Wagon Drawn by a Runaway Team Swerved and Struck Them—Statement by the Driver.

A runaway accident occurred on South Emerick street, in the First ward, this morning by which one child was almost instantly killed and another seriously injured. The accident caused intense excitement and there was much feeling against the man who had charge of the horses until the circumstances were explained, when it was evident that the man was not only blameless, but had done all in his power to avoid the accident. The accident happened at about 10 o'clock. The two horses were hitched to the tank wagon of the Eclipse Oil Company and started from the north end of Emerick street. At the southern extremity of the street they made a turn from the west to the east side of the street and then back to the west side, turning northward. In making the turn the heavy wagon swerved so that it caught two children that were playing at the side of the road and hurled one of them against a building. The horses were caught by a farmer just after the children were struck.

The child that was thrown against the building was Ellie, aged 25 years, and daughter of Martin and Antella Kinkawicz, who reside close to the scene of the accident. The little sufferer was tenderly carried to its home, where it died about twenty minutes later.

The other child was Simon, 5-year-old son of Anthony Melusky. It received a blow on the head, but was not dangerously injured. The children were playing together close to the building on what would be a sidewalk, but a plank covering of a culvert along the west side at the end of this street puts the road and sidewalk on a level and in making the turn the wagon easily ran close to the buildings.

The child that died escaped mutilation. Its death is supposed to have been caused by concussion of the brain. Deputy Coroner Manley will make an investigation this evening.

Robert Yeager, of East Coal street, had charge of the horses when they ran away. He says he stopped the team on Emerick street, a little south of the Lehigh Valley railroad crossing, and got off the wagon to receive money from a customer. As he was in the act of making change a passing engine frightened the horses and they turned. He grabbed the bridle of one horse and held on to it until he got to Lloyd street, when he was obliged to release his hold and jump aside to avoid falling under the heavy wagon. The team dashed down the street and when he caught up with them he found the horses in charge of the farmer.

THE BIG RALLY.

The Republicans Will Hold a Mass Meeting To-night.

The Republicans of Shenandoah will close the campaign to-night with a public meeting in Robbins' opera house, and the indications now point to a rousing rally of the voters. The issues of the campaign will be discussed by able speakers, and the occasion will be enlivened by bands of music and marching clubs.

Previous to the mass meeting a short parade will take place, headed by the Grant and Lithuanian bands. The Lincoln club and Vitauto Society will march in a body, numbering about 200 men. The Young Men's Campaign Club of Mahanoy City will also be in line.

Besides the Republicans of town, a large gathering from the Mahanoy Valley will be here to attest their sincerity in Republican principles. Turn out and close the campaign with an enthusiasm due the occasion. Victory is in the air.

New Tank Finished.

The new tank at the gas works on South Main street was completed to-day and tested, proving very satisfactory. The tank is an immense one and the workmanship on it is so perfect that not a leak was found during the test. The tank was erected by William Kinsey and Charles Duffly, two skilled workmen of Baltimore, Md. It is 40 feet in diameter, 16 feet high and has a capacity of 20,000 cubic feet of gas. It will be a big improvement to the plant and the company will be enabled to make sufficient gas during the day to meet all demands. The capacity of the old tank was so limited that it was frequently necessary to make gas at night.

MAX SCHMIDT.

LYON IS BEATEN.

Lyon is beaten, we are compelled to admit, but while we believe such to be the fact, yet there is consolation in knowing that he is beaten by one of the most honorable men and one of the ablest lawyers in Schuylkill county. Fair-minded men are the considerate of their estates and dispositions after death to entrust their affairs to a Judge who was brought into office by the one-man power of Senator Coyle when he influenced the Governor to appoint Justice Lyon to the short term as Orphans' Court Judge. Senator Coyle started out to build up a political dynasty for himself, and among other things he concluded to fasten his influence and power on at least one of our courts. He selected and championed the weakest man at the bar, and Justice Lyon was appointed. Happily for our people only for a short term. Under our laws the people say who shall serve for the ten years' term and the fair-minded, conscientious, considerate voter will to-morrow select P. M. Dunn, Esq. His integrity, his fitness, and his honesty of purpose are recognized by friend and foe.

Justice Lyon will be defeated and Coyle thwarted in his evil designs at the polls to-morrow. And then our Republican party, which is the party of the people, will have asserted their rights and redeemed our party from the hands of such fiends as Coyle and others, of his stamp who are continually trying to trample on the gravest and greatest political party on God's earth. Can Coyle elect him? I think not. REPUBLICAN.
