Evening Herald

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1935.

THE revolution in Cuba is nearing a crisis.

THERE are entirely too many corner loafers in this town.

It has been a toss up whether Marlborough and his bride, or the horses, were the greater curiosities at the New York horse show this week.

THE next institute the local corps of teachers will probably be held in this town, and will be of a local character so far as the attendance is concerned. The sentiment here at present seems to run that way.

It begins to look as if Cleveland's peculiar foreign policy will be thoroughly aired when Congress convenes and a lively row is anticipated. As the majority in that body is of the Republican faith there is not likely to be any whitewashing done.

A RECENT decision of the Supreme Court of New Jersey declares unconstitutional the law of 1902, under which the Courts of Common Pleas granted licenses for the common sale of liquor in boroughs. This decision, it is said, means virtual prohibition in half of the boroughs of the state.

ALAS! and has it really come to this! Col. Bill Nye, he of the bald pate and stale jokes, was greeted in Jersey—not with sweet-smelling bouquets, but with eggs whose antiquity was nearly, if not quite, as great as that of his jokes. And, surprising to relate, William did not appear to see any fun in it.

It seems the Boston girl is not all aesthetism and coolness. She may be frigid and patronizing in her manner, but she will get excited over a fire the same as her sisters in less favored localities. A fire broke out recently in that City of Beams in a building adjoining a chocolate store, in the dining room of which 400 of her were at the time, and it is surprising to relate that the Boston frigidity and presence of mind disappeared spontaneously, and a wild rush for the door was made, several young women fainting in the excitement. If a little thing like a fire next door could cause a calamity of this nature, it is appalling to think what the result would have been had a mouse made a charge upon this lovely 400.

SCHUYLKILL county judges don't worry as much about the enforcement of the liquor law as some of their brethren in other counties do. Just now Butler county is worked up over the action of Judge Greer, who has announced from the bench that he had observed that drunkenness was on the increase in that county, and further stated that he proposed to stop this violation of the law. He had the druggists of the county before him to state how much whiskey they sold in a year, and when he found one who owned up to selling nine barrels, he brought him up with a sharp rure. The druggist pleaded that he only supplied it on a physician's prescription, and now the doctor is to explain why he prescribes "spiritus frumenti" as a panacea.

POPULAE EDUCATION.
The school teachers of Dauphin county cannot be classed among newspaper readers, as but few of them ever read a newspaper. We fully agree with the Harrisburg Telegraph when it says that this is not at all creditable to the teachers. The newspapers of the day have more to do with the real education of the rising generation than the schools. What is read in the newspapers has a greater influence upon the life and character of the boy and girl than what is taught them by the teacher.

The teacher's instruction, unfortunately in many instances, ends with discount and proportion and rhetoric, and other like matters, and leaves out of the account altogether the education of the heart, the cultivation of a pure morality, and the preparation of the scholar to resist temptations, about whose universality the newspapers of the country furnish so many illustrations. And again, too, how can a teacher in this age teach unless he or she keeps abreast of the times on all questions—scientific, moral and religious? And how can they keep abreast of the times unless they read the newspapers—the only medium between the quick-moving world and the great body of the people?

How to Prevent Croup.

SOME READING THAT WILL PROVE INTERESTING TO YOUNG MOTHERS. HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THE DISEASE.

Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Grubler Bros., Druggists.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersen, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at A. Wasley's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Coming Events.

Nov. 28.—Annual turkey supper, under auspices of All Saints' P. E. Church, in Robb's opera house.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there, sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Grubler Bros., Druggists.

Electric Bitters.
Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at A. Wasley's drug store.

No Clew to the Colorado Robbers.
DENVER, Nov. 16.—It is believed at police headquarters in this city that the amount of money stolen from the Wells-Fargo company at Colorado Springs was $55,000 instead of $50,000, as given out at the time of the robbery. The officials of the company are extremely reticent. So far as is known no tangible clew to the thieves has been found.

Good advice: Never leave home on a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. For sale by Grubler Bros., Druggists.

The Stranded Irrawaddy.
ASBURY PARK, Nov. 16.—The ship Irrawaddy, stranded off Asbury Park, came in for a large share of the storm's fury yesterday, and suffered additional damage by the pounding of the breakers. There seems but little hope for the floating of the ill-fated steamer. Old seamen say that if she is hauled off she will surely sink.

No Second Ultimatum to Venezuela.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—The story from Washington to the effect that a second ultimatum had been sent to Venezuela by Great Britain is officially declared to be a complete fabrication. The original so-called ultimatum has not yet been delivered to the Venezuelan government.

Joseph Burbank, of 309 South Second street, St. Louis, Mo., says: "I do not believe that anyone suffered more than I from kidney and liver diseases. I also had a serious case of catarrh of the bladder. At last I became helpless and was confined to my bed. Doctors failed to help me, and I could not obtain relief. I passed gravel in small particles, and had about made up my mind to die. Finally as a last resort I began to use Munyon's Kidney and Liver Cure. BARRETT'S DOUBLE LIFE.

His Wife Knew Nothing of His Methods Until After His Arrest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A romantic sequel to the conviction and sentence to life imprisonment in 1904 of William Barrett for the murder of James Farrar in Weston, Mass., has just been made public. While Barrett led the life of a criminal in Boston, his wife, it is said, was ignorant that he was a burglar, and, supposing him to be in business there, lived in this city with luxurious surroundings. Mrs. Barrett was a fine horsewoman, and kept two thoroughbreds for riding purposes at a riding academy. Each day a groom brought one of them to the house in Fifty-eighth street, and Mrs. Barrett, in perfect fitting riding costume, was accustomed to canter through the park. Like herself, her only son, who lived with her, was always dressed in the height of fashion.

Checks for the rent, signed by the husband, were punctually forwarded to the landlord of the apartment, and consequently not the slightest whisper of doubt as to the integrity of Barrett or his wife was ever heard. It was not until after Barrett's arrest for Mr. Farrar's murder that her eyes were opened to the truth. A man named James S. Chaffey, whom Barrett had accused of being an accomplice in his crime, is reported to have told through which her dream was shattered.

Visiting her husband in Waltham jail, Mrs. Barrett heard his confession, and then, womanlike, determined to help him in his plight to the extent of her power. She sold her horses, furniture and jewelry and applied the proceeds to Barrett's defense. Meanwhile she accepted the hospitality of Chaffey's family, and lived with them for a time. Then, it is asserted, Chaffey availed himself of the opportunity to rob the woman of all she possessed, and to appropriate for himself the valuable plunder which her husband had gathered together and stored away.

Decided Against the Goulds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—It was decided by the supreme court yesterday that the heirs of Jay Gould must pay taxes on $10,000,000 of personal property, the valuation on which the tax commissioners based their assessment. George J. Gould and the other executors of the estate applied for a writ of certiorari against the commissioners that their action might be reviewed by the court, claiming that the assessment was made Jan. 9, 1935, and that they did not have the property in their possession at the time, as the will was not probated until two days afterward. The general term dismissed the application for a writ, the Goulds appealed and the supreme court dismissed the appeal, thus sustaining the lower court.

Bank Burglars Robbed the Sheriff.

WOODSFIELD, O., Nov. 16.—An attempt was made by four men to rob the Monroe County bank at this place. They drilled several holes in the vault, destroying the time lock, but failed to get in. Just before they began operations in the bank Sheriff J. P. Keyser had occasion to go to his stable in the rear of the bank, and while walking down the alley the four cracksmen pounced upon him, bound and gagged him and robbed him of $50 and a gold watch. They then placed him in the stable, where he was found later. There was a large amount of money in the bank vault.

Will Refuse His Electing Certificate.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 16.—A. J. Carroll, ex-speaker of the Kentucky house, will refuse his certificate of re-election to the legislature because it is alleged he secured the place through Republican treachery. His Republican opponent in the district withdrew before the election without revealing the public, and as a result the ballots were issued without a Republican candidate in opposition to the ex-speaker. Mr. Carroll will probably be a candidate at the special election necessary, and is expected to sweep the district.

Murdered His Two Children.

PROXIMITY, Pa., Nov. 16.—Thomas Elwin, 30 years old, cut the throats of his two children, a boy of 4 and a girl of 6, and then attempted to commit suicide in the same manner. The children died almost instantly, and there is but little hope of the father's recovery. For some time Elwin has not lived happily with his family, and on Friday of last week his wife left the house. This, together with drink, is what caused the tragedy.

Maher May Fight Fitzsimmons.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 16.—Last night Dan Stuart received from W. A. Brady the following in answer to his offer made on Thursday night: "Stuart showed the telegram to the Associated Press reporter, and said: 'I will go to New York anyway and ask Corbett to sign, and if he positively refuses, then I will ask Maher to go against Fitzsimmons, and I promise you Maher will prove a good card.'"

Mrs. Gougar Wants Another Trial.

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Helen M. Gougar, whose $25,000 damage suit against Congressman Elijah A. Morse for alleged libel has just been settled for a second time by a verdict against the plaintiff, has filed a motion for a new trial on the ground that the verdict rendered in the recent trial was not in accordance with the evidence submitted. The time for a hearing has not yet been fixed.

Five Years for a Dishonest Official.

CRISP RUST

Is the making of a pie. The making of a crisp crust depends largely upon the shortening. Use COTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening, instead of lard, and soggy will be an unknown element in your pastry. Cotolene should always be economically used—two-thirds as much Cotolene as you would ordinarily use of lard or butter, being ample to produce the most desirable results. The saving in a year represents a considerable item. There are many imitations of COTOLENE; you should therefore be careful to get the genuine. Sold everywhere in this, with trade-mark—Cotolene—and steer's head in color print—on every tin. Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, CHICAGO and 132 N. Delaware Ave., Philadelphia.
