The Seizure of the Laurada.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Ex-United States Senator Eppa Hunton and Mr. C. E. Creevy have been retained by the owners of the steamship Laurada as their attorneys in Washington. The Laurada was seized on Saturday last by the collector of customs at Charleston, S.C., on complaint by the Spanish minister to Secretary Carlisle that she had violated the neutrality laws in carrying General Caspades, with a force of men and arms and ammunition, to Cuba.

Several of the departments have appointed committees to wait upon General Manager Emmons, and request the restoration of the old scale of wages. If the old scale is not restored the men say they will strike. About 3,000 men are involved.

Twenty Emigrants Drowned.

GIBRALTAR, Nov. 18.—Over twenty passengers from the Italian steamship Solferino were drowned by the swamping of one of the small boats. The Solferino went ashore near Coutra. She was commanded by Captain Caffero.

VINELAND, N. J., Nov. 18.—Playing around an open stove while her mother was busy the 4-year-old daughter of John Harvey deliberately picked up some red hot coals and placed them in her mouth. The baby's screams brought the horrified mother, who burned her hands badly in removing the coals from the child's mouth. The little girl is severely, but not dangerously burned.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS

Of an Enterprising and Progressive Newspaper.

The best daily paper published in Pennsylvania is The Philadelphia Inquirer. Their facilities for obtaining all the news, national, state and local, are the very best to be found anywhere. The new building into which they moved some eight months ago is not only unmarred for beauty, but the spacious quarters give them an opportunity to handle news in a more complete and satisfactory manner than any of their contemporaries. Private telegraph wires, special long distance telephones and the regular service of the Associated Press are only a few of the most improved methods for gathering news to be found in the new building. The Inquirer has long been the recognized authority on sporting matters, and is in every way worthy of its tremendous popularity, which has gained it the largest circulation of any Republican newspaper in the United States. The several departments are each under the personal direction of a competent authority on the subjects discussed. Reports, decisions and all the details of the State Supreme Court proceedings are given special attention. The Inquirer carries the largest amount of advertising of any Pennsylvania newspaper and is everywhere acknowledged the best medium of any one cent daily.

THE SUNDAY NEWSPAPER.

Philadelphia Has One That is Par Excellence.

For a family newspaper The Philadelphia Sunday Inquirer has many points of excellence that cannot be found in any other newspaper. The art supplements, beautifully colored and finished in the softest tints, are always suitable for framing and are valuable from an artistic and every other point of view. The stories, profusely illustrated, are always bright and interesting, the best authors are contributors each week and the Associated Press and special wires afford a perfect news service. The Inquirer contains every Sunday a complete review of the week's sporting events, and is the recognized authority for the state in this field. Pages devoted entirely to women's interest, the latest feminine fashions and a boys' and girls' page of the best stories written for juvenile readers makes the Philadelphia Sunday Inquirer an entertaining necessity for every member of the family.

She Preferred the Boarder.

The First ward was considerably excited Saturday over the domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Osowsky. It appears Mr. Osowsky was an elderly widower when he married the present Mrs. Osowsky and installed her as mistress of his affections and household. Saturday morning Mrs. Osowsky, who appears to have had more affection for the boarder, who is much nearer her own age than her lord and master, loaded up all Osowsky's household goods which he owned before his marriage, and hauled them to a house she had rented for herself and the boarder on East Lloyd street and proceeded to set up housekeeping anew. While doing so a row occurred during which the "old man" was floured by his loving spouse, and altogether there was as much excitement as there usually is at a dog fight.
