Evening Herald

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1905.

THE stores are filling up with Christmas goods and the wise merchant is advertising them. The prudent buyer will scan the HERALD columns before making purchases.

THE White House cuckoo is keeping under cover since election, but his chirp will be heard with the assembling of Congress next month. For so much we are devoutly thankful.

MUCH speculation is indulged in as to who will succeed the late John T. Stanton as member of the School Board from the First ward. Several prominent Republicans have been mentioned in this connection.

JUDGE SCHUYLER, of Easton, has announced that all petitioners for license will be treated as new applicants and must make out their cases as if presented for the first time. Heretofore old applicants were granted without a question, except when romances were filed.

A SALEMVILLE woman determined that her husband should know how he looked when he was drunk, so when he came home and fell into a maudlin slumber she sent for a photographer who did his work well. Next morning the photograph was laid beside his plate at breakfast. It was a revelation, and it was also the means of a reformation.

THE efforts of the Odd Fellows to establish an orphan's home in this section is a commendable one, and it is to be hoped that success will crown their labors. Their organization now leads in numerical strength, and with these increased members there is a corresponding increase in the number of orphans. By all means erect the home. There cannot be too many institutions of this nature.

AS USUAL, our old friend Major Sena Losh is out again—this time for State Senator to succeed Senator Keefer. The Major does not announce his preference for United States Senator to succeed Cameron, but he will no doubt declare himself before the canvass opens up. It begins to look as if Senator Keefer's days are numbered—though it looked the same in 1892 when he managed to pull through in the fall end of the campaign.

EDITH JOYCE, of the Daily American, is giving the judges some wholesome advice as to the granting of licenses. Her efforts will be heartily seconded by every legitimate saloon-keeper, but there is a grave doubt as to the result that will be accomplished. Similar appeals have been made in the past and they have fallen upon deaf ears. The only practical way in which to close up the speakeasies and other violators of the Brooks high license law, as we have repeatedly pointed out, lies within the power of the liquor league itself. If that organization will secure the necessary information against all violators and present it to court, then the judges will be compelled to enforce the penalty.

THE CONGO AFFAIR.

The report published in yesterday's HERALD concerning matters in the Congo free state shows a condition of things as disgraceful to civilization as that existing under Turkish misrule in Armenia. The Congo state, however, is under the control of a Christian power, while Armenia is under the tyranny of fanatical Mohammedans, from whom little can be expected when they are not under duress, and that the present condition of affairs in that country is considered abnormal is due entirely to the fear of the great powers of Europe which has for a long time kept the Mohammedans in restraint.

In the Congo state the horrible cruelties permitted appear to be due to the incompetence and indifference of those placed in authority, who, according to the story of a returned missionary, are young men unfit to wield the vast power entrusted to them, and are more interested in wringing money out of the ignorant natives than in governing according to the dictates of humanity. It is simply astounding to learn that failure to supply the allotted quota of rubber, exacted by ignorant native subordinates, is punished by mutilation, or death, and no steps taken to punish the offenders.

Taken in connection with the summary execution of an English trader by a Belgian officer of the Congo state a short while since it is not difficult to surmise that affairs are conducted without much regard to the rights of humanity.

The story made public in London is such as to demand a radical change in the government of the uncivilized tribes of that dark continent more in accord with the spirit of Christian civilization.

His Punishment Came Quickly.

FOIT SCOTT, Kan., Nov. 19.—Yesterday Dr. A. C. Corey, a prominent dentist here, attempted to outrage his stepdaughter, a beautiful girl of 17 years. In attempting to escape from the police he fell from a second story window, alighting on his head, and was instantly killed.

Doubly Fatal Explosion and Fire.

At Whiting, Ind., a 500,000 gallon tank of naphtha exploded last night, causing a furious fire.

Portions of Colorado and Kansas were visited yesterday by an earthquake shock lasting ten seconds.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at A. Wasley's drug store.

A Missing Bank Teller.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Charles F. Ritter, receiving and paying teller in the Tacony Saving Fund Safe Deposit and Trust company, has disappeared. After a hasty examination the bank officials found that all securities were intact, and as far as could be ascertained the cash on hand was also correct. Acting on a hint given in a letter that Ritter left for him, Vice President Diek swore out a warrant for Ritter's arrest, charging misappropriation of funds. The bank officials, however, do not believe the defalcation, if any, is of any account.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. It was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at A. Wasley's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

The Fight Against the Tobacco Trust.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Attorney General Hancock yesterday granted the application of C. A. Whelan & Co., of this city, for the commencement of an action to restrain the American Tobacco company from doing business in this state, and to cancel its certificate of authority. The attorney general says: "A corporation doing business in this state ought not to be permitted to impose as a general prerequisite upon the purchasers of its commodities that they shall obtain goods from no other source. The enforcement of such a condition must necessarily operate as a restraint of trade and prevent competition."

"MY FOOD DOES ME NO GOOD."

In any city there are many possible ways to travel from one point to another. But between the food on your table and its destination in the body there is only one road,—directly through the stomach. There is no going around the stomach or forcing a passage through it. Here the food is digested, and assimilated for use. Here it must be digested,—that is to say, changed, liquefied and assimilated for use,—or, failing that, it must lie here and rot, generating poisonous principles which enter the blood and set up a diseased action throughout the system. This is indigestion or dyspepsia—the condition that exists when a person says, "My food does me no good."

Certainly not. How can it? The more he eats the more he suffers. The road is blocked. No use putting more grain in the hopper when the mill cannot grind. Here are some of Nature's protests: Loss of appetite; distress after eating; heartburn; palpitation; flashes of heat and cold; the rising of nausea acids and gases into the throat; furred tongue; dull and aching head; pains in the chest and back; weariness, fatigue and worry; loss of sleep; cold hands and feet; yellowish eyes and skin; weakness and trembling; constipation; failure of nervous force and courage, etc., etc. Out of this scorching blockade in the stomach may come any of a dozen local complaints,—a common form of pseudo-consumption among them. Yet you must eat or starve. Miscellaneous dilemmas.

Medicines won't do. Take a very little light nourishment at first, and immediately after it a dose of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, the only radically effective remedy for indigestion or dyspepsia,—prepared by the Shaker community of Mount Lebanon, N. Y. It will relieve at once and cure completely. Made of pure vegetable herbs and plants grown by the Shakers. Pleasant to the taste, painless and harmless. Trial bottles ten cents. For sale by nearly all druggists.

Tragic Death of Five Seamen.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Nov. 19.—News from Valparaiso, Chile, has reached here giving details of the death of Captain Stegar and four seamen of the American bark Edward Kidder, which came from New York to load nitrate. The captain and his men went down the coast a short distance to kill fish for the ship's use by explosives. People on the shore say the party spent several hours exploding dynamite near the rocks. Then a terrible explosion was heard, throwing a column of water fifty feet in the air, and when the smoke cleared away not a vestige of the boat or its occupants was to be seen.

Brazil Has Not Replied to England.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—From the best sources the Associated Press is informed that there is no foundation for the story sent from Rio de Janeiro to New York that Brazil has definitely refused to accept the arbitration of the question with Great Britain as to the ownership of the Island of Trinidad. Great Britain has received no reply from Brazil with reference to Trinidad or regarding any other matter pending between the governments of the two countries.

A TURKISH FIRE BRIGADE.

Its Extinguishing Apparatus Is Generally of but Little Avail.

A Turkish fire engine consists simply of a hand pump, supported on two long poles, and carried on the shoulders of four of the firemen. The latter make a great show of haste. They run at a brisk trot, and keep shouting and yelling all the way, pushing rudely aside all wayfarers who are unlucky enough to get in their line of march. But, in truth, Turks are seldom in a hurry. It may be that their speed on setting out is stimulated more by the expectation of being able to levy "backsheesh." If they are early on the scene, than by any ardent desire to quench fire. The clothing they wear is white, and their lower limbs and feet are bare, consequently their progress is noiseless but for the yells they emit as they push along.

There is a high tower in Stamboul and another on the other side of the Golden Horn at Galata, both of which display flags on the alarm of fire. The flags are supposed to indicate the locality of the fire, but as several localities are sometimes enveloped by fires about the same time, these indications cannot always be very explicit. If a fire break out during the night, the bellies (night watchmen) take up the cry, and bawl out with discordant intonation where the fire is supposed to be.

When that formidable company of firemen with the hand pump arrives on the scene of conflagration, the bacil first of all calls at the contiguous houses, as yet untouched by fire, and endeavors to extort backsheesh for the exertions his men are about to make to save property. And who betide those who admit these rascals. For the furniture is dragged out into the street, and if the household goods are not plundered there, they are probably destroyed beyond recovery. The writer has been told that householders generally prefer to bolt their iron doors and shut their iron shutters rather than give access to those plundering ruffians. Their extinguishing apparatus is generally of little avail.—J. Arthur Gray in Cassier's Magazine.

COMMUNICABILITY OF CANCER.

Its Possibility Not Proved—Conclusion Reached by a Medical Writer.

An interesting article on the alleged communicability of cancer of malignant growth appears in The Medical Record. It says, in part:

From the time that the malignancy of cancer was recognized, the question of communicability has borne the brunt of the most earnest investigation, and the hope of its solution has stimulated the most ingenious experimentation of earnest investigators. The results of all such studies have been entirely negative. There are no proofs of which we have any knowledge that cancer has ever been directly or indirectly propagated from one human being to another. It is true that there is published an occasional case in which there would appear on superficial examination to be a direct relation between cause and effect, but when such are critically examined the theory of propagation vanishes in face of a conscientiously critical analysis. At best they are coincidental circumstances following the general law of accidents. Experiments in the lower animals have thus far amounted to nothing, and practically we are as much in the dark regarding the true etiology of cancer and its real methods of dissemination as ever.

The investigations in these directions have been exceedingly interesting, although mostly instructive from a negative view.

A person predisposed to any disease is always at any victim when any definite exciting cause presents itself, while one without such tendencies escapes every time.

The writer concludes by saying that the death of a physician of this city from supposed inoculation of cancer "was undoubtedly one of predisposition to malignant disease that developed in due time, the supposed inoculation from a cancerous patient having no more causative relation to it than any other purely coincidental circumstance."—New York Tribune.

Dried Fruits.

It is said that the reason why dried fruits, and especially California dried fruits, fail to give the satisfaction that they should to the economical housewife is because they are not soaked in water long enough before cooking to restore the water extracted from them by the drying process. As it requires considerable time to dry fruits properly, it cannot be expected that four or five hours will be sufficient for cooking them as well as for the preliminary process of soaking. The rules for cooking such fruits sent out by the San Jose board of trade say that the fruits must be soaked in as much cold water as they will absorb from 24 to 36 hours. A pound of fruit is then swelled to three or four times that quantity, and is to be simmered in the water in which it was soaked until tender. It should be kept closely covered while cooking, and also after removing from the fire until cold. The sugar should be added a few minutes before the fruit is taken from the fire and allowed to boil up once. Though a certain quantity of sugar is given for each fruit, it should, we think, depend on the taste of the family where it is cooked, as some persons like tart and others very sweet fruit.—New York Post.

THE ARREST OF M. ARTON.

It Leads to a Vote of Confidence by the French Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—France is to have a revival of the Panama scandal. The government has placed under arrest in London M. Arton, the agent and go-between of Baron Reinach in the Panama bribes. M. Emile Arton has been a fugitive from justice for more than two years, and the various moderate ministries made half-hearted efforts to capture him.

The prisoner expressed the greatest willingness to return to France to meet the charges, and, incidentally, to destroy the reputations of all in public life who thus far have managed to escape exposure.

The news of the arrest of M. Arton makes a great sensation in Paris. The statute of limitations will protect nearly all whom Arton or others can now accuse, but a great clash of reputations is expected which will relegate many men to private life who are now prominent.

In the chamber of deputies yesterday the question of the arrest of Arton came up for discussion. The government declared his arrest was effected immediately he was discovered. The matter drifted into a discussion of the general policy of the government, and this resulted in the adoption of a vote of confidence, the vote standing 421 to 52.

Damaging Evidence Against Them.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 19.—Henry H. Leonard, aged 62 years, was murdered Sunday night, and Mrs. Leonard, his second wife, and her son Orville are under arrest charged with the crime. Leonard's body was found, terribly hacked with a knife, half covered up in a manure pile. A trail of blood was followed up to the kitchen door, where Mrs. Leonard and her son were found mopping up the blood which was spattered over the floor and furniture. Mrs. Leonard charges her divorced husband, Frank M. Williamson, with the killing. She says that Leonard was in bed when Williamson entered and killed him in spite of her pleadings. Williamson, who was also arrested, professes innocence, and says his divorced wife is "putting up a job" on him. The son will not talk. Detectives believe Leonard was murdered for his life insurance.

Barnes' Trial Postponed.

TRENTON, Nov. 19.—The trial of John Barnes, accused of stealing $5,000 from ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan, of this city, went over for the term yesterday. Barnes has brought a suit for $100,000 damages against Magowan for alienating the affections of his wife. A divorce has also been asked for by Barnes and in it Magowan is named as co-respondent. Magowan was the president and general manager of the Eastern Rubber company and Barnes was a superintendent. It is alleged that Magowan had Barnes arrested and indicted for stealing the $5,000 on account of Barnes naming Magowan in the divorce proceedings. The trial of Barnes went over pending the result of the suit brought by Barnes against Magowan.

Fatal Floods in Russia.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Advice just received here from St. Petersburg give details of the severe storm which swept over that part of Russia on Nov. 13. Owing to the violence of the gale the River Neva rose over eight inches, and the islands in it were flooded. In addition the wooden buildings along the banks of the Neva, piers, etc., were washed away and the low lying quarters of the city were inundated. The peasants inhabiting many of the villages on the outskirts of St. Petersburg lost everything through the floods, their homes, cattle and belongings being swept away. The amount of damage done is said to be very great indeed and many lives were lost.

Maryland Day at Atlanta.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—At a meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association yesterday it was determined to make an effort to celebrate Maryland day at the Atlanta exposition. Governor Brown promised to go, and a part of the state guard will also attend. Committees were appointed to solicit subscriptions and make other arrangements, and it is probable that the movement will prove successful.

Healer Schlatter Heard From.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Francis Schlatter, who disappeared from Denver last week, has written that he will be in Chicago on Nov. 30. W. J. Beery, of No. 321 East Fifty-third street, is in receipt of a letter from him saying he will be here on that day, and to quote the writer, "not a day longer or a day shorter." Mr. Beery said he had no knowledge as to the present whereabouts of Schlatter.

Jealousy Causes Another Murder.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 19.—The reign of murder in lower Luzerne county continues. Sunday night John Boback shot and killed John Holodnak at Milneville. Two bullets struck Holodnak, one grazing his heart, death resulting an hour later. Boback tried to escape, but was captured by an officer, and is now in custody. Jealousy was the cause of the crime.

On the Trail of a Black Fiend.

C., Nov. 19.—Officers and a mob of citizens are on the trail of a negro fiend, Bob Scales, who on Sunday shot and fatally injured the 12-year-old daughter of Thomas Belton, white, near Madison Scales is 16 years old. He tried to persuade the girl to accompany him on a walk and when she refused he shot her. He will be lynched if caught.

THE KIDNEY COMPLEXION.

A NEW NAME FOR THE COMPLEXION CAUSED BY SICK KIDNEYS.

Pale, Sallow, Bloodless People, and What Makes Them Look So—How They Can be Made Ruddy and Cheerful.

When your blood is all white and thin, instead of being red and rich, you get the "kidney complexion."

You can see it for yourself. You lose color and animation. You get sallow and pale. Even your lips are not red as they should be.

This is the kidney complexion.

It is so-called, because it is the fault of your kidneys.

They have not properly filtered your blood. They have filtered out too much red matter and left in too much white matter.

They have filtered out the life and the nourishment.

This will never do. You must not let it go on. You must cure your kidneys and make them filter your blood. This you can do with Dr. Hobb's Spermag Kidney Pills.

As soon as your kidneys begin to filter your blood properly, your blood will get red and pure again. It will get rich and nourishing, color and life bringing.

It will make you feel like a new man or woman.

Dr. Hobb's Spermag Kidney Pills are a strengthening, healing tonic for the kidneys. They will cure your sick kidneys.

And when the kidneys are well, they will filter your blood, keep it pure, clean, cool and healthy.

For upon your blood depends nearly entirely your health or sickness.

When it is properly filtered, it will hardly be possible for you to fall sick.

When it is unfiltered, impure, unhealthy, you can hardly expect to keep well.

Dr. Hobb's Spermag Kidney Pills are made principally, not from the stalks, but from the roots of the asparagus plant. From a special extract made by a special process which extracts and concentrates all the virtues and healing properties of the plant.

Their action on the kidneys is almost immediate. They gently tone them up and heal all injuries or disorders. They stimulate them to healthy action, and make them do their work of filtering the blood.

Dr. Hobb's Spermag Kidney Pills will bring back color and life to Pale Kidney Complexions, revive flagging energy, strengthen the muscles, and cure all kidney and blood troubles and disorders.

They will relieve and cure Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Pains in the Joints, Limbs, Sides and Back, Anemia, Chlorosis, Gout, Sleeplessness, Depression of Spirits, Nervousness, Headache, Dizziness, Hysteria, etc.
