DUMAS FILS IS DYING.

The Noted Author and Dramatist Cannot Live the Week Out.

RELATIVES CALLED TO HIS BEDSIDE

The Brilliant French Writer a Victim of Cerebral Abscess—His Marvelous Success Early in Life and His Prolific Contributions to Dramatic Literature.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Alexandre Dumas, the distinguished author and playwright, is seriously ill. The physicians in attendance upon him at first thought he was suffering from a violent attack of neuralgia, but later they recognized graver symptoms. The Petit Parisien says that Dumas was seized on Saturday with cerebral congestion and that Dr. Pozzi diagnosed it as cerebral abscess. The patient, it is added, has been in a comatose condition since Sunday evening. His physicians do not think he can live longer than a week. His relatives have been summoned to his bedside.

Alexandre Dumas was born in 1824 in Paris, and at an early age he was placed in the Soutexaux institution, where he made marked progress almost from his entrance. When only 17 years of age he wrote a number of poems, which were published in a volume in 1847, entitled "Les Peches de Jeunesse." This work has almost been lost sight of, and possesses little literary merit, although there are some pleasing lines.

After having accompanied his father on a journey to Spain and Africa he wrote a fantastic book called "Aventures de Quatre Femmes et d'un Perroquet." In 1848 he wrote and published "La Dame aux Camellias." His fame was instantaneous. The almost youth of 24 years became at once one of the most famous literateurs in Europe. This novel, and the play taken from it, have been translated into every civilized language.

In 1852 Alexandre Dumas, fils, began to write for the stage. "La Dame aux Camellias" was his work, dramatized from the novel by that name. Its success was even more pronounced than that of the book. It is said that when the elder Dumas saw the performance he said, while tears of joy, not unmingled with wounded pride, ran down his cheeks: "It seems that my son at 24 was a better dramatist than I am now at 40."

Alexandre Dumas is, by ordinary French law of succession, Marquis de la Palmette. Some thirty odd years ago Alexandre Dumas married a noble native of Finland—Princess Natchikine, nee Knarings—by whom he has had two daughters—Colette, married about fourteen years ago to M. Maurice Lippmann, and Jeanne, who married the Comte de Hauterive in 1880. Jeanne resembles her father greatly in character and intelligence, while the eldest sister takes more after her famous grandfather, the author of "Monte Cristo."

The children were brought up in a strict way. Alexandre Dumas does not believe that young girls should enjoy much liberty. His two daughters were never allowed to go to the theater or to balls. Up to the day of her marriage Mlle. Colette had gone to one evening party, and but twice to the theater, on both of which occasions tragedies were played. But since she has become a mother Mme. Lippmann goes everywhere, reads everything, sees everything. She copies her father's manuscripts and frequently criticizes them. And the father often profits by the observations of his daughters.

Between the years 1855 and 1870 more than fifty curtain raisers and plays from the young Dumas' pen were produced. In the Paris theaters, and since that time his contributions to the drama and to literature have followed each other in rapid succession. His latest dramas being "Denise," presented in 1888, and "Fanelton," in 1887.

Corbett Determined Not to Fight.

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 26.—James J. Corbett, in an interview today, said: "I am disgusted with the entire business, and henceforth will confine my enterprises to the stage. The public may say that when I whipped Sullivan he was an old man, and that I never whipped a good man in my career, but I am fully determined in my purpose to quit. I bestowed the championship upon Maher because he is an Irishman, and because I prefer he should bear and defend that title, rather than place it in the custody of either an Australian or an Englishman. I consider Peter Maher the poor of any man in the ring, and have no hesitation in saying that he can whip Fitzsimmons. He is a great man, and he will one day demonstrate his right to bear the title of champion of the world."

Two Children Meet Death by Flame.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Mrs. William C. Collins, occupying a flat in West Tenth street, left her three children locked in the room while she went on a short errand yesterday. In her absence the children made a fire on the floor with some newspapers, their clothing became ignited, and Lillian, 5 years old, was burned to death, while Willie, 10 months old, was so badly injured that he died last night. The 17rd child, 4 years old, was only slightly burned. The fire did but little damage to the building.

Hannigan Goes to the Asylum.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—David F. Hannigan, who was acquitted last Thursday night of the murder of Solomon H. Mann, on the ground of insanity, was brought before Justice Ingraham yesterday. The court denied the motion of counsel for the defense to discharge Hannigan, and committed him to the state asylum for the insane at Poughkeepsie. He will be examined in the regular way by the asylum physicians and if pronounced sane, his discharge will follow.

Palmer Defeats Plimmer.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Before the National Sporting club last night "Pedlar" Palmer defeated "Billy" Plimmer in the contest for the 112-pound championship of the world, the battle lasting fourteen rounds. The club was so crowded with members and visitors that some of those in attendance almost fought for seats. Plimmer was a hot favorite in the betting.

A TERRIBLE RECORD.

An Appalling Increase of Weekly Mortality.

Death by Heart Failure and Heart Disease.

In the Rush of Life Something Should be Taken.

To Keep Nerves Strong, Heart Action Vigorous.

Dr. Greene's Nervura the Best Remedy in the World.

The death of So and So from heart failure is becoming a common announcement. Such occurrences are of appalling frequency. Hardly a day passes that some successful merchant, or noted business man, some distinguished professional, or some leading society lady does not succumb to this distinctive ailment, and the community is filled with gloom and dismay at the suddenness of their deaths. We hear of the death of prominent people, but how many thousands of people in the ordinary walks of life die daily of the dreaded nerve weakness of the heart?

That great organ is the motive power. It moves the whole system. Once it fails and all is over. And how quickly it ceases; how unexpected the end! It comes like the thief in the night; its approach is not heard. Who turns next? Who can tell? Not the wisest of us all. How important, then, that we should try to stay its progress; that we should keep the heart and nerves which control its action steady and vigorous.

How can it be done? Only by strengthening and vitalizing the heart and the nerves which control its every beat, the mighty power which gives it tone and vital health. Many thoughtful minds have labored to discover some energizing element—some product of nature to prevent the waste and keep this organ in its naturally healthy condition. In this search the intelligent and patient labors of one scientific physician have been crowned, after years of effort, with eminent success. His grand discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, is pre-eminently the best heart remedy, the medicine which always restores a strong, vigorous and healthy heart action. If you have a weak heart, or fear that its action is so feeble as it should be, lose no time in using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. The symptoms are plain—headache, dizziness, strange, faint feelings, sinking at the pit of stomach, fluttering in the chest, nervousness, restlessness.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Nov. 26.—All the restaurant proprietors kept their places of business open on Sunday in defiance of the mayor's orders for them to close on the Sabbath. J. M. Nichols, of the Opera House restaurant, kept his eating house open all day again, along with the rest, though he had been fined for keeping open the previous Sabbath. The proprietors claim there is no law by which they can be compelled to close their restaurants on Sunday.

Buffalo Merchants Want Niagara Power.

BUFFALO, Nov. 26.—Unless the aldermen of this city give a franchise at once to the Niagara Falls Power company to bring the electric power into Buffalo a mass meeting will be called of the various organized bodies of business men, who are impatient at the delay in making this contract, which has been caused by the common council's desire to impose a tax on the power company and the refusal of the latter to pay it.

The proceedings against him will now be withdrawn.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 26.—The police raided the houses of the Socialist members of the reichstag and other leaders of the Socialist party yesterday. A thorough search was made of their domiciles, and all their letters and papers were taken to the office of the chief of police. It is reported that the action of the authorities is based upon some infringement of the Prussian law covering the right of association.

BARK ABANDONED AT SEA.

Rough Experience of the Sailors of the Bruce Hawkins.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Fourteen passengers who arrived on the Ward line steamer Vigilance, from Havana, yesterday were found to be unprovided with acclimation certificates from the medical inspector at Havana, and were transferred to Hoffman Island to await the expiration of five days from the time of leaving Havana. They will be permitted to land in New York this afternoon. Among the number transferred were Captain James Gurney, Jr., and seven of the crew of the bark Bruce Hawkins, which they had abandoned in a dismantled, waterlogged condition Nov. 14, ninety-five miles south of Cape Hatteras.

The Bruce Hawkins left Savannah for Boston Nov. 8. She experienced strong winds and tumultuous seas almost from the time of getting under way, but all these winds were as zephyrs compared to the hurricane which struck the bark on the 18th. It came out of the northeast and in three hours had well nigh dismantled the bark and filled her with water. All hands took refuge on the house, while huge waves continually broke over the vessel. One big wave swept Mate Fraser off his feet and overboard. Lines were thrown toward him, but he quickly drifted beyond the reach of them, hampered by his heavy clothes, and soon sank. All the stores were ruined, and the cabin was knee deep in water. On the next day the Munson line steamer Ardnamhan, from Philadelphia, took off the crew, landing them in Havana.

The Bruce Hawkins was left to her fate, and two days later, 250 miles east southeast of Hatteras, she was sighted and taken in tow by the British steamer Henriette H., and towed into Norfolk.

Probable Wife Murder and Suicide.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—At Throop, a few miles north of here, Seera Robbins shot and fatally wounded his wife, and then shot himself. He died within a short time. The woman was brought to the Lackawanna hospital, in this city, and is dying there. The shooting was the result of a quarrel, and occurred in the presence of Robert Brown Zerling, who, it is said, had advised Mrs. Robbins to leave her husband. Robbins first shot at Zerling and missed his aim. He then sent a bullet into his wife's head, and she fell unconscious. Robbins threw himself upon her and caressed and kissed her. Then he arose and sent a bullet into his brain. He was 55 years old, a carpenter by trade, and well respected in the village.

Circus Consolidation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A few days ago it was stated, and denied, that the Sells brothers had consolidated with the Barnum & Bailey show. The real deal was the consolidation of the Sells Brothers and Forepaugh shows. This gives Mr. Bailey an interest enabling him to control three of the greatest shows in the world. This deal has been impending for a long time past, and it has been a matter of great concern to circus people throughout the country. The terms of the deal have not been made public.

Remember these Directions for using Cottolene

For shortening never use more than two-thirds as much Cottolene as you would of lard. When frying with Cottolene always put it in a cold pan, heating it with the pan. Cottolene produces the best results when very hot, but as it reaches the cooking point much sooner than lard, care should be taken not to let it burn—when hot enough, it will delicately brown a bit of bread in half a minute. Follow these directions in using Cottolene and lard will never again be permitted in your kitchen or in your food. Genuine Cottolene is sold everywhere in tins with trade-marks—"Cottolene" and steer's head in cotton-plant wreath—on every tin.
