ON TRIAL FOR HER LIFE!

The Case Against Mrs. Howell, an Alleged Poisoner.

EVIDENCE ONLY CIRCUMSTANTIAL.

The Case One of the Strangest in the Criminal Annals of Pennsylvania—The Prosecution Declares the Prisoner Was Jealous of Her Victim.

WELLSBORO, Pa., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Charlotte Howell was put on trial in the county court here yesterday, charged with the murder of Miss Libbie Knapp, at Tloga, last spring. It took until 3 o'clock in the afternoon to select a jury, and then District Attorney O'Connell opened the case, outlining the evidence to be presented for the prosecution, which is purely circumstantial.

The case is one of the strangest in the criminal annals of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Howell is a member of a well known New York family, and her two brothers, Dutton by name, are among the wealthiest merchants of the metropolis. She has been estranged from them. It is said, since her marriage with Chauncey Howell, a teacher. The Howells and Knapps were neighbors in Tloga, and a warm intimacy existed between Mrs. Howell and Libbie, who was 19 years old. Libbie had a love affair which ended in a parting, and thereafter she began to receive unpleasant letters, which would be found tied to the door knob. These bore the signature of a Tloga young man, and most of them, it is alleged, were found early in the morning by Mrs. Howell.

Last May Libbie was suddenly taken ill, and Mrs. Howell took her to her own home to attend her. On May 17 she died, and subsequently evidences of poisoning were found. Detectives were put on the case, and Mrs. Howell was arrested. The Commonwealth proposes to show that Mrs. Howell wrote all the letters, that she was jealous of the girl, and that she administered rat poison. The letters were all printed in Roman letters with a lead pencil, and were threatening in character.

Kansas Congressmen Stick to Waller.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Kansas congressional delegation, as soon as possible after the Fifty-fourth congress begins, will introduce resolutions in both houses looking to an investigation of the circumstances connected with the arrest and imprisonment of ex-Congressman Waller. The members of the delegation take the position that the United States is entitled to the record of the trial as a matter of right, and therefore should not ask it as an act of comity. The probabilities are that they will attempt to secure the passage of a resolution instructing the government to stand by its demand for the document.

Chile's New Ministry.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Chilean president, who has been for several months without a cabinet, has, according to a dispatch just received at the Chilean legation, organized a complete ministry, as follows: Prime minister, Oswaldo Renjifo; minister of foreign affairs, Adolfo Guerrero; justice and public instruction, Gaspar Taro; finance, Henriquez Perez de Arce; war and navy, Louis Barros Borjono; industry and public works, Elias Fernandez Albana. The new minister of foreign affairs is the present Chilean minister to the Argentine Republic.

Educational Qualification for Immigrants.
BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Senator Lodge and Congressman McCall will introduce in congress a bill prepared by the Immigration Restriction League to further restrict immigration. This bill adds to the classes at present excluded from the United States the following: All persons between the ages of 14 and 90 who cannot both read and write the English language, or some other language. This provision, if it becomes a law, it is asserted, will keep out 20 per cent. of the most undesirable immigrants who now come here.

A Negro Girl's Suspicious Death.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 27.—In a field three miles from Sumter, S. C., the body of a 13-year-old negro girl, partially eaten by buzzards, was found. Her father went crazy some months ago, and she was given into the care of a well-to-do negro farmer. The farmer has been arrested, and the coroner is investigating.

The "Nigger" Boiler Exploded.
CINCINNATI, Nov. 27.—While the towboat W. W. O'Neil was getting up steam to go to Pittsburg the "nigger" boiler exploded. Engineer Andrew McRobinson had his leg broken; Mate T. W. McDermott and Steward William Hizer were badly scalded. All live in Pittsburg.

The Bardsley Pardon Appeal Postponed.
HARRISBURG, Nov. 27.—The case of John Bardsley, the imprisoned former city treasurer of Philadelphia, which was on the calendar for argument at yesterday's meeting of the board of pardons, has been postponed until the December sessions. No action was taken in the case of Hugh F. Dempsey, the Pittsburg labor leader.

Two Men Crushed to Death.
HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 27.—While at work in a deep coal stripping hole at Minesville colliery John Martin and John Rusko, two miners, were buried by a landslide. They were driving alongside of a ravine when the earth dropped away, carrying them to the bottom of the ravine and covering them beneath thousands of tons of debris. The crash was felt for three miles around, and created great excitement. It took three hours hard work to find the bodies of the workmen.

AN AXLE BROKE.

Accident on the P. & R. Railroad at Auburn Last Night.

An extensive wreck occurred last night on the P. & R. railroad, between Auburn and Landisville. An axle of a coal car in a south bound train broke and about fifty cars were thrown from the rails, blocking the road for a considerable distance. It was one of the most extensive wrecks that have occurred on the line for years, but fortunately no person was injured. Traffic was delayed several hours, but passengers of other trains reached their destination by a transfer system.

Free hot lunch every morning. Meals served at all hours.

Last Night's Play.

Miss Ethel Tucker scored another success last night at Ferguson's theatre. Although the audience was not as large as that on the opening, yet what it lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. "The French Woman" was upon the boards last night, and to say that Miss Tucker's work was superb is not overstepping the bounds. It is a strong modern drama, and gave the star an opportunity to display her ability to good advantage, which she grasped with much force and passion. Her support was excellent. Mr. Mellon again won much praise, as did the specialties introduced by the members of the company. There are very few high-priced shows that give as good a performance as does the Ethel Tucker company. To-night they will present for the first time here the military drama, "The Russian Slave."

LURKING ON THE HIGHWAY.

Occurrences Which Arouse the Ire of Maple Hill People.

A YOUNG WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Halted and Chased on the Road by a Masked Man Who Disappeared in the Bushes When Another Woman Appeared. Search for a Husband.

The residents of Maple Hill are considering the advisability of organizing a vigilance committee for the purpose of breaking up the practices of cranks and others who are greatly annoying people who are obliged to travel between that place and this town. For the benefit of those not acquainted with the territory it may be stated that the highway is extremely lonely. It is narrow, hilly, has almost impenetrable turns, and the sides are covered by a heavy growth of laurel bushes. It affords a splendid place for people inclined to evil deeds and being very distant from places of abode the cries of a helpless victim are fruitless unless some other traveler happens along.

A young woman of Maple Hill tells a story of an experience she had last Saturday. She abhors notoriety, and for that reason her name is withheld. She came to this town on the day stated and made purchases, starting on the return home at about ten o'clock in the morning. When walking through one of the most lonesome parts of the highway she was startled by a masked man suddenly leaping from the bushes at the side of the road. He was several yards ahead of the young woman and stood as if waiting for her to walk up to him. He had turned his back to his intended victim, evidently trying to conceal the fact that his face was masked, but a glimpse of it had been caught when the stranger jumped to the road over a ditch. The young woman was at first almost paralyzed by fright, but she quickly recovered possession of herself and ran back towards this town. The unknown man followed at a brisk walk for several yards, but as another woman walking from Shenandoah appeared around a turn in the road, the man took to his heels in the bushes.

The young woman who had escaped and the new arrival returned to Columbia Park, where they boarded an electric car and went home by way of Yatesville. It is said this occurrence took place in the vicinity where a man attempted to attack a young lady school teacher a few years ago. The people are very much exercised over the matter and if the offender is caught he will be severely dealt with.

The people of Maple Hill are also much annoyed by the actions of a strange woman who frequents the highway. She claims that her husband deserted her and is working at Maple Hill. Night and day she patrols the highway and when anybody approaches, male or female, she rushes up to them and scrutinizes their countenances. Her actions afford amusement to the men who come in contact with her, but several women have been brought to the verge of illness by the shocks due to the strange conduct. The woman withholds her identity and seems determined to locate the alleged truant husband by her personal efforts.

Held Him at Bay.

A very tall, gaunt German entered the saloon of William Cyszowski, on East Centre street, yesterday afternoon and attempted to procure a drink without payment. Failing in this, he abused the proprietor in a variety of tongues. He boasted that he could speak seven different languages. After a struggle the man was ejected and he picked up two large stones from the street to retaliate. Cyszowski jumped behind a telegraph pole to avoid danger and the German was about to hurl the stones through the windows of the saloon when Constable Dando attacked him from the rear and made him a prisoner. The offender belongs to the sons of rest and is enjoying quarters in the lockup-baiting his station.

Defied the Marksmen.

A turkey escaped from a farmer's wagon on South Main street this morning and a large crowd was attracted by the efforts made to recapture the fowl. Several men from a neighboring saloon tried to bring it down with an air gun. Six shots were fired, but they did not rattle a feather and the turkey seemed to sneer at them. A bystander finally made the Thanksgiving emblem a captive.
