THE BOROUGH'S FINANCES.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Buance committee of the Borough Council in another column. The proposed issue of store to view the many Christmas prese bombs is to take up the bonds maturing January 1st, 1806, and March 1st, 1896, declargreat credit upon the proprietor as a These maturing January 1st, amount to window dresser. Few men in that line could display the goods in a more attractive man-$18,000 being the unredcemed portion of a nerloan of $25,000, issued in 1884 to reducing prior loan of 6 per cent, bonds, while the ones maturing March 1st, amounting to $7,000, were issued to provide for the expense incarred during the epidemic of small-pox which raged so virulently during the winter of 1883-84, and cout the borough a large sum to get under control.

Outside of the debt incurred in creeting the water works, $145,000, this is all the debt of the borough, and as the water works are paying running expenses, and its extinguishment is provided for by the tax of 5 mills annually to be levied for that purpose, the amount is small; and the fact that bankers in all the large cities from Boston to Chicago are daily inquiring about it, the prospects are it will command a premium. As the bonds are not redeemable until after fifteen years. and may run thirty, they are a very desirable investment, when it is considered that the assessed valuation of the horough is very nearly $2,250,000 while the real value of property is nearer $8,000,000.

In view of these facts it looks as if the tonds would command a good premium, which speaks well for the borough.

The names of the dead are: Andrew Bales, white, aged 20; Neal Dabney, white, 25; John Webb, 21, and James Price.

The explosion occurred on the works of the LaFellette railroad, near LaFellette. where a new road is being projected from LaFellette to Jellico. A large force of men were at work blasting. Two kees of powder had been placed in a sixteen foot hole, and four sticks of dynamite were also added to the deadly charge.

A fuse was attached to the powder, and the men ran from the place to a safe dis-tance to await the result. They waited fourteen minutes, and the charge failed to The men were then ordered by the foreman to break into the hole to re adjust the fuse. They obeyed the order all being apparently satisfied that the fire had become extinct. Just as they re entered the bole, however, the terrifle explosion occurred, and the earth and stone for many yards around were dislodged and thrown into a conglomerate mass with the remains of the unfortunate victims.
