Evening Herald

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1895.

We have heard nothing about the National Delegate-Congressman-Treasurer lately.

HAS the millenium started at Chicago? It is gravely stated that 1700 saloon licenses are not to be renewed there next year.

WOULDN'T it be a trifle strange if the man who ran away from the last war and sent a substitute, should lead us gayly into the next?

THE HERALD looks healthy, feels healthy and is healthy. Our friends appreciate the fact that it is the only way to reach the buyers—through our columns.

IF the Venezuela controversy is to be settled by arbitration, the United States has one thing in her favor. The arbitrators will not be selected from Pottsville.

HAVING secured the elephant, it will now be in order for St. Louis to offer inducements for the donkey and the tiger. No circus is complete without a menagerie.

THIS county will be entitled to seven delegates in the next Republican state convention—two in the First district, one each in the Second and Third, and three in the Fourth.

LAWYER WHITEHOUSE proposes to do his investigating with the aid of Steward Hartman. Probably Hartman wants to get back at some people who did some investigating about a year ago.

THE esteemed London Star wishes to assure the people of the United States "that Englishmen, regardless of party, will abide firmly by Lord Salisbury's claims, and will not submit to bounce." We think Johnny Bull, upon second thought, will submit to arbitration.

We are patiently awaiting a reply from our contemporary, the Evening Chronicle, as to the discrimination against our towns in favor of Pottsville in the appointment of arbitrators. Perhaps the editor of our contemporary has lost himself among the hundreds of rewards granted against defendants.

STRIKES are rarely successful, and that of the street car men in Philadelphia will be no exception. The lot of the street car man is indeed an unhappy one and his provocation to strike great, but with five men ready to take the place of every one who quits, it is a question if it is not wiser "to bear the ills we have than fly to others we know naught of."

FIFTEEN years ago the Schuylkill county alms-house had nearly as many inmates as now, and had about one-half as many employes to attend to its affairs. It is time the pruning-knife was used in that establishment to lop off a lot of sinners. At the time mentioned many of the duties were performed by inmates; why can it not be done now?

NO DANGER OF WAR.

The unanimity with which public men and the press of all shades of opinion approve the position taken by the President, in the Venezuela matter, shows that the bulldozing of a weak nation by John Bull is resented by all fair-minded people, even to the extent of going to war, if necessary, to enforce the doctrine laid down by President Monroe seventy years ago, that European nations must keep hands off the American continent.

There is not, however, much danger of war, for, although John Bull is a bulldozer where small, defenseless nations are in the way, he is not so aggressive with a larger one which is nearly his equal in warlike equipment and far superior in resources. After a lot of diplomatic dallying, it is quite likely he will relinquish his present desire to grab a slice of Venezuelan territory.

The British newspapers sneer at our lack of preparation for war, and attribute the President's action to political impulse. While it is possible he is actuated by politics, we incline to believe our British cousins are mistaken, and that the President's utterances are purely patriotic, and that he is prompted solely by the honorable feelings which impel an honest man to defend the weak from imposition by a bully.

The present discussion of our national defenses, and the sneering, taunting tone of the English press in reference to our military and naval establishments, may be productive of some good in stirring up Congress to do something in the matter of protection for our seaboard, and the quicker upbuilding of our navy, as well as establishing a precedent in the manner of dealing with European nations who endeavor to encroach upon the smaller

American countries. If it does have this result the present outbreak of jingoism will serve a good purpose, as in the event of war in our present condition we would, for some time at least, be at a great disadvantage, until we could hurriedly get ourselves together. In the present age, the nation best prepared for war is likely to have the advantage and come out best.

OVERAWED THE REFEREE.

Unsatisfactory Result of "Scaldy Bill" and Boner Fight.
About 600 sports from various parts of Schuylkill, Luzerne and Carbon counties assembled at Lakeside last night and witnessed the fight between "Scaldy Bill" Quinn, of Mahanoy City, and John Boner, of Summit Hill, which resulted very unsatisfactorily to the Mahanoy City man and his friends. The men fought like demons until the 37th round, when the Summit Hill and Lansford people rushed into the ring and so overawed the referee, "Red Dick" Coogan, that he declared the fight a draw, although "Scaldy Bill" clearly had the best of the fight at all stages. Boner's people were there in great force and were determined that their man should not be declared the loser. Some say the crowd was the toughest ever seen at a prize ring and it was prepared for anything other than a losing game. "Scaldy Bill" was apparently unmarked by the fight, while it was necessary to carry Boner to bed, and it is believed he is still there, as he was badly punished, although he is given credit for having made a very game battle and frequently forced it. Quinn was backed heavily by Hazleton sports, who raved over the decision, but were powerless to enforce what they deemed was due them before the Summit Hill and Lansford mob.

A Growing Industry.

For the past four weeks several young ladies have been busy with needle and sewing machines turning out an immense quantity of secret society badges, caps and regalia at Morgan's Regalia Bazaar. Large orders have been received from the following states during the past two weeks: Thurber and Covadina, Texas; Whiting, Ind.; Kellyville and Chicago, Ill.; Elmira, Brooklyn and Syracuse, N. Y.; Kearney, Mo.; South Ann- and Perth Amboy, N. J.; Ansonia, Conn.; Troy Centre, St. Clair, Mahanoy City, Girardville, Johnstown, and also three orders from town. A little over three hundred badges and four hundred and fifty caps have been supplied in the above orders. And yet there are people in town who think they cannot get as cheap goods at home as in some other town. Prices must be right or else orders would not be received from such far points as above in preference to the large firms in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Have the leaks in your gas and water mains repaired by P. W. Bell, the plumber.

Low prices is the special inducement at Brumm's jewelry store.

A CHILD TERRIBLY BURNED.

Its Clothes Ignited by a Spark From a Locomotive.
Lizzie, four-year-old daughter of T. J. Davis, of St. Clair, lies in a critical condition at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, on South Plum alley. She is suffering from terrible burns received through her clothing catching fire from a spark from a locomotive.

The horse which the Browns occupy is on a high embankment and a very short distance intervenes between it and the Lehigh Valley railroad. Children residing in the neighborhood use the space as a play ground. The victim was playing near the brink of the embankment when an engine drawing a long train of loaded coal cars passed. There is a sharp curve at this point of the railroad and to get the heavy load around it the engine was exhausting heavily, immense clouds of smoke dotted with sparks of fire being thrown from the stack. One of these sparks fell upon the child's dress, but she paid no attention to it until the ignited material was fanned into a blaze, which was caused by the child running to and fro in her play. Upon discovering the fire Lizzie ran to the house of her grandparents and through the long alley to the rear of the dwelling. Meanwhile the flames had gained rapid headway. Mrs. Brown and her daughter were attracted by the child's cries and seized her as she ran into the yard. They at once pulled off what was left of the clothing. Mrs. Brown having her hands seriously burned in the operation. The dress and underclothing on the child's back was burned almost entirely and the clothing covering the front of the lower limbs had also been burned.

Dr. J. S. Callen was called and he pronounced the case a serious one. At first he feared the injuries would prove fatal, but since he has concluded that there are good chances for recovery. The victim is terribly burned about the lower limbs, the back and left side and was in terrible agony for several hours.

Forty Dollars Gone.

Manager Scheirer, of Goodman & Co., the West Centre street commission dealers, has been victimized to the extent of forty dollars. A boy called at the place to have a ten-dollar bill changed. As silver was wanted bills to the amount stated were laid out on one side on the top of the desk by the clerk while the other money was being counted out, and immediately after the money was changed the clerk's attention was called by an impatient customer. He momentarily overlooked the money on the desk, but dropped the ten-dollar bill into the drawer, which he locked. It was not until after the boy and the customer had left the place that the forty dollars was found missing. The case is being worked and from circumstances brought to light it is believed that within the next 24 hours either the guilty party will return the money, or an arrest will be made.

DIGESTION AND WORK.

HOW SICK PEOPLE MAY SAVE THEIR ENERGY.

It is as hard work for some people to digest their dinner as it is for a normal man to walk ten miles. "After dinner rest a while." This is an old saying. It means that if after eating a heavy meal you try to do hard work you will exhaust all your energy. There will be none left for your stomach. Your stomach needs energy to work just as your leg or arm does. Sick people want energy. They seldom have enough for their stomach. Their digestion is out of order and they want to know the reason. It's simple enough as we have told it.

What they ought to do is to save their stomachs from hard work until it is capable of doing it, just as they rest their tired backs by lying down.

This they can do by using artificially digested food. Shaker Digestive Cordial contains such food; not only this, but it is capable of digesting other foods in the stomach.

Shaker Digestive Cordial affords nourishment and creates new energy as soon as it is swallowed. Ordinary food first has to be digested. Shaker Digestive Cordial while creating new energy does not expend any. It gives the stomach no work to do. It will make a healthy, thin, sickly person naturally thin. Getting thin is a sign of sickness. A person may be born thin, and naturally remain so. Such a one is not necessarily sick. All Druggists keep it and a 10 cent sample bottle may first be tried.
