REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

To the Republican electors of Pennsylvania: The Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State convention Thursday, April 23, 1896, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the opera house, city of Harrisburg, for the purpose of nominating two candidates for representative at-large to Congress and thirty-two candidates for Presidential electors, the selection of eight delegates at-large to the Republican National convention, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

By order of the State Committee.
J. H. QUAY, Chairman.
Attest: J. H. H. REED, Secretary.
W. H. ANDREWS, Secretaries.

It is too bad that "Fighting Bob," the gallant captain of the Indiana, has such a stiff fight with rheumatism. But he seems to be conquering it.

Some Spanish individual says that throwing eggs at Alhambra is bad business, and ought to be stopped. We agree with him—if the eggs are good.

The drug stores are not advertising anything for the relief of distressed, over-filled stomachs, but they have it all the same, and carry a small boy will need it badly after Wednesday.

While the morning and afternoon papers circulating in this town told their readers on Saturday the car strike in Philadelphia was declared off, the Herald was the only one giving the true state of affairs "once a model always a model."

It is announced that Governor-elect Griggs, of New Jersey, likes a good dinner. As his salary as Governor will be sufficient to enable him to have mince pie three times a day we will probably hear ere long that he has dyspepsia, which will be as interesting to know as the present news nugget.

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR, who is now more English than a Clapham cockney, being in want of a coal-of-farms hired a genealogist to trace his ancestry until he found one. The expert has traced him back to a Spanish grandee, and he is reported to be so tickled over it that he only walks Spanish now.

The appointment by Governor Hastings of George L. Rudolph, of Allegheny, as Deputy Factory Inspector, has caused considerable comment among the politicians throughout the state. Mr. Rudolph is a staunch Quay supporter, and was selected from among twenty others, some of the latter being backed by Chris. Magee. It looks as if the Governor is flirting with Senator Quay.

ON account of a pressing demand upon our advertising columns to-day, we are compelled to issue a supplement, thus giving the Herald readers the full quota of late local and foreign news. Every line of the many advertisements in these columns will prove interesting just now to our readers, and prospective holiday purchasers should scan them carefully, especially the page announcement of the progressive firm of O'Neill Bros., in the supplement. Our business men evidently appreciate the worth of this paper as a medium by which to reach the buyers, and it is never necessary for us to offer space at any price in order to secure their favors.

The gold boom in Colorado is rapidly assuming the dimensions of a general craze, involving not only the citizens of that state, but people of a speculative turn throughout the whole country. Already the transactions in stocks are sufficiently large to recall the days of the Leadville silver excitement, and new properties are being placed upon the market every day for the benefit of eager buyers. As usual, in such cases, it is impossible to gain definite and complete information as to the actual basis and justification of this sudden scramble for shares in supposed sources of wealth. The indications point very strongly to a big drop in mining stock if the present craze keeps up.

The Philadelphia daily papers, with probably one or two exceptions, are endeavoring to place the responsibility of the street car strike upon the shoulders of the conductors and motormen. This is nothing unusual for the papers referred to, as they invariably array themselves upon the side of capital and greedy corporate power, but it is unjust to say the strikers are the real instigators in the present instance. The mob violence that has been witnessed in Philadelphia, the strikers had nothing to do with. Boys and hoodlums carried on the work of destruction, as shown by the news reports of the difficulty. That the strikers had grievances will not be denied; that they presented those grievances to the officials of the company in a gentlemanly and proper manner is also admitted. But the management Welsh refused to either receive the men or their formulated grievances, and there was nothing left the latter but to quit work. The Union Traction Company is responsible for the inauguration and continuance of the strike.

CHRISTMAS ATTRACTIONS.

Additional List of Places Prepared for the Holiday Trade. In addition to the places already referred to by the Herald as making special displays and being prepared for the demands of the holiday trade in their respective lines, attention is called to the fine displays made by Whitelock, the shoe dealer, and Kohnacker, the confectioner. The show windows at these places are marvels of the decorator's art. Christmas shoppers will be interested in the grocery and cake lines at Messer & Beddall's, J. T. Graf's, Keiter's, Cherrington's, E. B. Foley's and Rubinsky & Friedman's, and find the fruit, nut and poultry offerings at James Goodman & Co.'s almost irresistible. Your wife, mother, sister, cousin or, possibly yourself, may like a Christmas bonnet, or hat, and in that event don't fail to look at Miss Lizzie Stank's display. If that shirt hasn't just what it ought to be for Christmas you can't hold 'em, or the Reliable Hood laundry responsible for it. The establishments are not responsible for your forgetfulness. The Grand Union Tea Company is a genuine rival of Santa Claus, and Billinger Bros. have their apparatus ready to give you pictures on Christmas Day with or without snow. Christ, Schmidt, John Dalton, The Columbia Brewing Company, M. C. Watson and John F. Cleary have made special efforts in the liquid refreshment line for the holiday season and are prepared for a rush of orders. Get your order in early and be with the people who get the first service. Last, but not least, bear in mind that there is a holiday attraction at P. J. Feeley's cafe in the person of H. Dougherty, a sweet voiced singer and comedian, late with Carrasco minstrels, Philadelphia. Hon. Joseph Wyatt, Barney McGuiness, Charles Radziewicz, J. K. P. Schellfy and Peter Brown will also give a substantial Christmas welcome to all callers at their hostelry. The Watson, Kendrick and Scheiffy Houses and Brown's Rialto Cafe will serve excellent free lunches on a very elaborate scale for all patrons. If in doubt as to what you want for Christmas, or where to go and get it, carefully review the advertising columns of the Herald and you will be relieved of the dilemma. The Herald advertisers are the enterprising and reliable business people of the town.

Woman-hood has its own special medicine in Dr. Pierce's Prescription. And every woman who is "run down" or overworked, every woman who suffers from any "female complaint" or weakness, needs just that remedy. With it, every disturbance, irregularity, and derangement can be permanently cured.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and the only medicine for women which—once used, is always in favor. In periodical pains, displacements, weak back, bearing-down sensations, and every kind of ailment, it is specific.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, liver-ills, indigestion, dyspepsia, piles and headaches.

A New Departure. On the first of January next, the magazine Romance, which has heretofore been devoted to fiction entirely, will undergo a complete change, and will be issued as a five-cent magazine, filled with illustrations of a popular kind. The magazine will be a considerable novelty, the idea being to emphasize the illustrated side of it rather than the text. There will be 48 pages containing not less than 60 illustrations, printed from the best of plates on the best of paper. There will be pictures of noted painters, of people of the day, of actors and actresses, of literary individuals at home. Scientific matters will be treated of, and amateur photography will be given a generous space. Altogether the journal has met with a cordial reception wherever spoken of, and readers will be sure to profit by purchasing the early numbers, which will form a perfect little picture book of genuine, contemporary interest.

The Season Ended. The season of the Shenandoah Foot Ball team was ended on Saturday by Manager Felroy reading his report to the players at his restaurant, which was a very favorable one, and speaks highly of both the management and the players. The team has a record of winning every game but one this season, which was lost in Shamokin by a substitute team in the early part of the season, and by the title of non-Collegiate champions of Central Pennsylvania. The finances of the team, after all expenses had been defrayed, were divided among the players. Manager Felroy is consulting with several teams for a game here on New Year's day.

Best gas fitting is done by P. W. Ball. The Finest Coal Mined. "The finest coal that comes to this or any other market," said Major Thomas Bohannon, formerly of Reading, "is shipped by the P. & R. C. & I. Co., from their collieries in the Schuylkill region. Schuylkill coal always was as good as Lehigh, but there was a time when it was difficult to make buyers believe that, owing to the superiority in the preparation of the latter. The Reading Company now has a man for general superintendent of its collieries who understands the business of mining and preparing coal and there is no coal mined and shipped from any region that can compare with the company's coal from the Schuylkill region. That man is Mr. Roland C. Luther."

RESCUED.

On Lake Erie's Shores.—The Captain's Wife Tells the Story.—It Will Interest Many People.

(From the Buffalo Evening News.)

If you were to call at 27 Front Avenue you would find a pleasant elderly lady, Mrs. Captain Hensley by name. Her kindly smile and joyous manner are to no small extent due to the escape she has had. Her own words can better describe her rescue and one can easily understand her present happy condition when they realize what she has gone through. She says: "About five months ago I had an attack of sickness which lasted for a week and since that time I have been subject at intervals to similar attacks, some of which were longer in duration. It is hard for me to describe how I suffered. The pain would commence in my head, after which it would seem to pass down my body and settle in my back, my sides ached, my back ached, and I had a feeling of great distress in the bowels. The increased pain which seemed to come from lying down, would be almost unbearable, my face and stomach would blot up and I could hardly stand on my feet, dizziness made it almost impossible; this feeling was always with me even after the violence of the attack passed over. The last attack I had was the worst, and was so bad I would not have been able to tell this story but for Doan's Kidney Pills. As soon as I commenced their use I found immediate relief. The pain in my back and sides left me and the dizziness went with it; the bloating in my face and body disappeared and all distress in my bowels was gone. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills; in a short time they did a great deal more for me than all the plasters and medicines which I had resorted to in seeking relief and cure. I hope always to be able to procure them."
