DUNRAVEN'S DEPARTURE.

Signal Failure of the "Noble Lord's" Charges Against Defender's Owners.
New York, Dec. 29.—Lord Dunraven and Arthur Glendon, his friend, went aboard the Umbria, of the Cunard line, Saturday afternoon, and an hour later they were speeding down the bay, homeward bound. In effecting the object of their visit they were thoroughly disappointed. The noble earl had failed most signally to substantiate his charge of fraud against the members of the syndicate which built the Defender. It was made clear that fourteen tons of extra ballast would have made a crab of the cup winner. It was also made clear that the triple transfer of such an amount of ballast was practically an impossibility.

It may be safely asserted that Lord Dunraven was beaten at every point. There was not a single statement favoring his case which was not thoroughly explained. Although given the fullest and fairest opportunity he failed to substantiate any one of his statements.

Consequently, having seen how the wind blew, and having fired the last shot in his locker, without any other effect than a counter blow, the noble earl packed up his belongings and sailed for England.

LOSERS, Dec. 30.—The Chronicle says: "Lord Dunraven's failure to incriminate Defender's owners was complete. He now in cold blood reflect that he has done more to breed bad blood between the two nations than President Cleveland and Secretary Olney combined."

Increased Mine Accidents.

The whole number of mine accidents in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania, from November 30, 1894, to December 1, 1895, was the astonishing total of 1,348, of which 391 were fatal and 1,152 non-fatal, leaving 189 widows and 515 orphans. Compared with the twelve months ending November 30, 1893, this record shows an increase of accidents of 110, but the fatalities number 48 less, the widows 26 less and the orphans 151 less.

The deceased was sixty-four years of age, and leaves a widow and four children, all grown up: William A., Annie E., John J., and Lottie M. Beach. Mr. Beach was well and favorably known throughout the county, and for seventeen years held the position of outside foreman at Ellangowan colliery. Gottlieb Gosseley, an old and respected citizen of town, died at his home on North Jardin street Saturday evening, aged 65 years. The deceased was a prominent member of the United Evangelical church. Through his labors and liberal contributions the above church was established in this town, and he was a trustee from the time the church was established up to his death. He was also a member of the Board of Stewards and materially aided the congregation in the Dublin-Eberly difficulties. The church feels deeply his loss. Peter Wachtel, one of the keepers of the insane at the Schuylkill Haven almshouse, who lost his 7-year-old son by death about three weeks ago, is again bereaved by the death of William, his 17-months-old son, who died yesterday from pneumonia. The remains will be brought to this town from Schuylkill Haven to-morrow on the 1:10 p. m. Pennsylvania train, and interment will be made in the Annunciation cemetery.

MILLINGTON.
William Millington about three weeks ago received a paralytic stroke, from the effects of which he died at his home in St. Clair yesterday morning. He was unconscious for several days before his death. The deceased was a resident of this town for several years, and supplied the collieries with timber. At the time of his death he had retired from the timber business, and was living a retired life having acquired considerably wealth. The following children survive him: Joseph, of Tremont, and Benjamin, of Port Carbon, his wife having died about a year ago. The deceased was 70 years of age. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment in St. Clair.

FIFTY POINTS.
Happenings Throughout the Region Chronicled for Busy Perusal.

Rev. S. J. Morgan, rector of the Episcopal parish at Ashland, yesterday preached his farewell sermon. He has accepted a call in Maryland.

The engagement of Miss Mary Witman, of Ashland, to Samuel K. Smith, of Reading, has been announced. The wedding will take place next June.

Mrs. Henry Myers, of Ashland, who attempted to commit suicide the early part of November, died at her home Saturday. She will be buried on Tuesday.

Claims aggregating $12,000 were paid by the P. & O. C. & I. Co. and the Lehigh Valley Coal Company to property owners near Shamokin, by coal dirt that was washed on those properties from the companies' culm banks.

"Turlock Blood Bitters entirely cured me of a terrible breaking out all over my body. It is a wonderful medicine." Miss Julia Elbridge, Box 35, West Cornwall, Conn.

Seized With Delirium Tremens.

A wild-eyed man came to police headquarters at 8 o'clock last night and started the officers by exclaiming that he was "getting them." The man looked as if he meant all he said. He gave his name as Dennis Sheehan, formerly of Shenandoah, but recently employed at the Chamberlains colliery. Sheehan was taken into headquarters and soon stiffened. His eyes rolled and the perspiration fairly poured over his face which became very red and seemed ready to burst. The body was stiff as a board. The first sign of life was given a few minutes and the victim of delirium tremens was himself again. He sat up and talked rationally. Dr. S. L. Gilliam in the meantime had been summoned by Officer Huber. The doctor administered a hypodermic injection and this had the effect of giving the man a little relief. Permission was subsequently given to admit him to the Potsville hospital. The substance was brought to the door and just as Sheehan was being lifted into the vehicle he was seized with another terrible spasm.

Important Coal Deal.

A deal is about being consummated by which the Lehigh Valley Coal Company will secure possession of the Centuria and Logan collieries at Centuria, now operated by Lewis A. Riley & Co., who will sell out their interest in that corporation. It is known that the officials of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company have been examining these collieries, and there have been rumors for the past week of some such deal being contemplated.

"I injured my fingers very badly. The pain was intense. Dr. Tamm's Eucletic Oil brought relief in three minutes. It was all most magical. I never saw anything like it." Amelia Swords, Sandersonville, O.

Verdict Against Ashland Borough.
Arbitrators N. W. Buck, Charles Grayner and Hiram Meyer, sat at Potsville on Saturday to hear testimony in the case of Mrs. Sarah Bolich against the borough of Ashland, in which Mrs. Bolich sought to recover $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, Howard G. Bolich. On or about March 20th last Howard G. Bolich was riding down Centre street on horseback when his horse stumbled and fell over a pile of dirt left in the street where repairs were being made, by the borough without any signal or danger light. Bolich was thrown over the horse's head and sustained injuries from which he subsequently died. After hearing the evidence submitted and the arguments of the attorneys, the arbitrators awarded Mrs. Bolich damages in the sum of $13,500. Hon. C. N. Brunin and J. Harry James, Esq., represented Mrs. Bolich and Wm. A. Marr, Esq., represented the borough.
