COFFEE AND TEA

Man, supplied with reasoning and discerning powers, may improve his condition by the exercise of these faculties. This can be applied with very good effect in the purchase of Coffees and Teas. A good cup of Coffee depends not only on the making—but the brand of Coffee, the grade, the roasting and preparation are very important factors. We feel confident that we can meet all those requirements. A delicious cup of Coffee is a certainty if you use

Our Fancy Java, or our Fancy Blended Coffee.

In regard to Tea, we occupy a front rank, all our Teas being very carefully selected by competent judges, and a trial order will convince you that we can please the most fastidious customers. We offer nothing but good grades that are noted for quality, color and flavor, and they are sold at popular prices

ENGLAND CALMS DOWN!

But Extensive Naval Preparations Are Being Pushed Forward.

PRESIDENT KRUGER A DIPLOMAT.

The Boer President Has Gained the Admiration of all Englishmen—Germany's Emperor Writes That he Has no Antipathy to England.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—There is a feeling abroad in London that there are many details of the complication into which the foreign affairs of the empire has been placed which have not been published, and much speculation is being indulged in by the public. So far as official information goes the situation seems to be improved.

The mystery of the naval preparations occupies a large place in the public mind, and the conclusion arrived at by the attentive public after thus thinking it over is that the tremendous activity displayed, not only in the fitting out of the flying squadron, but in the rushing forward of work in the navy yards, arsenals and supply shops for war material do not appear wholly necessary on account of the condition of relations with Germany. It is also felt that it is difficult to see what point the flying squadron, which will form the most powerful fleet of war vessels ever put afloat, is destined.

The workmen at Chatham, Portsmouth and Plymouth worked late last night by electric light for the fitting out of the ships of the squadron. It is expected that those at the Portsmouth dockyard will continue the work of preparation on Sunday.

The situation in the Transvaal is undoubtedly greatly improved, and unless President Kruger has made extortionate demands, such as for the complete independence of his republic and freedom from the suzerainty of Great Britain, and has received the support of Germany in favor of these demands, such a fleet as is being prepared will not be needed at Delagoa bay. In fact, the whole future of South Africa now depends upon the nature of the demands made by President Kruger, whose response to the queen's address is, to say the least, not effusive. In fact, it virtually declares that the president will hold Dr. Jameson and the other members of his expedition who were taken with him as hostages for the disarmament of Johannesburg.

The indemnity demanded by the Transvaal government from the Chartered South Africa company is variously stated at from £200,000 to £2,000,000. The disturbances in the Transvaal have led to an exceedingly heavy stock exchange account, especially for Chartered South Africa and consolidated gold fields, and brokers are having difficulty in obtaining payment from weak holders. Several failures are expected to occur.

It is announced that the government has ordered the stores of small arm cartridges to be increased from 60,000,000 to 150,000,000.

All these preparations, of course, means an enormous outlay of treasure. The wages of workmen alone are £20,000 above the usual expenditures. It is reported that the government, in order to meet this and further naval measures, will present a bill immediately when parliament opens to devote the surplus revenue over the present budget to naval expenses.

One effect of the present crisis has been to impress Englishmen with a sense of the marvelous diplomatic scent of Paul Kruger, the Boer president. The admiration felt by Englishmen for the South African executive finds abundant expression, even in the face of the sharp reverse he has administered to their policy and their hearty admiration for Dr. Jameson. Sir Charles Dilke declared in a speech yesterday that President Kruger has few rivals among modern diplomats.

Some excitement has been caused by a telegram from Boer sources in Johannesburg which states that President Kruger will hold Dr. Jameson until the London convention is abrogated, which would mean the abandoning of the English suzerainty over the Transvaal. The colonial office, however, has heard nothing of such a stipulation, and the government is not disposed to believe the report.

The Times has a dispatch from Pretoria, which says: "The discussion at Johannesburg has been completed without mishap and the Boer police now patrol the town. The crisis is practically ended and orders have been issued for all Boer commanders to proceed to Pretoria. Thus ends this unique revolution during which not even a policeman has been knocked on the head and not a single act of violence has been committed. President Kruger and the executive have exhibited remarkable coolness throughout. The stability of the government has been unmistakably displayed.

There is a remarkable absence of excitement here, but feelings have been aroused which will not be allayed for years. The Boers' distrust of the Uitlanders has been increased tenfold and the sense of failure rankles with the Uitlanders. Yet both sides desire that the government should remain republican and free from outside control. The conference now in conference must therefore devise means for an adjustment which will secure peace and thereby attract foreign capital.

The correspondent of The Times at Capetown gives a long telegram from Mr. Hofmeyer, the leader of the Afrikaner party, to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, in which, referring to the fact that leaders in British financial and military circles and many in the queen's service either shared in or winked at the Uitlander conspiracy in the Transvaal, he asks whether it would not be advisable to institute a radical change in the government and in the personal rule of Cecil Rhodes. He says he trusts that a searching inquiry will be made into the conspiracy, and offers his own co-operation.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying, thanks him for his offer, and promises that there shall be a full inquiry and measures to prevent a repetition of the Transvaal raid. Mr. Chamberlain concludes: "My present chief object is to prevent a further embitterment of the relations between the British and Dutch, which might result from extreme measures against either Johannesburg or the prisoners."

The correspondent of The Times at Berlin telegraphs: "Whatever after effects the Transvaal incident may have on German policy, in government and even in higher circles, the disposition now is to regard the matter as closed. A few uncomplaining spirits still except that the Transvaal will insist upon a declaration of absolute independence. But it is doubtful whether the German government will sustain that hope. At the same time it would be premature to imagine that all cause for anxiety has disappeared."

The Daily Telegraph has a dispatch from Berlin which says: "On Wednesday a special messenger brought an autograph letter from the queen to the emperor, whose reply is by now in the queen's hands. It is believed that in brief, graceful terms, the emperor confirms the assurance already given by his responsible ministers, that he had no intention of casting a slur upon England's dignity."

The Standard, in an editorial, expresses dissatisfaction at the delay in delivering up Dr. Jameson and his companions, and says: "President Kruger has, for the moment, the advantage of position, but he will do wisely to act with moderation."

The Standard's Berlin correspondent confirms the correspondent of The Times in the opinion that Germany has no intention to call a conference, or to propose an abrogation of the convention of 1884.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

Senator Morgan Introduces a Resolution of Congratulation to President Kruger.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The debate in the senate on the free coinage substitute for the house bill was opened by Senator Jones, of Arkansas. Mr. Jones took a strong ground in favor of the free and independent coinage of silver, contending that was the only method by which the distress in the country could be alleviated and the treasury department relieved from its present dependence upon the speculative holders of gold. There was no reply to Mr. Jones' argument, but the debate will be resumed when the senate meets again on Monday. Mr. Morgan, the former chairman of the committee on foreign relations, offered a resolution, which was referred without debate, conveying the congratulations of congress to President Kruger and the people of the republic of Transvaal "upon their success in establishing free representative government, republican in form, and in their opposition to any foreign power that dares to them the full enjoyment of their rightful liberties."

The house gave its time yesterday to the discussion of the proposed amendments of the rules of the Fifty-first congress, which were provisionally adopted early in the session to govern this house. Two interesting discussions relieved the monotony of the technical debate. One was precipitated by Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, who made a fight against the proposition to drop the committee on banking and currency from the list of committees privileged to report bills to the house at any time. Mr. Walker failed to carry his point. Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, inspired the second discussion by an amendment to direct the speaker to recognize any member who addressed him when no other member was on the floor, and he spoke against the growing power given to the speaker. He withdrew his proposition, however, after a speech by Mr. Bell, of Colorado, who claimed that it would secure recognition for Populist members.

RUSH OF REMONSTRANCES.

Over Twenty Retail Liquor Dealers in Town Affected.

SOME OF THE CAUSES ASSIGNED!

In Nearly All the Cases the Basis of Complaint Hinges on Alleged Interests of the Columbia Brewing Company—Other Cases.

Nothing other than a conflagration or a big mine disaster could create a sensation in proportion to that which has been caused in town by the attack upon the Columbia Brewing Company through the filing of remonstrances in the License Court against applications for retail liquor licenses. The movement is the leading topic of discussion and much interest is manifested in the outcome.

The remonstrances cover eighteen cases in which the Columbia Brewing Company is mentioned as an interested party and should they be sustained, there will be an unusual number of vacant store rooms in town this spring.

The following is a list of remonstrances that has caused the stir:

Against Andrew Novickie, First ward, Shenandoah; license in applicant's name only and for the benefit of the Columbia Brewing Company.

Against William Snyder, First ward, Shenandoah; license held by him for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against August Ostrowski, First ward, Shenandoah; license held by him for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Mike Novitski, First ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Adolph Stroski, First ward, Shenandoah; license held by him for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Joseph Kinski, First ward, Shenandoah; license held by him for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Andrew Uffits, First ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Louis Lawson, First ward, Shenandoah; applicant under agreement and lease to house binds him to buy only Columbia Brewing Company's beer.

Against Edward J. Kaler, First ward, Shenandoah; applicant for wholesale license is a non-resident of state and license is to be held for benefit of Kaler Brewing Company.

Against Harry Bizsko, Second ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against George Karitcky, Third ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against John Brodick, Third ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against James J. Franey, Third ward, Shenandoah; license to be held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Columbia Brewing Company, Third ward, Shenandoah; brewing and wholesale; has sold to minors and others in quantities less than one quart and in being peculiarly interested in a large number of retail licenses.

Against Matthew Shewinski, Fifth ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Anthony Onusczak, Fifth ward, Shenandoah; selling wholesale and peddling from door to door and license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against John Dalton, Fifth ward, Shenandoah; license held for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against John Zurkas, Fifth ward, Shenandoah; license for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Against Ellen Welsh, Fifth ward, Shenandoah; license for benefit of Columbia Brewing Company.

Remonstrances have also been filed against John Stoles, of the First ward, and George Sockalosky, of the Fifth ward, for violations of the liquor laws.

A remonstrance has also been placed against the application of George W. Johnson, of West Mahanoy township, it being alleged that he sold liquor on Sunday and on election day.

The remonstrances filed by S. H. Kaerber, Esq., briefly referred to by special report from Pottsville in yesterday's Herald, cover applications from Lost Creek, Brownsville and Wm. Penn by Edward J. Burke, Michael McDonough, Daniel Toland, Celia Thompson, Matthew Dunlap, John Reese, George W. Johnson, William Wilkinson, Anthony Munley, William Rakzewski, George Thompson, Daniel L. Grow, Elizabeth Ryan, P. J. Ferguson, William Wolabus, Louis Bender, John W. Connelly, Edward F. Walsh. The basis of the remonstrances is that a clause in the lease of each of the applicants, who are tenants of the Girard Estate, forbids the sale of liquor on the lands.
